

Issue of December Editorial Column an School Tax Election

other thing the Editorial to use this language "For election which, if carried, will the effect of abolishing every school tax in the County with thing but the uniform special county tax levied to extend the school terms beyond six months."

As I do not believe in deceiving the voters I trust you will publish the following law relating to said matter.

"In the event that a majority of qualified voters at said election shall vote in favor of a special county tax, said tax shall be in addition to all taxes theretofore voted on any local tax or special school district, except as provided in section 245. The maximum rate voted shall be annually levied and collected each year in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes of the county are levied and collected, unless the County Board of Education shall levy the rate requested." section 244, chapter 136 Public laws 1923.

Section 245 of the law above referred to reads as follows: "When ever the maximum special County tax levied or to be levied under the provision of this article is less than 10c each local tax, special charter or special school taxing district shall have the authority to levy an additional rate, not in excess of the local tax rate voted in the district; but the total special tax levy in said district, including the special County tax rate and the special local tax rate shall not exceed 50c on the $100.00 valuation of property real and personal."

It can be readily seen from the foregoing that if the County tax is voted that it does not abrogate or do away with any local tax heretofore voted but specially retains such a tax and the whole matter is left to the discretion of the County Board of Education as to whether or not they will levy both the local and county tax. It is true the limit of levy under both shall not exceed 50c on the $100.00 valuation of property, but when once voted how easy it will be for the next legislature to repeal that part of the section as to the maximum levy and then if the County Board of Education see fit they can not only levy the uniform county tax up to 50c but in addition hereto, levy the tax heretofore voted in all local tax districts as well as the levy hereto voted in Brevard and Hogback Townships.

The people of Brevard Township and Hogback Township were fooled and by such an election as this and for me I will not be fooled again, but I am frank to state that if the law will allow all local and Township taxes voted off that I would be glad to vote a uniform special tax for schools in any reasonable sum.

REV. WALLACE HARTSELL CONTINUES TO IMPROVE
Rev. Wallace Hartsell, pastor of the Brevard Baptist church, had sufficiently recovered from his recent operation for appendicitis to be able to be removed to his home Sunday from the Brevard Hospital.
His entire church membership, as well as many friends throughout the County will be pleased to learn that he continues to improve, and hope that he will soon be able to resume his pastoral duties.

CONNESSEE NOTES

One of the school children heard the name of King Saul's son, who was David's rival to the throne: "Ish-bosh-eth" was too strong a twist for his tongue. So when asked what was the new king's name, he hesitated, evidently wondering how such a name got into the Bible, but finally plumped out with—"Ish-by-gosh!"

Little six-year-old Georgia Owens sprang a brand new one. When told that the Mississippi was the Father of Waters, she asked why it was not named "Mistersippi?"

The departure of Mr. D. L.
Thrift and family for Cleveland County leaves a gap in the ranks of industry in this community hard to fill.

For the first time in a generation, the household of Mr. W. H. Hogsed has been reduced to three persons.
At one time it numbered more than a dozen. But now Mrs. Hogsed, her and Miss Rebecca, are holding the fort by themselves.

Some of the community are now listening to the murmur of Connes-tee Fall to catch the sadness of the "Minor Key," according to Mr.

Haggai. But when the spell gets hilarious, it sounds so weirdly major at times. These who heard Mr. Haggai were greatly delighted.
They also want Mrs. White and Mrs.
Simons to come out and sing and play.

WANTED TO KNOW—Has any one ever made a good eye crop from spring sowing?

Samantha Mull had won the "catch-all" contest in school twice.

Lillie Gravelly and Randall Batson were the 100 percent spellers in the last monthly school examination.
Mary Hamilton, Frank Kinzey, Samantha Mull, Mildred Hamilton, and Mildred Whitmire were the winners of the all "A" reports.

The Rev. Mr. Richardson preached at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon. He is a faithful shepherd on cold days and frozen roads.
