SHOOT THE MOON ON PLANTING IRISH POTATOES

Corn Promises Good Prices—Cattle Held For Higher Market—Pigs Holding Up Well

(By L. A. AMMON)
In conference with the W. S. Ashworth and Sons, Monday, they said tell the farmers that they would handle corn for the farmer in car lots as they did last spring. Only a question of time till the corn is dry enough to stand piling up in a thousand bushel heap. Usually the last of December, depending on the amount of dry weather.
The small commission charged in selling this way, is the cheapest way of handling the crop, that could be devised, and the farmers are getting the benefit of the low cost of handling.

Efforts are being made to sell a few cars of large corn for silage purposes, in the Northern states. The Clough farm has sold through the Home office, several cars very well pleased with our corn. It even matures in long season years, and also gives them a larger stalk than it does here at home.

The large 84 pound pumpkin, the one hill of sweet potatoes that weighs 10 pounds, and the 46 potatoes that weigh 6 pounds, are attracting considerable attention, down at the produce store. The Irish potatoes are unusually nice for such large ones, and Mr. Will McKelvey says the yield was just as good, and proves his seed by the results of the seed sold to Mr. H. L. Allison where one-fourth acre made better than seventy-five bushels.

Some are not sure of what to do about a large acreage of potatoes for next year, if Mr. Yongue and Mr. Withers do not contract. My say is shoot the moon, as there were times when twenty cars could have been sold in one week. We have shipped out ten cars this year, so I hardly think you will go over thirty cars next year, due to the natural hampers around sudden expansions, so what you grow, could be sold during a two weeks period, and you have six weeks in which to sell. See no reason why the price should not be as good as the past year.

Corn Futures
General opinion of the future of corn, is that it will be some above 1927. Perhaps from ten to fifteen cents per bushel. Many things go into the reasons why, but it looks reasonable to expect corn to be up some.

Pigs
The future for pigs is placed around the same as 1927, and as yet no particular reason why there should be a serious fall in price. December's breeding will be the test. As it is, you are safe on going ahead till April is over at least.

Cattle
Cattle are being held on pasture, as pastures are much better this year, and a rush to market is expected soon, and a slump is expected, but the number in the U. S. is slightly low, and no big drop expected.

OVERHEAD BRIDGE FOR BAD CROSSING

Word has been received at Brevard that an overhead bridge will be built at the Neill crossing on the railroad between Brevard and Pisgah Forest. For many years has been the cause of considerable anxiety on the part of the people who had to use the crossing.

Several weeks ago when the Kiwanis club met with Captain Bill Feltzer at Camp Sapphire, the club was asked to use its influence in having the overhead bridge built there, Captain Feltzer and other camp officials stating that they feared for the safety of the young people who spend the summer in the camp on that side of the railroad.

Thos. H. Shipman was named chairman of the committee to see the Southern Railway officials and induce them to build an overhead bridge at that place. It is reported that the efforts have been successful and that the bridge will be built at an early date.
