WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY FOR COLLEGE EDUCATION

The Extension Department of the University of North Carolina is offering a special course in the State for the purpose of giving a college education to those who are unable to attend college in the usual way. A university course is being given in the State for the purpose of giving a college education to those who are unable to attend college in the usual way.

The Bureau of Forestry and Game Commission, 72 Miller N. street in 15 departments are available. Within the past few years the Commission has practically every county in the State have taken advantage of the wonderful opportunities to take regular university courses by mail. Through such correspondence courses the Commission has been able to give a college education to many who are unable to attend college in the usual way.

Mr. P. P. Johnson is making plans to bring his family here from their home in Georgia. Mr. Johnson is employed by the Genett Lumber Co., which is operating on one of the best boundaries of soft wood timber in the County.

WANT ADS PAY HERE'S THE PROOF

For the last 10 years I have been spending $500.00 to 1000.00 per year for advertising. Am proud to say The Brevard News has brought us greater results for the amount spent with them than any other paper we have tried. They sold us one CARLOAD of Chevrolets in 2 WEEKS, with 2 small side ads in "Diversified Column."

PISGAH FOREST

Our pastor, Rev. Tipton, has been engaged in a meeting at Little River, the past week, but preached an interesting sermon here Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reese motored to Boyston Sunday morning. Misses Lillian and Ophelia Scott and Guy Newton of Blantyre, visited our church Sunday night.

We are having a very good Sunday school at the Baptist church, and invitation is extended to everyone of this community to come and help us. We have a very good Sunday School work, and we need co-operation. So come, and bring someone with you. Let's have a real "standard first."

A number of friends of Mrs. Annie Murcham, formerly Miss Murcham, visited her at her home in Asheville, Saturday night. Miss Ada and Tiny Hedrick motored to Boyston with Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hinkel Sunday.

DEARIE - SAPPINE

We are glad to report that a very good crop of the area of our forest has been burned over this year, and this, too, with one of the best crops of leaves and the best fall crop. This is to be accounted for in part by the efficient work of our forest wardens, and in part by the people are learning that people have learned that forest fires damage the forest, which are not only for lumber, but also for preserving the water supply and for the health of the people.

The spirit of several fishermen of this community have been considered in regard to new game laws. Game laws are that the fishermen are to be limited to a certain number of days, and that everyone will be required to have a license, even on his own land.

Mr. C. E. Ellenburg, a former teacher of the school here, was visiting friends in the community Sunday.

Miss Bertha Wood visited Miss Edna Hinkle, on Saturday.

The present deficit in State finances is as nothing compared to the loss suffered by landowners from the washing and erosion of bare, un-terraced hillsides.

A belt of trees by the farm buildings and orchard will protect them from winter cold and summer heat. Now, while winter winds are raging is a good time to plan the location for such a windbreak.

Do you like cross word puzzles? Then laying out the garden on paper and working the plan in practice will be found just as interesting.

An Edgecombe farmer learned through his County Agent that he could get the best cotton seed in North Carolina right in his own county.

People Should Know Tubercular Symptoms

Sanatorium, N. C., Feb. 4.—The Extension Department of the North Carolina Sanatorium is trying to make it possible for every person in North Carolina with tuberculosis to find it out and to find it out in time to get well. To do this it employs two whole-time traveling specialists to hold diagnostic clinics free of charge in any part of the State. Dr. S. E. Lee and Dr. D. R. Perry, the clinicians employed for this work, are experienced physicians in tuberculosis.

A special bulletin, "Tuberculosis, Its Symptoms, Cure and Prevention," that gives in detail the symptoms of tuberculosis and what one who has tuberculosis should do to get well is issued by the Extension Department. It is sent free of charge to any one requesting it.

Every morning from 8 to 11 diagnostic clinics, also free of charge, if the patient writes for an appointment, are held at the North Carolina Sanatorium. An appointment for examination can be made by writing to the Extension Department, Dr. S. E. Lee, Sanatorium, N. C.

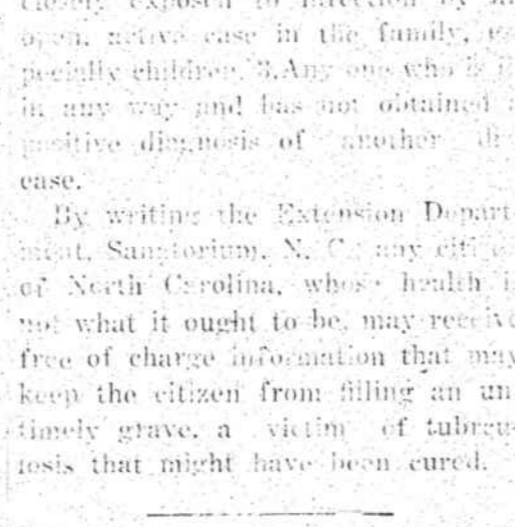

Many advanced cases of tuberculosis say: "If I had only known the early symptoms of tuberculosis!" Early diagnosis means tuberculosis cured, lives saved and money saved for the State and for its citizens.

The free traveling tuberculosis clinics in North Carolina were first begun in 1920. At that time the work was under the supervision of and was financed by the North Carolina Tuberculosis Association. Since February 1921, it has been carried on under the direction of the Extension Department of the North Carolina Sanatorium and has been supported by State appropriations.

The clinics away from the Sanatorium are held in the city of Brevard, N. C., and in other parts of the State.

Every person in North Carolina should have a thorough physical examination. But it is almost imperative that the following classes of people be examined: 1. Those who have one of the symptoms of tuberculosis. 2. Those who have been exposed to infection by an open, active case in the family, especially children. 3. Any one who is ill in any way and has not obtained a positive diagnosis of another disease.

By writing the Extension Department, Sanatorium, N. C., any citizen of North Carolina, whose health is what it ought to be, may receive free of charge information that may keep the citizen from filling an untimely grave, a victim of tuberculosis that might have been cured.

WILL DECAY

The Worst Thief

HOMEOWNERS put up fences, rail fences and shutters to discourage thieves and leave the door wide open to a thief who takes over $1,000,000,000.00 worth of property every year. Wherever wood is left unprotected with paint and varnish, "Will Decay" effects an entrance with moisture and rot fungus. Carpenters follow his coming. Owners must pay heavy repair bills to replace what he takes.

Tom Tarheel says that the children don't seem to need the sulphur and molasses, but after eating cabbage, collards and turnip salad all winter.

Dairy cattle may be improved by the use of a good herd sire. Dairy extension workers of State College are planning a careful campaign to promote this idea during the present year.

IN MEMORIAM

MISS MARY KILPATRICK

On Monday morning of January 26, the death angel came and took from our midst Miss Mary Kilpatrick of Little River. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lee Kilpatrick and was a devoted Christian, a member of the Little River Baptist Church. She lived her religion every day, and through her long illness was always patient and cheerful. She had that faith of mine which abideth which accepts its daily lot, it comes, without murmuring or grumbling.

She was a teacher in the school of this County until recently when she had given up teaching and was doing stenographic work in Winston-Salem when disease gripped its way in and took out the life which was dear to all who knew her.

She spent her last few months at home, where everything that loving hands could do was done for her, but they could not stop the hand of death.

She leaves here a father, mother, five sisters and one brother, as she goes to join the sister who has gone before.

Yes, we miss her. There's a vacant chair at the hearthstone, a sweet and tender voice is heard there no more and the footsteps we dearly loved to hear, are now listened for in vain. Her life is finished, her work is done and now she sleeps:

"That blessed sleep that will not break For tears, nor prayers, nor love's sweet sake;

That perfect rest that knows no pain, No throbbing, no thill of heart or brain.

That life sublime beyond all speech, That only the pure through dying reach."

A survey of nearly four thousand farms in four states shows that three-fourths of the farmers have adopted improved agricultural practices as a result of agricultural extension work, according to figures recently released by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The reason why extension workers devote so much attention to children is because youth will use this knowledge for many years, while the adult can use it only a few at best.
