The News is glad to publish letters, not too long, on matters of general interest. But such communications must be accompanied by the real name of the writer, even when they are to be published on a non de plume. The News, of course, reserves the right to reject an article offered for the Voice of the People.

For Cards of Thanks, Notices of Entertainments where admission is charged and Resolutions of Respect, the charge is 5 cents per line.

BREVARD KIWANIS

Kiwanis is a constructive force in every community in which it serves. Its motto "We build" tells the whole story. While the business meetings of the club are held at dinner time, it is not a knife and fork club, but one for civic betterment which cost time and money.

The Brevard Kiwanis Club, less than six months old, is making its force felt in this community. As its purposes become better known it will be received with more enthusiasm. Kiwanis does not build at the expense of some other civic organization, but serves and builds with all movements, working together for a single good, and relegates the isms and schisms of faction to the resting place of forgotten things where they belong. The value of Kiwanis to Brevard will not be known this year. Sufficient time has not elapsed since its organization to permit its force to be felt. Its biggest job now is to get the idea over. When business and professional men of the highest standing in a community will give an hour of their time each week to discuss newer and better things for the place in which they live and work, regardless of religious or political beliefs, the spirit that prompts such an organization will make its force felt. Such is the Kiwanis spirit.

NOTICED IMPROVEMENTS

That the opening of the country club golf course is receiving wide publicity and is in line for still further publicity is evidenced by the fact that the Southern Railway is seeking further information regarding the establishment of this course in order to assist in advertising this section.

The publicity thus given Brevard through the medium of the golf course will be far reaching, in that the Southern Railway proposes to include in its annual booklet information concerning the Brevard course. These booklets are sent on request to people in all sections of the country and the contents will no doubt be read by thousands of people throughout the country.

The Southern Railway System has just issued very attractive booklets giving detailed description and interesting pictures of various resort sections in the Southern Appalachian mountains. Fifty of these booklets have been recently received at the Chamber of Commerce and may be had on application.

The following communication from J. H. Wood, division passenger agent, and editorial comments from two Asheville papers bear out the statement that our improvements are noticed by others.

Mr. W. H. Alexander, Secty., Chamber of Commerce, Brevard, N. C.

Dear Mr. Alexander:
The Brevard News of the 29th carried a very interesting article with reference to the opening of the new Country Club Course at your city.

In order that the Southern Railway may give necessary publicity to this matter, I will be pleased to have you write me in detail with reference to the following facts:

- (1) By whom was the course laid off?
- (2) Is it expected to make this an 18 hole course at an early date?
- (3) Has club house been built?

(4) Fees for visitors.
Or any other information that golf players demand.
We will be pleased to assist you in giving wide publicity to the establishment of this course.
Yours very truly,
J. H. WOOD,
Division Passenger Agent.

More evidence that Brevard is one of the brightest and best towns in the State: new nine-hole golf course of the Country Club is opened for play, and the new $100,000-theatre is finished.

A GROWING GOLF INTEREST
(Asheville Times)

The opening of the golf course of the Brevard Country Club is another reminder of the large place golf has come to have in the recreational life of this section and of the whole of North Carolina. Particularly in the mountain counties, where the summer climate is ideal for the game, no town cherishing hopes of being a tourist resort is going to be without golf links.

The community advertising of the mountain towns has not neglected golf as an attraction, but there is room to wonder if the people in general and the various golf clubs have taken into consideration their opportunities to make golf an even greater sport and advertising feature of life in this region.

EAST FORK NEWS

Rev. H. C. Sprinkle held quarterly Conference at the M. E. church Saturday. He with his son, William, and friend Mr. Bryant Carstarphen, and Rev. J. C. Richardson spent Saturday night at the home of W. W. Gravelly.

There has been a revival meeting in progress at the Baptist church. Rev. Mr. Wolfe has been doing the preaching.

Mrs. M. B. Redman was called to Knoxville, Tenn., two weeks ago last Monday, on account of the death of her nephew Wilgers Sams. Mr. Redman and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gravelly joined Mrs. Redman the following Thursday and visited friends in Knoxville and Coal Creek, Tenn., for several weeks, returning home last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Gravelly and daughter Verna, spent the week-end with Mr. Gravelly's uncle, W. W. Gravelly.

Miss Fay Wingo spent Saturday night with Misses Rachel and Edith Gravelly.

Miss Kate Gillespie has gone to her school in Turkey Creek.

Our school started off real nicely Monday with Miss Rogers, of Pelzer, S. C., as teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gillespie and daughter, Lucille, were East Fork visitors Sunday. Also Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gillespie and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Whitaker and family.

Misses Chloa and Pansy Towns from Pickens, are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Martha Gillespie.

CONNESSTEE NOTES

Misses Estey and Leota Collins came home from Asheville for a week-end visit Saturday.

Mrs. F. Henderson suffered a broken arm and several painful bruises by being knocked down by a young bull. Mrs. Hendederson is such a devoted and efficient gardener that her affliction at being obliged to forego her customary activity is all the more regrettable.

A Connesstee man sent some of the community's famous sour-wood honey to Judge Thompson of Raleigh, a distinguished citizen of the Capital and famous both as epicure and raconteur. The Judge sent back this story:

A friend of his was served with sourwood honey at a hotel in Burke County. He liked it so much that his account of it made his wife go with him on his next trip. When they sat down at the table the buck-wheat cakes were served with syrup. The husband demanded of the old colored waiter—

"Where is my honey, Rastus?"
"Well, boss, she done left a week ago!"

An ice cream supper is to be served at the school house Saturday night by the Safety League, of which Miss Mildred Whitmire is secretary, Miss Nola Gillespie vice-president, and Miss Mildred Hamilton, president. Miss Ruth Ward is the Treasurer and asks that cakes be brought by patrons.

Mr. Van Pressley and his sons have gone extensively into the wood business and have a large yard already filled and for sale.

THERE IS NO SATURATION POINT FOR HONEST VALUE

Build a product that the world needs, better than the world expects, and mounting sales will answer those who are constantly predicting a saturated market.

During the first six months of this year, for instance, Dodge Brothers sold 207,115 motor cars and trucks. This represents a gain of 49.3 per cent over the first six months of 1925, and continues Dodge Brothers in the enviable position of THIRD IN THE INDUSTRY.

For the three weeks ending July 17th, 23,862 motor cars and trucks were delivered to customers—an increase of 62.4 per cent over the same period last year, and impressive evidence that Dodge Brothers great sales gain is continuing through the quiet weeks of mid-summer.

There may be a saturation point for mediocrity, but honest value will always command a great and ever expanding market.

Are You One of the Ten?

Not one money earner in ten realizes the actual value of keeping his money in a bank. The careful handling of even a small account exerts a forceful power in building up and increasing one's credit.

In addition to the protection afforded your money, and the safety of paying bills by check, it is well worth while to carry your money in the bank and get the benefit of this credit building force.

Your account, whether large or small, will receive careful attention and be very much appreciated.
