FARM NEWS

(By L. A. AMMON)

All Mountain County Agents were called to the Experiment Station at Swannanoa, on Tuesday to go over the farm in detail, and be able in the future to tell farmers what is being done, and the drift of results. They are very conservative, and will not let us print what would seem to be sure results, till the tests have been made for several years—Can talk all we please.

Corn Harvesting

Almost before we know it we will be in the corn fields saving what has been made. Experiments over many years and at many stations show a loss of 17 percent in yield of corn, where tops are cut and fodder pulled, compared with cutting the stalk at the ground, and shredding or husking from stalk, as much of the Middle West is done.

Figures from our own farmers show that it takes more labor to do it the old way, and that the stover will feed about twice as many cattle.

Groups of farmers should own a shredder, and swap work in shredding, and the money side is very small. I am ready to help organize such groups, when advised of a chance.

The Home Agent is enjoying a few days vacation.

The man in charge of incubation of baby chickens at the test farm, said that too much moisture was the one biggest trouble in getting chickens out of the shells last Spring. They cut down the moisture, and added more air and got as high as 70 percent hatches from same eggs, in two incubators that were side by side.

Sprouted oats were the next best thing in giving good hatches. Those who fed them, here, made the best hatches. Late discoveries claim that sprouted oats have an unusual effect on fertility in other animals.

The Station incubator man predicts better hatching results next Spring, due to more green feeds this Fall.

Western North Carolina County Agents have shipped in 70 purebred dairy bulls during the last four months, and about two hundred cows and heifers. The best time to buy is during the next three months, as farmers will sell cheaper rather than carry through Winter.

Home grown water melons will soon be on the market, and I hope the people will be thoughtful of the man who is trying out in this new field. Mr. Berryman, of the old Zachary place, promises to have some excellent melons, and the French Broad quality is in them. Mr. Berryman is an experienced grower, coming from Georgia. Let's get behind him and make it a profitable business for a man to supply his home trade.

Rye market quiet, all Agents report no inquiries by farmers. Cotton being late is given as the reason.

DON'T GIVE PROMISCUOUSLY TO CHARITY

(By Wayne A. Monroe)

We are trying to put Brevard's Associated Charities on a sound basis and if all citizens will cooperate it can be done.

When you have a call of mercy that will be covered by the Associated Charities get in touch with some of the ministers or Mr. Wayne A. Monroe, who investigates all cases before aid is given.

There are people who come to the Associated Charities who are worthy; we help them. There are those who are not worthy of aid and through the Associated Charities we are able to detect such.

The first Monday in October will be the day to send your discarded clothing to the Associated Charities.

This is how you can do this: Any old clothing that you are not going to need for the winter, and that are not worn out will do.

See that they are CLEAN. Wrap them up or place them in a box and deliver to Mr. Monroe. If you can not deliver them call him. His phone is 86.

BREVARD PHARMACY MOVES TO NEW HOME ON EAST MAIN
The Brevard Pharmacy, under the ownership and management of J. B. Pickelsimer, is moving this week into the new Pickelsimer building on East Main street.

"Get-together-Day" Promises to Be Big Gala Affair for All

Be Given At Country Club

TRANSPORTATION FURNISHED TO AND FROM PICNIC GROUNDS

Committees from the Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club met in final conference on Wednesday afternoon and perfected plans for the biggest out-door gathering that Brevard has ever attempted for the entertainment of her visitors. The boarding houses and hotels are co-operating in every way in effort to create an interest in the affair among their guests. Business houses have expressed an intention to close early enough to permit all employees to attend the picnic supper between five and six o'clock and the individual interest is the only thing necessary to make the "Get-together-Day" and Basket Picnic of Thursday, August 26th, the crowning event of Brevard's summer vacation season of 1926.

As stated in last week's News, the picnic will be held on the lawn of the Brevard Country Club. No better location could have been selected for this function. Just a few minutes drive from town it is within easy reach of those who are unable to leave their business until late and in many cases little more time will be required to get to the picnic than to go home for supper. Every citizen is interested in creating a good impression of Brevard among the summer vacationists and all should join in this half-holiday to demonstrate to our visitors that Brevard is a friendly little city.

The comforts of the club house will attract many who for years have had to forego the pleasures of a picnic dinner in the woods. Easy chairs on the spacious verandas await those for whom the rigorous picnic day has lost its charm. No walking or climbing for those who wish a quiet day and an abundance of that exercise over the adjacent meadows, valleys and mountains for the more energetic.

A practice driving tee and putting green have been installed on the club house lawn where beginners may have a lesson in the "Royal and Ancient Game." Lawn games that can be conveniently handled to and from the picnic may be brought for the entertainment of the children.

Ample provision has been made for the transportation of those who do not have cars. Comfortable autos will be available at 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon at the office of the Chamber of Commerce and will call at home for any within a reasonable distance, who find it inconvenient to go to the office. Return transportation will also be provided.

Provision has been made with the boarding houses and hotels for the picnic dinner of each guest in a most convenient way. A suitable meal will be prepared at the hotel or boarding house for each person attending the picnic and will be taken to the club house by a representative of the respective houses. In the event transportation is needed for the baskets, the same should be sent to the office of the Chamber of Commerce early on Thursday afternoon. At the picnic the contents of all baskets will be put together and the dinner served at one large group. It will not be necessary for anyone to bring coffee. This will be provided at the Country Club and made in the kitchen of the club house. Cream and sugar may be brought by those who desire it.

A letter from the Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club inviting the visitors to the picnic was mailed to the seventy-nine boarding houses, hotels and rooming houses that are listed with the Chamber of Commerce and for the benefit of those who did not receive invitation, the letter is given herewith. Every visitor in Brevard and the community is cordially invited to come and every citizen is urged to

TWO NEW STORES TO OPEN HERE SOON

Two new stores will open for business in Brevard within the next ten days. A bakery will open in the new Stokes building on Main street about September 1st. This will be under the management of W. J. Peterson, who was formerly manager of the Good Health Cafeteria of Asheville, and for eight years previous to that was manager of a bakery in San Diego, Cal. In addition to the bakery there will be also operated a cafeteria with eight tables. The bakery department will be located in the basement, which will be furnished with all modern bakery equipment.

A new jewelry store and repair shop will open within the next week or ten days in the Smith building, formerly occupied by the Brevard Realty company. M. D. Foxman, of Asheville, will be owner and manager of the store.

The second A & P store for Brevard opened for business on Monday in the Stokes building on Main street. W. H. Underwood, of Spartanburg, is manager.

SOUTH CAROLINA BOY HURT IN WRECK WITH BREVARD BUS

Joseph Brown, of Duncan, S. C., was seriously injured Tuesday afternoon in Hendersonville when the car in which he was riding collided with the Brevard-Hendersonville bus, driven by J. Neely of Brevard. Brown, who was riding on the back seat of the car, was thrown out, landing on his head, resulting in a fractured skull. He was at once removed to Patton Memorial hospital, where he was reported to be at the point of death Wednesday. The driver of the car was not injured, also Neely and the passengers of the bus escaped injury.

According to reports, Neely states that he did not see the car until too late to stop, since it came out from a side street.

"NORTH CAROLINA, THE FIFTH STATE TODAY" IS PUBLISHED

"North Carolina, The Fifth State Today" is the title of a book published last week by the State Department of Conservation and Development at Raleigh. It contains a comprehensive review of the three distinct sections of the State—the Coastal plain, the Piedmont Plateau and the Mighty Appalachians. The agricultural and recreational progress of the state during the past 25 years is covered briefly by thoroughly and is interesting reading to all who are concerned in the growth of our great State. It is filled with carefully prepared information, profusely illustrated and handsomely made, and is a credit to a live department of a State that is letting the world know of its existence.

B. A. FRADY DIES AT HIS HOME NEAR PENROSE, MONDAY

HAD BEEN DEAD MORE THAN AN HOUR WHEN FOUND

B. A. Frady, of the Penrose section, was found dead Monday afternoon at his home. He had been on a scaffold working on his new home, and it is thought quite probably that he slipped and fell to the ground, breaking his neck or that possibly he was struck by lightning.

He had apparently been dead an hour or more when his body was discovered.

Funeral services were conducted from the home Wednesday afternoon and interment was in Davidson River cemetery.

Mr. Frady is survived by his wife, four sons and two daughters. The sons are B. E. Frady, Brevard, O. S. Frady, of Shelby, Lacey Frady, of Penrose, Fell Frady, of Pisgah Forest, and the two daughters, Mrs. Annie Thrift, of Shelby, and another daughter of Campbello, S. C.

Construction Begun On New $25,000 St. Philips Church

NEGRO ATTEMPTS THEFT OF MISS MARY GALLOWAY'S PURSE

A negro man attempted theft of the pocketbook Miss Mary Galloway was carrying in her hand Monday night about nine o'clock, when she and her mother, Mrs. Georgia Galloway, were walking from their home on Caldwell street to the Clemson theatre, a distance of one block.

Miss Galloway's presence of mind and coolness prevented the theft, in that she held tightly to the pocketbook, and the negro passed on without accomplishing his attempted feat. Officers were summoned and a thorough search was made, but the man had made his get-a-way. The negro is thought to be a stranger here, but Mrs. Galloway feels certain she would be able to identify him, as she saw him plainly as he passed them on the sidewalk. The officers later brought a negro man to the theatre for Mrs. Galloway and her daughter to identify, but he proved the wrong party.

MEDFORD FURN. CO. OPENS STORE HERE

BUYS OUT SMITH BUSINESS MOVES LOCATION

The Medford Furniture Company, of Canton and Sylva, have opened this week a furniture store on the first floor of the Mull building, on the corner of Broad and Jordan streets.

This firm has purchased the Smith Furniture Company stock and will combine the two into an up-to-date, well stocked furniture store.

The room formerly occupied by Smith Furniture Company will be used by the new firm as a warehouse to store the surplus of their large stock.

Cordell Russell, of Waynesville, is local manager of the Medford Furniture Company store.

M. L. SHIPMAN, FORMER NEWS EDITOR, IS VISITOR HERE

M. L. Shipman, of Raleigh, is spending several days in Brevard this week.

Mr. Shipman was a former editor of The Brevard News, and was busy greeting his many friends during his stay.

W. E. FRADY SUFFERS INJURIES IN AUTO WRECK SUNDAY MORN

W. E. Frady suffered a fractured collar bone and five young men with him were considerably bruised when the Hudson sedan in which they were riding Sunday morning collided with another car in which were three young men from Greenville. The accident happened on the Greenville highway near Marietta, S. C. The young men in the car with Mr. Frady were Charlie Corn, Philip Price, Wallace Foster, Sam Barnett and Homer Hayes.

The sedan was considerably damaged, but the other car and its occupants escaped injury.

U. D. C. LIBRARY REPORT FOR WEEK ENDING AUG. 21

The adult attendance at the U. D. C. library for the past week was 253 and the junior attendance 22. The adult books in circulation were 177 and junior books taken out were 13. Three new members were enrolled.

Five books were donated during the week, one by Ethel McMinin, "Lucille the Torchbearer," by E. Duffield; and four by Mrs. Duclous. The Lamp in the Desert, by Dell. The Trail in the Desert, by Robert Service, Admiral's Ward, by Alexander, and a Texas Ranger, by William McLeod Raine.

REV. WRIGHT IS VISITOR

Rev. H. F. Wright, pastor of Zion Baptist church, Rosman, was a Brevard visitor Wednesday. Rev. Wright, who came from South Carolina to Rosman several months ago, is an ardent booster for this section.

Be Completed By Christmas

WILL BE OF SOLID GREY STONE QUARRIED FROM NATIVE ROCK

The rebuilding of St. Philips Episcopal church, which was totally destroyed by fire last Christmas day, is well under way, with all excavation work finished and the basement practically completed. The structure, which will be erected at an approximate cost of $25,000, will be of solid grey stone quarried from native rock near Brevard.

The style of architecture of the edifice will be of the Norman period with a Norman tower. Leaded cathedral glass will ornament the windows, while the woodwork and ceiling will be of chestnut or oak and the roof of slate.

The drafted plans call for a structure 111 feet in length, 33 feet at the nave and 50 feet transepts. The seating capacity of the nave will be 200, and of the choir loft 35. The choir rooms will be in the basement, and a place provided for a pipe organ which will be installed at some later time. A part of the building will extend over the old cemetery, with easy access to the graves from within the structure.

It is the present intention that the church edifice will be completed by Christmas, and that the first service shall be the midnight service held on Christmas eve.

The building project is being financed almost entirely by the local church membership, many of the members giving freely of their time and efforts in furnishing expert knowledge regarding building plans, among whom is R. H. Morrow, who is giving his services as engineer; Tom Williams, of Penrose, is general foreman, and practically all the workmen are local men.

The church building committee is composed of the rector, Rev. Harry Perry, W. E. Breese, C. E. Orr, J. S. Bromfield, R. H. Morrow.

The committee on furnishings, being an appointed advisory committee to the Vestry, includes Mrs. H. N. Carrier, Mrs. O. L. Erwin and Mrs. J. S. Silversteen.

GEORGIA BANKER PRAISES BREVARD'S PROGRESSIVENESS

J. A. Moss, well known banker and business man of Tignall, Ga., who with his son, L. W. Moss, were Brevard visitors last week, dropped into the News office for a chat and while here gave voice to his admiration of the program of progress being carried out by Brevard.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE CLASS BOYS OFF ON FOUR-DAY TRIP

FOURTEEN IN BUNCH, LED BY GLAZENER AND HENDERSON

Fourteen boys of the agriculture department of the Brevard high school, accompanied by their teacher J. A. Glazener, and County Superintendent T. C. Henderson, left Monday on a four-day trip to the Indian Reservation in Swain county.

The purpose of the trip is partly for recreation and partly for instruction and observation.

In addition to observations made at the Indian reservation, the campers will also visit the creamery at Franklin, the Carolina creamery company at Asheville, and the Biltmore Estates dairy.

As part of the equipment in the camping outfit for the entertainment of the boys en route, will be a moving picture outfit completely furnished by the Harcold Motion Picture company, of New Orleans, which company furnishes three reels free.

Franklin, Sylva, Bryson City, Asheville, and several other places will be visited before the party returns on Thursday.

THE PRAYER CORNER

OUR COMPANION BY THE WAY

"They two went on" (Kings 2:6)
There are always the two—you and your Lord—going on together. We have union with Him in our common humanity. He wore a body such as ours. He became man. As my finger is united to my hand, so are we united to our Lord Jesus Christ. It is not a dream. We are dealing with an objective fact.

The body worn by the Son of God is, and ever will be the object of our most tender reverence. Behold my Hands and my Feet. Those sacred hands that blessed so many and harmed none—that were laid gently on the heads of little children, and consecrated with all the works and miracles of the "three and thirty years; those Sacred Hands that lifted up the Blessed Sacrament in the upper room at Jerusalem; those Sacred Hands that are still stretched forth in pardon, though we see them not.

And His Feet—as He moved about in Joseph's shop or fetched the water for His mother, Mary, from the well; the Sacred Feet that left their impress in the waves of Gallilee's lake and that the Magdalene bathed with her tears—those Feet, as they bore Him—the Elder Brother of the human race—on His missions of mercy and love. "How beautiful upon the mountains are the Feet of our Brother—that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace."

We were wounded in His Hands, and in His Feet. When we suffer pain we have union with Him. What a help it is to us, as life goes on, and in one way or another we are hurt, to be able to call to mind that our Elder Brother has been hurt too. "They pierced my Hands and my Feet." We are joint heirs with Christ, if so be that we suffer with Him. "They two went on."

A PRAYER TO OUR COMPANION BY THE WAY

O Thou Blessed Companion by the way, "Who art the same, yesterday, today and forever," leave us not nor forsake us, "for without Thee we can do nothing," but, with Paul's faith, we can do all things through Thee which strengtheneth us.

We bless Thee for Thy promise that Thou wilt be with us always. That Thy Sacred Hands that blessed so many and harmed none, that were laid so gently on the heads of little children, and consecrated all Thy works that were lifted up in blessing are still stretched forth in pardon, though we see them not.

We bless Thee, that Thy Feet, as they bore Thee, the Elder Brother of our race, on Thy missions of mercy and love, do still accompany with us in mercy and in love. O Thou Precious Companion by our way how beautiful upon the mountains are Thy Feet, Thou that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace to those that are far off and those that are nigh. In all our afflictions Thou art afflicted. If we suffer, Thou dost suffer with us.

Alone with Thee as our companion, O Friend Divine, Thou Friend of Friends, to us most dear, though all unknown, we feel Thee near, and with the love that knows no fear, we call Thee ours.

Alone with Thee, Thy grace, more sweet than music in the still twilight, more fresh than dews on Hermon's hill, our souls doth greet.

Alone with Thee, our softened hearts float on the flood of Love Divine—feel all their wishes drowned in Thine, content that every good is ours Thou canst impart.

So may it ever be with us till journey's end and the honor and the power and the glory shall be Thine O Thou Blessed Companion by the way, Amen.
