

Liniment That Soaks in Best for Animals

AN IRRITATING, burning liniment would have aggravated this case. Mustang Liniment brought prompt relief because its amazing healing powers are quickly absorbed by the skin.

To do good, a liniment must work into the blood. This is especially important in overcoming sprains and aches in animals.

Make this simple test with any number of different liniments and decide for yourself the one that is most effective:

Rub the liniment into your palms. Then wash thoroughly. A few hours later you will notice the odor of Mustang Liniment in the urinary secretions—proving that it has been absorbed into the blood. What other liniment passes this test? Now you know why Mustang Liniment is spoken of so highly everywhere.

Talent Long Unrecognized

Melba's voice made her famous in every part of the civilized world, but when she was struggling for a career in her early days, she met with some setbacks which would have undoubtedly discouraged many another person. She was called to the attention of Sir Arthur Sullivan in 1882 and he did not think enough of her voice to warrant him in putting her in his Savoy Opera company. She was also declined as a pupil by Sir Alberto Rambaldi, Conductor of the Opera.

Philippine Telephones

In Manila, capital of the Philippines, the use of the telephone is growing so rapidly that the company which operates the telephone system finds the automatic service with a capacity of 15,000 subscribers recently installed already overgrown. Therefore, plans are being made for enlargements of automatic service that will take four or five years to accomplish and which, when completed, will be adequate not only for Manila itself but also for its suburbs.

STATE GETS NEW GOOD ROADS RANK

ONLY NEW YORK AND PENNSYLVANIA AHEAD IN NEW CONCRETE HIGHWAYS.

Raleigh.

Only New York and Pennsylvania led North Carolina last year in contracts for the construction of concrete roads, according to figures made public by the Portland Cement Company, of Chicago. North Carolina's total was 256 miles while Pennsylvania and New York had 695 and 540 miles respectively.

The equivalent of 6,071.3 miles of eighteen foot concrete was laid by counties, states and Federal aid during the year. This mileage, added to the total already paved, makes available to the 17,000,000 motor vehicles now operating over our highways nearly 32,000 miles of permanent concrete highway.

In North Carolina up to December 1, 1924, the article based on the figures states, "The State had completed or placed under contract during the previous eleven months a total of 526 miles of concrete roads. During the same period a total of 268 miles of asphalt pavement was similarly completed or placed under contract. The actually completed concrete for the full year amounted to 2,601,648 yards or 248.7 miles of eighteen foot pavement."

Legion Launches Drive For Funds.

North Carolina members of the American Legion began a campaign to raise their quota of the five million dollar endowment fund for the relief of disabled veterans and orphans with the announcement of Governor A. W. McLean that he will head the temporary organization in the State.

State Commander Wade Phillips, of Lexington, and other officers of the legion visited Raleigh and obtained the Governor's acceptance. Organization plans for a concerted campaign in North Carolina are now being perfected by members of the legion who will do the bulk of the work. The campaign is to be carried on in every county by the Legionnaires with the assistance of a committee of representative men and women who will compose the Governor's advisory board.

Fire Loss Would Build 75 Schools.

More than one thousand residences costing more than $5,000 each to construct could be built with the amount of money destroyed by fire in North Carolina during 1924, according to a statement issued by Stacey W. Wade, Insurance Commissioner. The fire waste would have built 75 school buildings costing $75,000 each, or 53 fire proof $100,000 hospitals.

North Carolina's fire loss for the year was $5,320,293 as against a loss of more than $100,000,000 in the entire United States. Thus the State has a per capita fire loss that is lower than the per capita fire loss of the United States as a whole.

On the subject of deaths caused by fire in the United States last year Mr. Wade says:

"Localizing the deplorable deaths in fires in the United States would give us crepe on every home, apartment and hotel entrance in our thriving cities such as Goldsboro, Rocky Mount, Kinston or Gastonia. Again that sad fire represents the death of nearly our entire college population."

"The Triangle Shirt-Waist factory fire with its 142 girl victims, the Iregons Theatre fire with its 600 victims, the Collinwood School House fire with its 175 victims, the Cleveland, South Carolina, school-house fire with its 76 unidentified victims buried in a common grave, and the recent Christmas day fire in a one-story school house near Hobart, Oklahoma, with its 37 victims, certainly should make more than a passing impression on every thinking man and woman."

"In thinking about these facts, let two other facts 'sink in,' that at least three-fourths of these sacrifices of precious lives and property were due to fires, which could have been prevented by the exercise of ordinary care and caution, and that fire insurance does not restore the property any more than life insurance brings back the 15,000 fire victims."

"When, and only when a keen 'fire consciousness' will awaken in each citizen, will these needless sacrifices be prevented."

"With our fire prevention record commanding the admiration of the entire Nation, will this suffice. Your aid and co-operation are absolutely essential."

"Sincerely,
"STACEY W. WADE,
"Insurance Commissioner."

Irish Train Blown From a Viaduct

While crossing a viaduct over a deep and wide valley near Donegal, Ireland, a train was blown off the rails. Two men and two women were killed and nine persons injured, while the coaches were left hanging over the valley below. The spot is one of the wildest and most desolate in the country and the victims lay for hours exposed to the storm before help reached them. The photograph shows the scene of the unusual disaster with the coaches hanging over the viaduct after the fatal plunge.

Permanent roads are a good investment—not an expense

The High Cost of Postponing Permanent Highway Building

Poor motor roads stifle industry and agriculture; waste huge sums annually in high maintenance costs, and greatly increase gasoline, tire and repair bills.

There is not a state, not a county, not a community, that isn't paying a heavy price for having too few permanent roads.

There are still many sections of the country—even whole states—that are trying to operate twentieth century traffic over nineteenth century roads.

This is costing millions of dollars every year, and will keep on costing millions until we have well developed permanent highway systems everywhere.

Even what we often call the more progressive communities are far behind the demands of modern highway traffic with its 16,000,000 motor vehicles.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from Canada to Mexico, we need more Concrete roads—the roads for twentieth century traffic.

Your highway officials want to be of the greatest possible service to you. Get behind them with ways and means that will provide more Concrete roads and streets. Such an investment will pay you big dividends year after year.
