BLANTYRE BREEZES

There was a large number at the Blantyre Sunday School, the past Sunday morning.

Misses Belle and Sadie Reed, who are attending school at Pisgah Forest, spent the week-end at their home near Blantyre.

Mr. M. R. Anderson has purchased a team recently.

A number of girls visited Mrs. J. T. Justus Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Justus and the girls sang several songs, Mrs. Justus accompanying them on the organ. Everyone enjoyed the evening very much, especially Mrs. Orr, who is an aged invalid, and who enjoys the company of young folks.

Miss Nellie Lyday of Turkey Creek, spent the week-end with Misses Belle and Sadie Reed.

Misses Letha and Mazzie Moody visited friends in this section Sunday.

4-A GRADE GIVES VERY INTERESTING PROGRAM

A most enjoyable and well-rendered program was presented by 4-A grade Friday morning before the assembled school in the high school auditorium.

The program was in the nature of a musical entertainment entitled "The Gypsies Festival," and was very effective in rendition by the children.

The characters represented were: Gypsy Queen—Elnora Kilpatrick; Fortune Teller—Hattie Sue Sittin; Yankee Peddler—James Lyon; an invisible chorus and numerous gypsies represented by the children of the grade. A chorus of gypsies consisting of 20 children rendered three songs, all of which greatly delighted the audience.

The woodland scenes produced the proper stage setting, and the costumes worn by the children were most pleasing in design and effect. The queen's costume consisted of red dress, red stockings and slippers, with stars of gold fastened on her dress and wearing a crown of gold paper. The fortune teller wore a red skirt with white bodice and black girdle covered with gold stars, and on her head a red cap with tassels. The Yankee peddler was dressed in a light suit, wearing a high hat and carrying a walking stick in his hand. The gypsies were girls and boys, gaily and appropriately dressed to suit the occasion.

Miss Swance Hedrick, the teacher of 4-A grade, directed this unusual program. Miss Jones assisted with the music.

4-B GRADE GIVES VERY INTERESTING PROGRAM

An operetta in three acts, "The Quest of the Pink Parasol," was most delightfully presented by 4-B grade last Friday morning in chapel.

The purpose of this operetta was to give the lesson of contentment. The queen of the fairies allowed a discontented little poppy and discontented little girl to change places. Even after she got her dearest wish, the pink parasol, the poppy was still unhappy. So was the little girl, Ruth. Since they were both so unhappy, the queen felt that they had learned a lesson, so she gave them again their original places in life. Ruth, again mortal, received the pink parasol for remembrance.

Characters presented were: Queen, Clara Campbell; Ruth, Edith Gillespie; Poppies, Edith Owen, Nina Burrell, Gertrude Wilson, Kate McLeod, Evelyn Thomson, Lillie McCrary, Allie Bell Morris; Gardener, Donayon Carson; Queen's Pages, James Mills, Glenn Cunningham.

This program was directed and costumed by Miss Pearl Hoffman, teacher of 4-B grade. Piano accompanist was Miss Macfie Jones.
