Movies

Every night this week there will be movies in the county. The last three nights will be, Thursday at Connestee school, Friday at Rosman high school, and Saturday night at Quebec school. Some future round will take in places not having the show this time.

The pictures give something of how to raise good potatoes, the life of sheep in the West, and three reels dealing with children and home problems. A number of men in Brevard are showing slides which cover the expenses of the films. The Brevard Battery Company and Mr. Loftis are furnishing lights where needed.

No one seems to be interested in our need for fertilizers. No quotations as yet. Prices expected to be near that of last year. The big demand for cotton is on now, and from past experiences, the price there is a chance for prices to drop by April or earlier.

Sweet Potatoes

Had a liberal sample of home kept sweet potatoes, as kept by Mr. T. P. Galloway, of Calvert. They were most like fresh dug potatoes. Mr. Galloway sweats his potatoes in small piles for two or three days, then builds a board floor for a pit large enough to hold all his crop. Cover the floor with straw. Take and scatter the small pits and let the potatoes dry, and throw out all bruised and unhealed broken ones. Place on your floor and cover four to six inches with straw and add dirt as it gets colder till late fall—the dirt to be a foot thick or more. This extra thickness holds the temperature even, and as it so happens, the temperature of the earth here is about right for the sweet potato.

Culled Chickens

The demand for culling chickens is going good. Culled five flocks last week. Those who have purebreds did not suffer much in the culling. Over-fat culled out about as many as anything else. Sickness, mostly roop, culled out several, but the same birds would have been culled, except for a few S. L. Wyandottes. It is largely the weak birds that get sick.

Very few flocks are of one pure strain. The white leghorns are very badly mixed, between the large type and smaller type.

The "big hens" at the Hatchery are setting. They are harmless, so you can call and see them some Saturday or Monday. All is moving lovely, and if eggs are fertile, a good hatch should start in two weeks.

Mr. Glazener now has the shares sold, and expects to meet further payments with cash from hatching. Mr. Glazener is a go-getter when it comes to putting a thing like this across. It's his now, so let's help.

BLUE RIDGE REALTY CO. OPENS OFFICE HERE

The Blue Ridge Realty company is opening offices in Brevard this week in a section of the Whitmire building occupied by Abrams Shoe Shop.

The members of the firm include F. B. Massengale, B. H. Davis and Mr. Barrett. A general line of real estate will be handled, including city and suburban property and farm lands.

The local firm is a branch of the well-established firm of the same name in Greenville.

SEVERAL NEGROES HAVE UNPLEASANT WEEK-END

A total of eleven of the darker populace in and around Brevard had their week-end marred by the law.

Saturday night two would-be joy spreaders were nabbed by Chief Barnett after one had been beaten severely with a black jack, and a merry chase had been led by both.

Sunday afternoon Sheriff Sitton arrested three, a woman and two men, for participating in a "home-tie" fracas, resulting in Conrad Killian severely slashing Bosco Keyes.

Rural Policeman Sims reported seven, all in one Ford touring car, near Blantyre, plus three quart of whiskey. Two quarts of the fluid was destroyed before the officer could make the arrest, but the remaining quart sufficed as evidence to hold the "unlucky seven."

CLEMENT TO ERECT MODERN THEATRE

BUILDING TO BE LOCATED ON CORNER MAIN AND CALDWELL

Construction of Brevard's new theatre, to be located at the corner of Main and Caldwell streets, is now in progress and will be pushed through to completion by early summer, according to a statement made by F. D. Clement, owner of the building.

The two-story structure will be of buff tapestry brick with limestone trimmings, having a 40-foot frontage on Main street and 132 feet in length. A marquis will extend over the sidewalk in front of the building. The lobby in the center of the structure, measuring 15 feet by 30 feet in depth, leads into the spacious theatre with a seating capacity of nearly 600. At the rear of the lobby will be found the ticket office. On either side of the lobby in front will be located a large room for store space, also room for a store will be provided at the extreme rear of the building. The floor of lobby and store entrances will be finished in terrazzo, a tile effect, with border along the corridor in same finish.

The second floor will contain office rooms and apartments, all to be finished in oak. The entire structure will be modern and attractive in design, equipped with every desirable convenience. Other features adding to the general attractiveness and comfort will be large plate glass windows across the front, oak finish throughout, cornice decorations, and an up-to-date steam heating plant.

T. H. and J. G. Cunningham, of Greenville, are architects for the building, and The Knight Company, Greenville, are contractors.

LOCAL POSTOFFICE RECEIVES NOVEL CANCELLING MACHINE

The local post office department has added to its equipment a novel device in the form of an automatic cancelling machine for cancelling outgoing letters.

Some 300 letters are placed in the machine at a time and by rapid turns of a hand wheel, the letters, one by one, are automatically cancelled and turned into another compartment ready for the mail carrier. The machine is a decided improvement over the old hand method of stamping, it being estimated that approximately fifty letters per minute can be cancelled, a system allowing about ten times as much speed as by the former method.

Postmaster Nicholson states that in order to secure this machine from the government post office department, it was necessary to make assurance of the fact that the local office had a daily output averaging 3,000 letters. This, according to Mr. Nicholson's statement, is the daily average for the Brevard post office, during the summer tourist season, stating further that the amount of letters received at the office at the present time practically doubles that of a year ago.

The cancel automatically placed on each letter is a clear cut print of the town, state and date, in addition to a U. S. flag running across to cancel the stamp.

DAUGHTER OF W. H. ALEXANDER DIES

W. H. Alexander, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, received word Sunday of the death of his twelve-year-old daughter, which occurred at Stubsenville, Ohio, Sunday morning, after a brief illness of meningitis. Mr. Alexander left at once for that city, from which place funeral services were conducted the following Wednesday.

Mrs. Alexander left Saturday for the bedside of her sick child, but neither she nor Mr. Alexander reached their daughter until after her death, her illness being of such short duration.

The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved parents.

LOCAL MAN WILL GO ON GOOD-WILL TOUR

THORNWELL HAYNES OF BRE-
VARD AMONG SPEAKERS

By invitation of the Asheville Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Thornwell Haynes, of Brevard, will accompany the North Carolina Good-Will Tour which leaves Asheville March 16 on a six weeks' tour of some eight or ten southern states. Mr. Haynes will be one of the principal speakers.

Mr. Haynes, who has recently decided to become a permanent resident of Brevard, was formerly president of Birmingham College, Birmingham, Ala. and for fifteen years was a resident of several foreign countries, holding the important position of American Consul General and Diplomatic commissioner abroad. He is thus a man of wide and varied experience, having travelled extensively and possesses marked ability as a scholar, writer and orator.

Mr. Haynes is connected with the Sapphire Sales corporation, serving in the capacity of vice-president of this organization, and considers Brevard and this immediate section unsurpassed anywhere in the world as to the scenic beauty, natural resources and congeniality of its people. A picture of Mr. Haynes appeared in a recent edition of the Asheville Citizen.

HATCHERY SECURES EXPERIENCED MAN

MR. GLAZENER WRITES EN-
THUSIASTICALLY ABOUT LOCAL PROJECT

The Brevard Community Hatchery has employed Earl Presnell, of Elerbe, N. C., as operating manager. He has had experience in setting up and running Mammoth incubators and has been quite a successful poultryman. Mr. Presnell will be assisted by Harry Sitton, who has been operating the machines very successfully for the past few days.

That the Brevard Community Hatchery is going to serve a need is being proved by the number of eggs received each week. There are now in the machines 6,800 eggs. A number of folks have asked about the time the hatch will come off—just remember that every Wednesday, beginning March 10, will be chick day. That is, a hatch will be taken off every Wednesday after the above date till the season closes.

Some have asked how they might get a start with pure bred poultry at a minimum cost—My advise is to prepare a good place for your setting hens and then each week when the hatch comes off, come to the hatchery and buy the kind of chicks you choose and give them to your hens. Then this fall, when the pullets are old enough to begin laying, sell all your other stock and keep your purebred pullets. Then next spring buy such male birds as you will need. Of course, if anyone has in mind raising very many chicks—he should buy a brooder and prepare to do efficient brooding.

Now that we have a modern up-to-date hatchery located in our community, let's make use of it.

The purpose of the contest was to start people thinking about writing material for radio production

N. BREVARD ASKS FOR WATER LINE

MAY BE INCORPORATED WITH TOWN OF BREVARD

The mayor and aldermen and about 15 of the property owners of North Brevard met at the home of Fred Johnson Thursday night, at which time it was decided that an official body go before the Brevard board of aldermen and present to them the matter of providing a larger water supply and some fire protection for the township of North Brevard.

Under present arrangements and conditions, no additional water can be tapped from the main supply for any new residences or business houses going up in that section. It is, therefore, necessary that immediate action be taken to supply a larger water supply for North Brevard.

If found necessary in order to comply with this request, the next Legislature will be asked to abolish the charter of North Brevard and allow this district to be incorporated in the town of Brevard.

This question will be taken up by the board of aldermen at their meeting next Monday, and it is expected that definite action will be taken at that time.

FREE CLINIC HELD AT WAYNESVILLE

STATE REHABILITATION DE-PARTMENT FITS INDIGENT
CRIPPLES FOR LIFE

Through the Rotary Orthopaedic Clinic at Waynesville, which meets for the third time on Saturday, Feb. 27, in the New Methodist Church, many cripples of this section of the State who have despaired of having their deformities corrected are being provided with an opportunity to secure treatment by an orthopaedic specialist that will remove a part if not all of their physical handicaps.

A number of cases are receiving treatment in the clinic through the application of plaster casts, orthopaedic shoes, and corrective exercises. These patients are able to remain at home and come into the clinic each month for observation and further treatment. Those requiring operations are being treated at the children's Hospital at Gastonia or in a free bed furnished by the Mission Hospital at Asheville.

The Waynesville Clinic is a link in the chain of clinics established over the entire State of North Carolina by the State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation for the purpose of providing such treatment to all of the indigent cripples of the State. No one can estimate the value of this program, not only to these handicapped people themselves, but to the communities in which they reside and the commonwealth as a whole.

Orthopaedic treatment is but the first step in the program of the Rehabilitation Department. After the physical handicap has been removed as far as possible, the Department provides a course of vocational training to fit the disabled party for a vocation suited to any remaining handicap, and then aids him in securing suitable employment. Thus he is fitted for an active life of usefulness, supporting himself and dependents, and contributing to the production of his community. From a non-producer and a potential mendicant is evolved a happy, independent and useful citizen.

CARL BOSSE POSSESSES CHAMPION HENS

Carl Bosse is the owner of 24 hens which he considers hard to beat in the way of egg production. These 24 hens laid 308 eggs during the month of January. The fowls are of the "Red Leghorn" stock.

and to bring up the standard of the radio program.

Mr. Booth has produced numerous plays which have been put on in various sections of the country from New York to New Orleans, featuring such leading ladies as Pauline Lord, Blanch Walsh, Hazel Dawn, and others. Mr. Booth is also a well-known short story writer, contributing quite extensively to a number of the leading magazines of the country.

ROBERT REYNOLDS HAS HAT IN RING

PROMINENT ASHEVILLE MAN
OUT FOR U. S. SENATE

Robert Reynolds, of Asheville, comes to the front in political circles with the announcement of his candidacy in the Democratic primary for the seat in the United States Senate now held by Senator Lee S. Overman.

In his announcement Mr. Reynolds declares that he will stage a campaign from coast to mountains, asserting that he has the support of many prominent leaders of the Democratic party.

His statement follows:
To the Democratic Voters of North Carolina:

"I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator for North Carolina. If you intend to participate in the Democratic primary next June, you will please consider this an earnest personal request to vote for me for United States Senator. This plain blunt announcement of my candidacy and personal appeal for your support may or may not tickle the ears of the groundlings and may cause the judicious and dignified in and around Washington City to grieve. However this may be, "my hat is in the ring" and I shall carry a vigorous campaign throughout the State till the election is over.

"I am writing to a great many of my friends and acquaintances and hope to meet and get acquainted with every voter personally during the campaign. Remember, any good word or kind act in my behalf between now and the primary will be appreciated and never forgotten.

"Having solicited your vote and support, it may not be amiss to tell you something of my prospects and purposes: While no one in particular and honorable by tsoeaptaalmap and honorable post, yet, since I have made known to my friends my ardent ambition to serve my State in the United States Senate I have had assurances of strong support from thousands of voters who have heard I wanted to make the race. I am much pleased and encouraged by the favorable consideration my candidacy has received so far.

"While not, perhaps so great an honor as when Nathaniel Macon and Zeb Vance held that exalted position, the Senatorship is yet regarded highly as a position of dignity and some degree of usefulness both to State and Nation. There doubtless be amongst you, those who feel that I am not a big enough man for it. I will say there have been times when I myself am none too sure of my fitness, but I have the will to grow and serve. We know our political history records the slaughter of many ambitious statesmen, not to mention politicians. For that Caesar was ambitious Brutus slew him. The Democracy of North Carolina, if it sees fit, may take my measures; I can take a licking if I have to.

"The rank and file of Democrats of North Carolina never have favored conferring office for life, or committing to inner circles the award of honors without limit of time, in perpetuity. The Democracy of my State does not owe me or any other man the Senatorship. I am frankly you to vote for me for this office, hoping if successful, in my laudable ambition, that I may be given wider opportunity to fight for the things my party believes in and my friends and neighbors want done.

"I believe in friendship and party loyalty. When a friend of mine asking you to vote for me for this office, hoping if successful, in my laudable ambition, that I may be given wider opportunity to fight for the things my party believes in and my friends and neighbors want done.

"There is a new day dawning, a new order arising in North Carolina. I want to rise with it and assure one and all, each and every voter that in so doing, I will never forget my raising."

Robert R. (Bob) Reynolds.

THE PRAYER CORNER

FELLOWSHIP AND JOY

1 John 1:3, 4.

"These things—the witness to Christ—the source of life in God in all its manifold aspects—write we not to you only, but to all men forever taut our joy—the common joy of you and of us—may be fulfilled."

"Joy," as a beloved writer says, "it is life at its very brightest, its very best." Alas! with the common life of men it has little to do. Look back on your own life and see how many of its days or weeks you can describe as full of joy.

Walk in the streets of Brevard, and on how many faces do you see the light of joy?

"These are the conditions requisite for joy—innocence and fellowship; and both conditions are all too rare. The world, not possessing either—for its seductions are evil, and its fellowships are too false—aims at a guilty substitute for joy. But there is no passion, there is but one drop of guilt in the sparkling cup of true joy makes it bitter, envenomed turbid, evil in the moment of fruition. It is at the best, the sweetness of the fruit whose bite is death. Its pleasure is unsatisfying at the moment, and its effects deprave forever."

But True Joy is a rose of paradise, which only the hand of innocence can pluck. God only can grant true joy to any human soul. Thou shalt show me the path of life: in Thy presence is the fullness of joy, and at Thy right hand there are pleasures forevermore. There, and nowhere else, would you have the secret of a joy, serious, noble, enduring.

St. John wrote this Epistle to reveal it to you. It is Fellowship with God in Christ, and in Christ with your Fellow Men. May our Lord Jesus Christ give it to us in His own word. "If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept My Father's commandments, and abide in His love. These things have I spoken unto you, that My joy may be in you, and that your joy may be fulfilled."

A PRAYER FOR JOY

O Thou God of Fellowship and Joy, grant that Thy joy may be in us, and that our joy may be fulfilled, for it is life at its very highest, its very brightest, its very best. The world cannot give it to us, only Thou, our Father, and Thy Son, Jesus Christ can give it to us, for the conditions requisite for joy are innocence and fellowship, and the world does not possess either. Its seductions are evil and its fellowships are false. The sweetness of its fruit is poison, the glitter of the serpent, whose bite is death. "But true joy is a rose of paradise, which only the hand of innocence can pluck, and Thou, our God, alone can grant it to any human soul." Thou, God the Father, and God the Son, Thou alone can show us the path of life: in Thy presence and in Thine alone, is the fullness of joy, and at Thy right hand there are pleasures forevermore. There, and nowhere else, is the secret of a joy, serious, noble, enduring, for it is fellowship with Thee, our God, in Christ and in Christ with our fellowmen.

Oh give us grace to keep His commandments, that we may abide in His love even as He kept Thy commandments and abode in Thy love. So shall His joy be in us and our joy be fulfilled.

And this we ask, nay, beg, in His name and for His sake, Amen.
