

ROSMAN PEOPLE PROUD OF FINE RECORD MADE IN GREAT REVIVAL

200 CONVERTS IN THE TWO WEEKS' M'LENDON MEETING

All Incidental Expenses Promptly Paid By Rosman People, and a Purse of $1011 Given Mr. McLendon as Free Will Offering—Meeting Lasted Only Two Weeks, But Was Most Successful—All Ministers, Church Officials, Town Officials and Company Officials Worked Hand-in-Hand for Success of Meeting—Baptismal Services Next Sunday.

"Tell your readers that Rosman went over the top with the McLendon revival, which resulted in more than 200 converts and a still larger number of those who rededicated their lives to the cause of Christianity and Christ, and presented Cyclone Mack with a purse of $1,011 at the conclusion of his two weeks' meeting here," came telephone messages from Rosman citizens.

The meetings were held in the auditorium of the new high school, and Mr. McLendon had the enthusiastic support of the pastors of Rosman and the church leaders. The town officials and influential citizens made every effort for the success of the revival, and through this coordination Mr. McLendon pronounced it one of the most successful meetings ever held.

One big result of the campaign, according to telephone communications with various citizens of Rosman, is that of the elimination of factionalism and the settlement of personal differences that have existed to some extent in Rosman.

Mr. Jos. S. Silversteen cooperated with the meeting in every way, and it is said, made substantial donations both towards the incidental expenses and to Mr. McLendon's personal gift. Other members of the big industrial organization, headed by Mr. Silversteen, also worked faithfully, it is said, in every phase of the campaign.

Mayor Mahoney and members of the board of aldermen worked shoulder to shoulder, it is pointed out with pride, with those who were their opponents in the recent town election, and this fine spirit of cooperation is given much credit for the success of the revival.

Among those who were constantly in attendance at the meetings were Mr. C. R. McNeely and other citizens of the Lake Toxaway section, and all these, it is said, labored in the revival.

At the closing service Sunday night the big auditorium was packed, the doors and windows filled with those listening to Mack's last sermon, while large numbers of people left the grounds because they could not get inside nor near any vantage point where they could hear the sermon. All who were Christians were asked to stand, and fully four-fifths of the large crowd stood and testified to their Christian lives. A gentleman from South Carolina was heard to remark, "I would love to live in this community where the spiritual life claims this large percentage of the population."

The Methodist and Baptist churches are preparing to receive large numbers next Sunday. The Baptists will conduct baptismal services at the forks of the river just previous to the church services next Sunday. "Rosman, the religious city," was suggested by some as a new slogan for the town, which has been slandered many, many times in the past. While still another slogan is, "Rosman is right."

Practically all the citizens of the town are highly elated over the success of the revival, which paid its incidental expenses and made an unusual free-will offering to the great evangelist, under whose preaching and pleading more than 200 converts were added to the great army of the Lord.

KIWANIS BARBECUE WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Mr. Shipman's Camp Was Scene of Most Enjoyable Meeting—90 Per Cent Present

Many efforts will have been made before the Brevard Kiwanis club has a more enjoyable or successful meeting than that staged last Thursday evening at the mountain camp of Mr. Thomas H. Shipman, on the Pickens highway. It was "Ladies' Night," and preparations had been made for an attendance of fifty people, including the ladies. When the crowd assembled about eighty answered to the roll call. As an indication of the thoroughness of the preparations, this larger number was well cared for, and several baskets of surplus food was sent to the county home, with compliments of the club for the inmates of that institution.

Sam Allison, well known caterer, assisted by Bill Barrett, cooked the barbecue dinner, which was pronounced good, and evidenced by the way the people relished the repast. Mrs. Shipman was hostess to the ladies, and with her husband, was given a rising vote of thanks at the conclusion of the program.

The club voted to assist physicians of the county in entertaining a group of eminent physicians who are to be in Brevard at an early date. Request for this cooperation came from Miss Martha Boswell, representing the County Hospital association.

As it was Rev. O. L. Simpson's last Kiwanis meeting here, before his departure for Nashville, tributes were paid to him as pastor, citizen, friend and Kiwanian. It was said that Oscar Simpson's residence in Brevard, and his activities in the club, would leave an influence here that would never die. Regret was expressed over losing the popular pastor, yet the club rejoiced with him in the larger opportunities that will be his new work.

Prof. J. B. Jones, principal of High school; Prof. Shore, principal of the Elementary school, and Prof. Winton, superintendent of the Brevard Institute, were present and made most interesting talks.

The club will meet next Thursday evening at Mrs. McMinn's home on Caldwell street at 7 o'clock, and it is expected every member will be present.

JOINES BUYS TWO HOUSES IN BREVARD

S. R. Joiner, who recently purchased the Ford Motor agency from the Lowe Motor company, purchased two houses this week, one on Jordan street from Jud McCrary. Mr. Joiner will move his family into this house about the first of the month. Mr. Joiner bought an adjoining house and lot from R. E. Scripps as an investment.

PUSHELL'S STORE IN BANKRUPTCY

Action Taken to Protect Creditors. Says Mr. Pushell—Was Popular Place of Business

Pushell's Department store was placed in voluntary bankruptcy on Monday by Luther Pushell, owner and manager of the concern. Mr. Pushell states that this course was pursued in order to protect his creditors. These proceedings were taken in the bankruptcy court, before F. W. Thomas, of Asheville, referee. A meeting of the creditors will be called at an early date and a trustee selected to wind up the affairs of the concern.

Pushell's, beginning business in Brevard as Jerome and Pushell nearly six years ago, has enjoyed a splendid growth. Mr. Jerome sold his interest to Mr. Pushell about two years ago, when the firm name was changed to Pushell's. Plans for expansion were made when the Western Carolina was enjoying its tremendous prosperity. These plans failed, in part, to materialize, and this is thought to be one cause of the firm's embarrassment during the period of readjustment.

Mr. Pushell and his wife, who assisted him in the business, have made numerous friends in the county, who sympathize with him in his trouble, and many have been heard to express the hope that the Pushells will manage their affairs so as to continue to live in Brevard.

REVIVAL SERVICES AT PISGAH FOREST

Revival services started last Sunday at the Pisgah Forest Baptist church, conducted by Evangelist M. E. Summey, assisted by the pastor, Rev. H. F. Wright. Two services are being held daily, at 2:30 in the afternoon and at 7:45 each evening.

Much interest is being manifested in the meetings, good preaching is being heard at each service, and people from various sections of the county are in attendance.

NEW BUILDING FOR WHITMIRE MOTOR CO.

Work has been started on the new business building on Main street adjoining the Whitmire Motor Sales company. J. L. Whitmire, assistant cashier of the Pisgah Bank, purchased the vacant lot and is erecting the building at an estimated cost of $10,000. The Whitmire Motor Sales company have taken a long lease on the building, which is to be finished by January 1, and will move their Chevrolet business into the new building at that time.

DR. O. J. CHANDLER TO PREACH SUNDAY

The Rev. O. J. Chandler, D. D., who is appointed by Bishop Edwin D. Mounzon to fill the pulpit made vacant by the Rev. O. L. Simpson, comes to us from Central Methodist church of Asheville, where for the past five years he has been associate pastor. Dr. Chandler came to North Carolina from Lexington, Kentucky.

In Lexington he was pastor for four years of the First Methodist church which is the largest church in the Kentucky Conference. He was forced to give up active work for a time on account of ill health and came to Asheville for the purpose of regaining his strength. He has lived in Asheville eleven years during which time he has been intimately associated with the work of the churches of his denomination there.

Dr. Chandler has also been very much in demand as a speaker on special occasions. He is very popular with the people of all the churches in Asheville. He is a great favorite with the young people of Asheville, irrespective of church affiliation, and while he has been associated with Central church for these number of years yet no one draws a larger crowd at Central than Dr. Chandler.

Many members of the Asheville Kiwanis club will attend services at the local church next Sunday morning. Mr. Chandler is a Kiwanian.

DR. RANKIN SPEAKS HERE NEXT MONDAY

Under Auspices County Hospital Committee—Meeting at Baptist Church—All Invited

Women from every section of Transylvania county are expected to attend the meeting of the Hospital Committee which will convene promptly at 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon. Dr. W. S. Rankin, noted physician and head of the Duke Endowment, will be the principal speaker. It will be recalled that Dr. Rankin visited Brevard several weeks ago and delivered an address to the Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis club. At that time it was decided to ask Dr. Rankin to return to the county when he could and speak to the people generally. The meeting next Monday is the regular monthly meeting of the county hospital committee, to which all people, men and women are invited.

Dr. Rankin's address will be of tremendous value to the people of Transylvania county, and the ministers in all the churches of the county are urged by the hospital committee to make announcement from their pulpits during the Sunday services of the meeting to be held Monday afternoon at the Baptist church. Women from all sections of the county are especially urged to attend the meeting to hear Dr. Rankin. It had been the intention of the committee to hold the meeting in the Chamber of Commerce room, but so much interest has already been aroused in the coming event that lack of room to hold the expected crowds caused the committee to make arrangements for use of the Brevard Baptist church instead.

Miss Martha Boswell, chairman of the county hospital committee, will gladly furnish any detailed information desired. In talking with The Brevard News, Miss Boswell stressed the fact that while this is primarily a meeting for the ladies of the county that she and all members of the committee are nevertheless anxious that every man who can possibly do so will attend the meeting also.

KIWANIS CLUB TO HOLD MEET TONIGHT

Kiwanians will meet at Mrs. McMinn's (Thursday) evening at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Shore and Miss Call, the club's new pianist and song leader, will have charge of the musical program. This meeting will be devoted largely to the industrial program as mapped out for the club for Transylvania county. It is hoped that all of the members will attend the meeting.

PRODUCE COMPANY BUYING BIG LOTS

Farmers and Dairymen Bringing in Produce From Every Section of the County

(By L. A. AMMON)
Three more customers brought in cream Saturday, and the total for the day was 22 gallons. This, compared with twelve on Tuesday. Tuesdays and Saturdays have been set as days to bring in the cream.

Mr. F. H. Holden, of Pisgah Forest, brought in a sample of cream, and had it tested to find out how rich in butter it was. Then he went back home and weighed out his cream and churned, and afterwards "left in," we might say, the butter was seventeen percent more than he would have gotten without the churning. This question Mr. Holden is trying to decide is whether it will pay to churn or not. He figures that two and one-half percent of his butter, he was not able to churn loose, and that this should be figured when you talk of churning, and those who churn whole milk will lose still more.

When two or three along a road have started to sell, the company has promised to aid in getting some one of the crowd to bring in the cream for others. Get in the game and let's put the farmers side of this game over, and make some money doing it.

Do not put out much money for cows unless you can produce at least eighty percent of their feed on the farm.

Whole milk brings around 32 cents per gallon wholesale in milk centers. This is considerably better than that market without first starting with cream, as that is the history of all such producing sections.

The Creamery and Produce store is handling considerable stuff, running over three hundred dollars the first week. This week's prices are: Potatoes, $1; globe turnips quickly grown, beagies, and carrots, $1 per bushel. Tomatoes are most out of the game at 75c per bushel. Onions, five cents per pound, peppers 75 cents per bushel, and butter fat 40 cents per pound.

We are hurrying to move cabbage, as they are ahead of what we expected, and the outside markets are glutted from Virginia and New York. The best price offered anywhere in the South is two cents per pound, and by the time you crate them and pay express, the local company would lose money if you were to give the cabbage to them. The truck and across the mountains is the only hope.

Beans, too, are some earlier than expected, and the Piedmont section is just now going off the market, and better selling is hoped for by the local time this reaches you. The local price of five cents per pound is more than they can pay and ship to any other market than their own headquarters, and what their own seven stores can use, otherwise they must sell to the ones who have been buying from and these men must have a profit. If the volume gets large they will go down to four cents, that they may be shipped to farther markets, as such markets wire that they have a good opening for our first class beans.

Again, the market does not buy beans such as homefolk like best. Only a very small bean inside is wanted, just what farmers call slabs. The big reason is that when full beans are shipped, and several days elapse before they reach market, the full ones are turning yellow, and will shell out as hard beans. They cannot handle just what the people want for this reason. So in picking beans for the market, select the slabs that look about full grown in size as to width and length, but showing only a reasonable bump for the bean.

Turnips of the long kind are the only ones wanted, and not say over four inches in size. Same for beagies.

Many are watching prices, and are now fearing on what they will grow next year. The list as I see it is: Potatoes, yes lots of them; turnips to a limited extent, same for beagies except those planted to come in after frost, and sold during winter. Carrots, not much demand of growing, but must be harvested just so, and sold in a few hours to the ones to let a special few do. These kinds are for the gambler, and a gambling market to handle.

The store will not attempt to handle dressed hogs until cooler weather, as it is too late for a cold storage this year, and they must be cooled before shipping to Hickory. Plan for fat hogs all winter.

WOODMEN IN JOINT MEETING WITH CIRCLE

Woodmen of the World and the Woodmen Circle held a joint meeting Monday night in the Masonic hall, at which time plans were discussed for the winter's work. Rev. W. H. Hartsell made an interesting talk and urged the men and women of the two organizations to work hard for the advancement of Brevard and Transylvania county, and urged each one to make his or her full contribution to the community.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO LEAD FIGHT FOR FARM AGENT

SIMPSON GONE TO NEW FIELD OF LABOR

Paid High Tribute to Brevard—Farewell Sermons Were Full of Tender Pathos

Rev. O. L. Simpson, who has served as pastor of the Brevard Methodist church for the past ten months, left on Tuesday, accompanied by Mrs. Simpson and their four little boys, for their new home in Nashville, Tenn., where Mr. Simpson will assume at once his newly elected duties as assistant editor of the General Sunday School Board of the M. E. Church, South.

In an interview with a representative of The Brevard News just prior to his departure, Mr. Simpson paid high tribute to the members of his congregation and to the people of the community in general for their many expressions of cordial hospitality shown to himself and to Mrs. Simpson during their brief stay in Brevard, and expressed himself as greatly appreciative of the splendid cooperation and loyal spirit manifest not only among the people of his congregation, but of the other denominations as well. "The ties of friendship formed among the many splendid, enlightened Christian people of Brevard," says Mr. Simpson, "will remain as among the most pleasant memories of our sojourn of a few months in this beautiful section of Western North Carolina."

Rev. Mr. Simpson delivered his two farewell sermons on Sunday before large and attentive audiences, his sermons on both occasions being of an unusually inspiring and impressive nature. At the morning hour of worship, the communion service was held, at which an unusually large number of church members participated. In behalf of the board of trustees of the church, Mr. Oliver Orr spoke in a few well-chosen and well-deserved words at the morning service of the high esteem in which the church members held Mr. Simpson and of their sincere appreciation of his successful and efficient labors among them, rejoicing with him in his promotion to new and larger field of labors, and predicting for him a great future in the work of the church and the cause of religion.

NEGRO SLASHED YOUNG WHITE MAN

Much excitement was created last Wednesday night when Fred Gash, colored, slashed Clarence Stamey, young white man, with a razor across the face. The incident occurred on Main street, near the Brevard bank, and after slashing the white man, it is said, the negro ran across the street pursued by several men who had been attracted by the melee. The negro made his getaway, and has not been captured.

Young Stamey was taken to the Transylvania hospital, where Dr. Thos. J. Summey dressed the wounds. The cut went clear through the side of his face, from mouth almost to the ear, barely missing the throat.

CITY TAX RATE IS GREATLY REDUCED

Reduction of the city tax rate from $2 to $1.30 on the hundred by the town council has brought joy to the hearts of the tax payers of Brevard. It was only by determination to practice the most rigid economy in town affairs that the council was able to make this reduction in town taxes, and officials state that the citizens of the town must cooperate with authorities, especially in demands for improvements.

It was pointed out at the meeting of the council that Brevard's paving program is away ahead of the growth of the town and that no other town in the world has more paved streets and sidewalks to the population than has Brevard. It is believed that with the improvements already made in the town that the lower tax rate will suffice for a few years.

JACKSONVILLE MAN WELL PLEASED WITH THIS SECTION

G. D. Perkins of Jacksonville, Fla., who with Mrs. Perkins have been spending some time at Brevard, with Mrs. Fred Maxwell at Kum Inn, expressed his delight with this section upon leaving last week, and announced his intention of purchasing a summer home here in the near future. Mr. Perkins is rated as a business man of high standing in his home city and would be an addition to Brevard.

Great Progress Being Made by Y & B. Corporation in Buying Farm Produce Is Discussed

FARMERS URGED TO WRITE LETTERS

Petitions To Be Circulated Among Farmers, Urging Commissioners To Keep Farm Agent's Office

In view of the great progress being made by the cash produce market and creamery recently established here by the Y. & B. Corporation, directors of the Chamber of Commerce declared at Tuesday night's meeting that a farm agent is absolutely essential to the success of the farmers of the county. A committee was appointed to begin circulation of petitions all over the county in which the commissioners will be urged at their next meeting to rescind their recent action, and continue the office of farm agent.

All members of the board of directors were named as committee to carry these petitions before the commissioners on the first Monday in October, and urge the commissioners to continue the office.

The office of farm agent was discontinued recently, to take effect on the first of December, this year. It is hoped to induce the county authorities to change this order, and continue the office.

"Talk about your factories all you want," said C. C. Yongue, expert farmer, "but I want to tell you that the biggest and best thing that could be brought to Transylvania is that cash market and creamery which is now operating here. Those fellows have already bought, paid for and shipped more farm produce than I thought was in the whole county. They have scattered more money over Transylvania county than any factory would have done," continued Mr. Yongue.

All members agreed with this expression, and each pledged to do all in their power to help the movement grow and prosper, to the end that the farmers of the county shall always have a cash market for the produce.

Farmers of the county are urged to express themselves through the columns of The Brevard News on the question of retaining the farm agent. As the county pays only $900 and the state pays $1600 of the farm agent's salary, it seems to some a real tragedy to dispense with this work just now. It is hoped the farmers will write letters to The Brevard News, stating their views on the question of the farm agent. The farm agent is in direct touch with the market, the kinds of crops to grow for quick sale, when to plant and when to harvest and market; the same is true of the creamery and poultry business. Hence the need just now of an experienced man in the field to serve the farmers, so they can get best results from the opportunity offered through the cash market here.

It was decided to employ an office assistant to work four months in the Chamber of Commerce and begin right now pulling for next season, both from the standpoint of tourists and in an effort to locate some industries in this section.

BREVARD BOY IN ST. PETERSBURG BAND

Edwin Saltz, a former Brevard boy who has recently become a member of the Masonic Lodge of St. Petersburg, Fla., has been elected to membership in the saxophone band of that organization. The band is composed of about 50 members, representing some of the most prominent families of that city, and is said to be the first all-saxophone band in the state of Florida. He has also been made one of the class leaders of the Masonic order, which is considered quite an honor for one so young in years and in Masonic membership.

Young Edwin has held a responsible position in St. Petersburg for the past several years and has made good both in his chosen line of work and in other forms of community and church activities in the Sunning City.

SCIENTISTS ON VISIT IN TRANSYLVANIA

Dr. Edgar T. Wherry, of the bureau of chemistry of the Agriculture Department, Washington, D. C., and Dr. Pennell, of the Philadelphia Academy of Science, visited Brevard last week in quest of the botanical species of the Chelone, or Turtle Head. While in Brevard these gentlemen were guests of Miss Kathleen Erwin, who has been the hostess of many of the most prominent scientists and their families who have been visiting Brevard.
