WELCOME, FOURTH ESTATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA

To the members of the South Carolina Press Association in convention assembled at Brevard. The News on behalf of the entire citizenship of this community extends a most cordial and sincere welcome.

We feel that in honoring Brevard and Transylvania County with their presence, the members of this distinguished body have exhibited excellent taste and ripe good judgment. The beauties and attractiveness of this section are amply displayed on every side, therefore, of these things we feel it is not necessary to speak. We feel also that the welcome extended to the members of this Association expresses in no small degree the genuine pleasure which the citizens of Brevard feel in entertaining the members of the Fourth Estate of South Carolina. Not in many years, we think, has this community been host to a more distinguished body of public servants; never, we are sure, has the community been more sincerely glad to welcome any body of visitors.

The fact that the South Carolina Press Association has crossed the State boundary into North Carolina to hold its convention, argues well for the cordial feeling of good-will which exists between the grand old North State and her sister commonwealth to the South. North and South Carolina have marched hand in hand for more than 200 years, her sons fighting side by side with distinguished gallantry on every American battle field from the ramparts of Quebec to the sands of Georgia, the eloquent wisdom of her statesmen resounding in brotherly accord from the halls of Congress, proclaiming the same spirit of freedom and the same ideals of Godly and unselfish principles which are shared equally by the citizens of these two sovereign States.

The history of South Carolina, as well as the history of North Carolina, records by no group or profession of men more distinguished public service than that which has been rendered by the members of the Fourth Estate. In every crisis of community and political life in the commonwealth, the members of this association and their predecessors in editorial chairs have stood four square for honor and faith and a sure intent.

Therefore, in welcoming the delegates and members of the South Carolina Press Association to Brevard, The News feels that it speaks for the citizens of this community and for the press of North Carolina when it extends to these gentlemen and their ladies the right hand of fellowship and a hearty wish for a most successful convention.

GOVERNOR SPENDS WEEK IN WESTERN N. CAROLINA

changes in them is expected.

B. N. Duke, tobacco magnate, gives $15,000 to the North Carolina Orthopedic Hospital at Gastonia for the erection of a ward for negro children. Mrs. Kate Burr Johnson, Commissioner of Public Welfare, who took the matter up with Mr. Duke in person says that the amount secured is sufficient to erect a 10-bed ward and operate it until the next General Assembly can make provision for its maintenance. Mr. Duke is a brother to J. B. Duke, who recently "established" Duke University over the remains of Trinity College.

Collector of Internal Revenue, William Grissom, is authority for the statement that North Carolina paid $166,000,000 in Federal taxes during the fiscal year ended June 30th, exceeding the collections for last year around $8,000,000. Mr. Grissom says it costs his office between 4 and 12 cents per $100 to make collections. Also, that this is a very low rate in comparison with the rate in other States.

The State Department of Revenue shows tax collection during the last fiscal year to be $6,246,816.20, which is approximately $300,000 less than 1924 collections for the year previous. It is said. Tax collections reported: Income, $5,751,349.23; inheritance, $765,862.80; schedule B, $566,283.71; Schedule C, $1,086,344.46; insurance (for three months) $87,544.46; bus (for three months) $775.48; bus permits (four months) $283; interest on balances, $8,630.28. The auditor is busy in the effort to ascertain the present size of the "accumulating" deficit. Treasurer Lucy S. Haddad put to the funds for the 1925-26 term various sources the following:

W. G. Hill, for many years superintendent of the old Cumcock Mines in Chatham County, reports for the Department of Labor and Printing that "a blow-out shot, possibly defective powder, carelessness in not properly placing the shot, or blast" are the probable causes of the mine disaster at Coal Glen, May 27th, in which the lives of 53 miners were snuffed out and 79 children made fatherless. Mr. Hill suggests many precautions which should be taken in mine operations to prevent accidents, while the commissioner ventures the opinion that the explosion furnishes an argument for the enactment of a workman's compensation law for the State.

L. M. Bailey, assistant to Commissioner Maxwell in the supervision of the "Blue Sky" act has issued a warning against the purchase of shares in the Ford Motor Company of Canada without thorough investigation of the corporation in question having failed to respond to the request for the securities in question be qualified under the Capital Issues law enacted by the General Assembly of 1925.

Attorneys for Jesse Wyatt, Raleigh detective charged with the killing of S. S. Holt, Smithfield attorney, several weeks ago, made the point of an illegally drawn jury when the case was called in the Wake superior court during the week. It developed that the grand jury returning the indictment for murder against Wyatt had been drawn by a boy over ten years of age and Judge Daniel ordered another jury drawn, rather than take chances on a technicality. Solicitor Evans announces that the case will surely be taken up later in the month.

The automobile license bureau of the Department of Revenue reports the collection of $10,109,253.26 during the fiscal year ended June 30th. Tax on gasoline, $5,277,113.41; automobile license tags, $4,710,234.87; automobile title registration fees, $121,904.98, and the end is not yet.

An inspiring program had been arranged by Mrs. D. L. English. The first number was given by Mrs. York, the subject being, "God's Flower Children." This article stressed the importance of work for neglected children.

Mrs. Setzer had charge of the devotional exercises and made an excellent talk.

The presence of Mrs. S. Walsh, a visitor from Cape Town, South Africa, was a rare treat. Mrs. Walsh read a scripture lesson and made an inspirational talk. She also told something of the far away land in which she lives and witnesses for Christ.

Mrs. Orr reported that the young folks, under the superintendence of Miss Alma Trowbridge, have already raised the full amount of their pledge.

Mrs. George W. Woodard told of the needs and encouragements of the field as gleaned from the Missionary Voice.

STANBERRY-SHUFORD

Coming as a great surprise to their many friends was the marriage of Miss Yvonne Shuford to Mr. Gene Stanberry, which took place Sunday morning, July 5, in the office of the Transylvania Tanning Co. Rev. E. R. Welch, pastor of the Brevard Methodist church, performed the ceremony. Mrs. Stanberry, mother of the groom, was the only witnessing party.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanberry are now on a short honeymoon trip.

MISS TRANTHAM'S S. S. CLASS ENJOYS PICNIC

The members of Miss Mildred Trantham's Sunday School class met for a social gathering in the recreation rooms of the Methodist church, Tuesday evening. The young girls enjoyed a jolly time with games and contests of various sorts. Refreshments were served during evening. About eighteen young girls were present.

A CORRECTION

Through misunderstanding, a misstatement was made in last week's edition of the News in regard to the Baptist Sunday School notes, which correction the News is glad to make. Instead of "a record-breaking attendance," the statement should have read "a low-water mark attendance."

HOW MANY IS A LOAD FOR A FORD TOURING CAR?

The question: "How many is a load for a Ford?" is well answered by Sheriff Sitton when he says "Eighteen."

One day last week, Sheriff Sitton and Deputy Fisher, acting on information received from Asheville, arrested 16 negroes, 12 men and four women, for alleged theft. The arrest taking place near Selma. Being in doubt as to just how to bring them in without loss by reason of nimbleness of feet, he loaded the whole bunch into (or near) his Ford touring car and with Deputy Fisher making a total of eighteen, on the care came to town—arriving without having changed gears.
