HAMLIN MADE FINE SHOWING IN RACE FOR U. S. OFFICE

His Opponent, Being one of State's Strong Men, Makes Mr. Hamlin's Vote an Outstanding Record

LARGE NUMBER FRIENDS ATTENDED THE MEETING Party Lines were Swept Aside in County as Citizens Worked for Mr. Hamlin's Appointment

With one of the strongest men in North Carolina as an opponent, Lewis P. Hamlin, Brevard lawyer and banker, made an excellent fight for the appointment of United States District attorney for the Western District of North Carolina, before the republican state executive committee in Greensboro last Thursday.

Charles E. Greene, of Bakersville, another contender for the honors, withdrew his name before the balloting began, leaving the contest between Mr. Hamlin and Mr. Harkins.

Ralph R. Fisher placed Mr. Hamlin in nomination and A. E. Hampton made the speech in seconding the presentation.
