

EAST FORK NEWS

Rev. M. Ruffy preached at East Fork M. E. church Sunday, filling his regular appointment at this church.

Mr. Dock Hubbard and family have moved to Upper East Fork.

Mr. Jule Reynolds is putting up a furniture shop.

Dr. Cannon, of Pickens, S. C., was on East Fork Sunday. He has several patients on East Fork.

The school bus still makes its daily trip to Rosman, though sometimes it is late getting there and sometimes it's late getting home.

Folks on East Fork are trying a stunt in economy. The men take just half as much tobacco for a chew as they used to, and the smokers half their cigarettes, and they are saving on gas now and doing some walking, and lots of them are wearing darned socks. The ladies are cutting out lip-sticks and high priced face powder, and letting their hair grow out. Some of the mothers thought Sonny would have to have new overalls weeks ago, but by taking the best parts of Dad's old ones, and some nice patchwork—the overalls are still doing service. Sometimes Sissy has to go to bed early in order to have a clean dress for school next day. Our faces all look shiny like we had used laundry soap for cleansing cream. The men do not shave but every two or three weeks, thereby saving some shaving cream;— We're very saving these days, and it's all to try to get our taxes paid.

Oh, yes, we are going to pay them this year, some how or some way, and next year we aim to see that our property is valued at not over one hundred per cent, and we don't aim to pay over that if it is.

The thing that hurts us is that a big percent goes to roads and we haven't been able to get to a road in so long we've forgotten just how one looks, but never mind—we've had a vision and sometime way on in a far-off day we firmly believe there will be some places widened in our East Fork-Rosman road where cars can actually pass without backing for a long way till you can back out in some old road. Now wouldn't that be fine. When folks can start out down that road and say "Well, let 'em come—we know of at least a dozen pass places and that beats three all to pieces.

Now we aren't fussing about mud because we're used to mud—but we do need, actually need a few wide places in the road.

THE PRAYER CORNER

"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path"—Psalm 119:105.

If we would learn patience, charity, kindness, humility and forbearance, let us study the Bible this year of 1923.

In it are helps for all our needs, balms for all our ills, and comforts for all our distresses.

It teaches us how to walk, that our steps may go in the right direction; it tells us how to order our conversation aright; it educates our souls for the sacred school of Eternity, and on its grand strong promises we may rest our hopes of Heaven.

It is a comfort when other comforts fail, a stronghold in danger, and temptation, and a light in darkness. If we live by the teachings of the Bible, our lives will be full of quiet content and true happiness and our inheritance shall be a crown of rejoicing.

"The Bible, that's the Book, the Book indeed,

The Book of Books

On which who looks,

As he should do, aright, shall never need

Wish for a better light

To guide him in the night.

It is the index to Eternity;

He cannot miss

Of endless bliss

That takes this chart to steer his voyage by,

Nor can he be mistook

That speaketh by this Book."

A PRAYER FOR GOD'S WORD

Revealer, Guide, Encourager, Confirmer of purpose and of power, the Truth is Thine and of Thee, and Thou alone canst lead us into it. The Way is Thine—and to Thee—and Thou alone canst direct us in it. The hope is Thine—and for Thee—and Thou alone canst assure us of it. Will and Strength are of Thy creation, formed to bend toward Thee, and Thou alone knowest how to uphold them.

Speak to us, Infinite Friend, out of these leaves of the past. Make each one of them vital with Thy Voice. Make each one of them personal to our need. Take of the things of Christ and show them to us.

Be our memory, Thou mindful Spirit. Be our Redeemer, Thou that never failest. Be our confidence Thou that seest the end from the beginning, and beyond these tempests of temptation, the meadows of Heaven. In Thy name of Majesty and Love, Amen.
