FARM NEWS

The community hatchery that we have been securing subscriptions for is now secure so far as subscribers are concerned. The next step is a meeting of those who have subscribed to organize, so collections can start. A meeting for this purpose will be held in the Court House on Thursday November 5th. Please remember the date and the hour will be seven-thirty P. M. Important that all be present.

QUESTION NO. 1.

The most asked question the past week was, "What do you expect corn to open at?" A hard question to answer. First, there is a large Western crop which is of good quality. The U. S. corn is near three billion bushels. This points to low prices. Considerable lower than last year.

On the other hand, we have a nation in a very good mood to buy. Wheat will not be cheap, and hay will be high. They tend to favor better prices for corn. My guess for this country would be start at $1.15 to $1.25. If you cannot get this price from me, that the prospect for well-grown cattle and pigs is good. The single price for cattle should be at least eight cents for good stuff. You can get $1.50 for corn fed to cattle at this price, or as much from feeding plus. Some are already figuring on feeding their corn rather than take less than $1.25.

The next most frequent question was, "What is best for raising live hogs?" Still too early to give me an answer just now. The cause of the suddenly gloomy atmosphere of temperance, and consumption, with number of feet at times.

Careless people are sure the dog has no worms, give him a dose of old time worm medicine, followed by castor oil, then a light, and heavy in quiet place. Experimentally I am suggesting the feeding of minerals such as lime or ashes. Those to be sprinkled over feed, or fed where some is scattered. Doses for dogs of any general is based on weight of dog, one pound per animal. Slightly above or below.

Potato prizes.

The U. S. potato crop is about half billion bushels of the million less than last year. The Northern grower who was getting $1.00 per hundred this time last year is now getting $1.75 per hundred. This has caused potatoes here to rise to two dollars per bushel, and no one can guess the ends.

Good time to get eggs for market.

Gather apples that are not in store in cool places.

Watch the cows as dry feeding starts. Keep bowls open.

Cattle Testing

Dr. Duckworth will finish testing cattle in three weeks and all who have cattle untested please notify me or Dr. Duckworth.

Community Hatchery Is Certain; Incubators Are Already Ordered

(By J. A. Glazener)

Seventy citizens, among whom are the most prominent and progressive men in Transylvania County, have subscribed over one hundred ($50.00) shares in the community hatchery.

The order for two Buckeye-Man-Moth Incubators has been placed. They are to be shipped the first of December. Each of these machines has a capacity of 12,096 eggs.

The incubators will be housed in a new building to be erected on the Brevard High School grounds.

The management of the hatchery is to be under the direction of Mr. J. A. Glazener, Vice-Superintendent Agricultural Instructor.

The shares have been distributed to the entire county and the maximum number of shares is 120.

This will mean an investment of $6,000.00, which will be paid in the net dividends, and from the operation of the hatchery shall first be used to pay off the indebtedness which up to 25 per cent on $6,000.00 investment, will be taken among the shareholders, probably all over 25 per cent on the investment, according to the Agricultural Department of the Brevard High School.

Shareholders are expected to meet in the next few days to organize the association.

C. N. OSBEE LOSES TRUCK IN CO. WITH TRAIN

The milk truck which C. N. Osbree and his son were driving, about nine o'clock collided with the passenger train just outside of the station, near the crossing. Young Barnes, who was driving the truck, and his son, were slightly injured.

Osbree saw the approaching train until they were within 100 feet of it to avoid a smash-up. The truck was struck in the center, breaking off a total wreck, and breaking the hundred or more bottles filled with milk which they were delivering to their customers. Very fortunately, however, both occupants escaped uninjured, save for a few minor cuts and bruises. Mr. Osbree states that the truck was a comparatively new one, a Dodge, having been driven something less than 1500 miles.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL HOLDS FAREWELL SERVICE

Special exercises were conducted at the Methodist Sunday School last Sunday morning in honor of Mr. Welch Galloway, who had been superintendent of the Sunday School for seventeen years, and who is now leaving Brevard.

The principal speaker for the occasion was Prof. C. H. Trovbridge of Weaver College, calling off his first acquaintance with Mr. Galloway, some twenty years ago, and of his loyal, efficient and untiring service rendered and devotion displayed in the home, in business relations, and all matters pertaining to the Church and Sunday School, in particular. This address was followed by short expressions of appreciation of Mr. Galloway's faithful service in the church and otherwise, by Mrs. Sarah Taylor, Mrs. H. M. Miller, Mrs. Cordelia King, Mr. T. W. Whitmire, Dr. J. F. Zachary, Mr. H. C. Ransom. The service closed with response of a few remarks by Mr. Galloway.

MR. AND MRS. CALLOWAY LEAVE BREVARD THIS WEEK

After a continuous residence in Brevard for many years, Mr. and Mrs. Welch Galloway leave Thursday of this week for their new home in Asheville.

Mr. Braedy Duncan of Palm Beach, Fla., recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Duncan.

NIGHT BIBLE CLASSES TO BE HELD HERE

Rev. W. A. Haggai, of Grand Rapids, Mich., will conduct week night Bible classes in the Baptist church beginning Monday night Nov. 16th.

Rev. Haggai is coming here under the auspices of Mr. Wayne A. Monroe, Presbyterian Sunday School Missionary and promoter of children's Summer Bible School.

Mr. Haggai, though young in years, is rich in Christian experience and is very familiar with Bible Lands. His early years were spent in Lebanon, Syria. He has under his command several languages that makes him one of our exceptional Bible teachers.

A rare treat is being afforded the people of Brevard in being able to hear Mr. Haggai. Bring your Bibles and note books and a mind full of questions for this is a place where you can ask questions that are so often never asked.

BETTERMENT ASSOCIATION ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Betterment Association held Monday afternoon, new officers for the ensuing year were elected. The election was as follows: President, Mrs. Q. L. English; vice-president, Mrs. S. C. Farnsworth; secretary, Mrs. D. E. English; treasurer, Mrs. Dave Henry. The society gave Mrs. E. H. Newbold a vote of thanks for her efficient service as president of the Betterment for four years. Adjournment was made until the last Monday in November.

FIRST LYCEUM NUMBER IS POSTPONED

The first number of the Lyceum, which was to occur last Saturday evening, was unavoidably prevented from carrying out the appointed schedule. The members of the company arrived in town on schedule, but owing to a train wreck enroute, in which all of their baggage containing costumes and scenery was destroyed, it was found necessary to postpone the entertainment until some later date. The local committee state that this same Lyceum number, a play, "Two Fellows and a Girl", will be presented every member of the League may as a mark of respect. Mrs. Wilson, it is understood, will stay in New York for several days and then return to her home in Washington.

Engadine Farm Herd Wins High Honors On 8-week Exhibition Trip

THIRD ASSAULT BY NEGROES IN 6 WEEKS

Preston Neely, an Asheville negro who criminally attacked a West Asheville white woman, Thursday of last week, was recognized by the woman when the two met face to face in Woolworth's store in Asheville Monday afternoon. The woman at once summoned officers, who pursued the attacker and finally succeeded in capturing him, arresting him in front of the postoffice, after the negro had been recognized and identified by the woman victim. Neely was then taken to the county jail where he remained a few minutes, after which Sheriff Mitchell ordered four of his deputies to take the negro in an automobile to the State penitentiary at Raleigh, fearing a mob might raid on the jail.

While a mob of 200 or more persons had formed on the Square Monday night in an attempt to take Neely, who was then on his way to Raleigh, another negro was attempting assault on a white woman, one of the principal business streets. The woman's husband, who had just stepped inside a grocery store to make a purchase, came out and discovering the assailant, immediately called the assembled men and officers, who captured the negro, placing him in the county jail on a charge of attempt to assault. The woman refused to identify the negro, however, and the enraged mob soon dispersed.

The alleged attack by Neely was the third of its kind to occur in Asheville within the past six weeks. The herd won 17 championships, 41 first places, 50 second places, and many below that. Engadine were two of the outstanding winners of the season. The two were defeated, but came back and defeated their hardest opponents in other fairs. These two have drawn considerable comment from the fat stock journals and even dairy sources.

Get of Sirs Club was a surprise, being five out of eight seconds and fourth.

In Group three bulls, the two were three and one-half points, eighth; in two year old colts, two champions, four firsts, two in Junior leading heifers, one champion, six firsts, one second; yearling herd, two firsts.

The big white bull that we folks are so fondly with, is still one of America's best winners, a medium sized cow that looks much like a picture of the most popular Belgian bull, the one that catches the eye, and who failed to win the audience would give a long sigh.

The herd suffered every day from the heat during the 10 months on the road. The last days of August and first half of September were trying days for the herdsman. The heavier animals had to be sprayed with water at frequent intervals, despite the heat, to keep them in show shape. The intense heat reduced the flesh so that the herd still shows the fine.

One calf died with pneumonia and the prize of the herd was dangerously near death from the same.

To sum it up, the year was no one of spectacular winning, but of large classes and hard hunting. A farm took a greater majority of ribbons than did Engadine Fair, and from the winning, Mr. Everett, has unquestionably the best shorthorn herd in the south, and is ready to meet any herd anywhere, for national honors.

"If I fail to see," said a writer, "how a soul, living apart from God can know The Meaning of Joy in its deepest reality, or how a soul that is in conscious touch with Him can fail to find it." Who is able to contradict the truism of Elihu: "If they obey and serve Him, they shall spend their years in prosperity, and their years in pleasure." The pleasures which are God's gifts to His beloved cannot be destroyed by tribulation; and the soul is often rejoicing in "truest prosperity" when outside circumstances are apparently wretched and trying.

There is something very splendid in the quietly victorious lives that are being lived out on many a lonely farm and in many a quiet village; something very heroic in the cheery acceptance of whatever lot in life God has chosen for His servants. Will you not try to remember that you—Yes, I am talking to you—may, if you will, make your life shining and glorious?

Happiness and joy are not the same thing. Those who turn their backs on happiness, sacrificing their own wishes for loves sake do not always know that God gives them something that they can't find elsewhere. Dogs give a mysterious joy that can sweeten the darkest day, brighten the night, bring a reward for service need not be waited for, they are hidden in the service.

"Lord, with what courage and in light

I do each thing,

When Thy least breath sustains my wing!

Shine and move like those above,

Like those above,

And with much gladness,

Quitting sadness,

Make me fair days of every night."

A PRAYER FOR THE MEANING OF JOY

Our Father God, we turn from Thee, for these we can not know The Meaning of Joy in its deepest reality, but help us to live in conscious touch with Thee, so we cannot fail to find it. And we know that the pleasures which are Thy gifts to Thy beloved, cannot be destroyed by tribulation, but that our souls, when our outside circumstances are apparently wretched and trying, may often rejoice, in truest prosperity.

Show us, our Father, that there is something very splendid in the quietly victorious lives that are being lived out on many a lonely farm and in many a quiet village; that there is something very heroic in the cheery acceptance of whatever lot in life. Thou our God, hast chosen for us, Thy servants. And enable us to accept our lot in life cheerfully, whatever it may be. Help us to remember that if we will we can make our life shining and glorious.

Teach us that happiness and joy are not the same thing, that they who turn their backs on happiness, sacrificing their own wishes for loves sake, do not always find that. Thou dost give a mysterious secret joy, that can sweeten the bitter, can brighten the darkest day of sorrow.

O! give to us that "mysterious secret joy," so that in all our service we may be assured that Thy rewards for service need not be waited for, but are hidden in our service. Help us to do each thing we do, with courage and delight, since Thy least breath sustains our wing, to shine and move like those above, and with much gladness, quitting sadness, make us fair days of every night, and this we ask for the dear Master's sake. Amen.
