

KIWANIS KORNER

Being a Brief Narrative of the Activities of the Brevard Kiwanis Club

Brevard Kiwanians were given a real treat last Thursday, when Prof. H. E. Boucher, Miss Eva Jo Lockman and others from the Brevard Institute gave a program that was pronounced one of the best ever witnessed by the local club.

Rev. Wallace Hartsell has charge of the program today (Thursday), and many men will sing who have never even tried to sing before.

Kiwanis meetings are unusually good now, and those attending all agree that the luncheon period is an hour well spent.

INSTITUTE NOTES

Miss Lillie Hendricks, former dean of girls, is in Birmingham, Alabama, where she underwent a successful operation. Mrs. Minnie Cochran has taken her place as dean.

Miss Esther Boggs has returned from Nashville, Tenn., where she went to see several expert physicians. Her health is improving.

Miss Marjorie Beard accompanied Miss Boggs to Nashville and visited her brother while there.

Miss Emma Cochran of the Sophomore class, left school last week because of ill health. She is planning to return for the summer session.

Miss Julia Lee, student in the Commercial Department, left school Sunday. She will make her home with her sister.

The students were all very pleased when they saw Supt. Winton return from Asheville with a new car.

Ten laughs in ten minutes: KIDDY LAND.

B. UM SAYS:

This is what UM saw: I was up on the street the other day and saw a man with his mouth tied up. And I wondered what it was for, then I thought of what happened to horses and dogs and other animals when they had their mouths fenced up for good reasons. Then I thought if it helped animals to wear a muzzle why not people, for some people let their mouths run until they say just any old thing. Now what I am thinking about is: who will put the muzzle on them.

No, thank you, this little Mouse will not bell the Cat.

FINE FISH DROWNS IN BIG FISH POND

So many people have been accused of lying when telling of anything about a fish, that it is with fear and trepidation that we relate an affair that is vouched for by many good citizens here. Our informants vow it is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

James S. Bromfield, chief of the fire department, coal dealer, ice manufacturer, transfer operator, head of the telephone system, past president of the Chamber of Commerce, and so on, has a fish pond what is a fish pond. Thousands and thousands of the prettiest trout ever seen are in that pond, having been reared from infancy under the personal supervision of Mr. Bromfield. He is proud of his possessions, and it is something that any man might well be proud of.

Now for the narrative: There was one large, beautiful fish in that pond which Mr. Bromfield always picked up out of the water to show to his friends. It was his pet, his favorite. Time came when he would put this particular fish in his pocket and carry it about with him.

One day Mr. Bromfield was starting to Asheville. He felt the pet fish in his pocket and took it out, walked down to the edge of the pond and threw his pet into the water.

Now the sad part comes. This particular trout had become so accustomed to living out of the water, that it drowned that night after Mr. Bromfield had placed it back in the pond.

Ask John Smith, or Jerry Jerome, or any other fish friends about here. They are the ones who started this tale, and if it is false, jump on them about it.

THANKS TO OUR FRIENDS.

The editor of The Brevard News and his family are enjoying Irish potatoes these days. Our good friend, Judson McCrary, sent us a bushel of fine potatoes, for which we are truly grateful.

Judge Robert L. Gash killed a fine porker this week, and he brought us some of the finest home-made sausage a man ever smacked his lips over. Thanks, gentlemen, thanks!

MANUFACTURE OF CORN SUGAR AIDS FARM PROSPERITY

CHICAGO.—Use of corn in the manufacture of sugar and allied products is helping to solve the problem of creating a profitable cash market for the surplus corn production of America's 6,000,000 farms.

Of 2,776,000,000 bushels of corn grown on American farms every year, 87 1/2 per cent is used for feeding live stock. The other 12 1/2 per cent finds its way to the markets, where the price is set which determines the value of the entire corn crop, according to Jay Chapin, secretary of the Associated Corn Products Manufacturers.

"The corn products industry is using 85,000,000 bushels of American grown corn every year," said Mr. Chapin. "Of this about 30 per cent goes into the manufacture of corn sugar. If this great quantity of corn were not used for sugar making it would have to be exported and take its chances for profit in the world market in competition with foreign corn produced at a lower cost than American farmers can produce the crop."

"Greater development of the corn sugar industry would be to the interest of every American farmer growing corn. It would increase the market for his surplus corn, tend to stabilize the prices and add millions of dollars annually to the nation's farm revenue. Elimination of the present discrimination in the federal regulations against corn sugar used in commercial canning and preserving would be an important step in this direction. The use of corn sugar in manufactured food products without being so labeled should be no more of an impairment of the nation's pure food laws than the use of beet or cane sugar for such purposes. The American Farm Bureau Federation recently went on record at its annual convention with resolutions urging that 'corn sugar be given its rightful place in the trade practices of the nation and so provide an increased market for one of our staple crops.'"

"The corn products industry is using 85,000,000 bushels of American grown corn every year," said Mr. Chapin. "Of this about 30 per cent goes into the manufacture of corn sugar. If this great quantity of corn were not used for sugar making it would have to be exported and take its chances for profit in the world market in competition with foreign corn produced at a lower cost than American farmers can produce the crop."

Well Good People The Time Has Come

We told you some time ago that we would carry our subscribers who are in arrears just as long as we could. Now the time has come when there is nothing for us to do but to collect on the subscriptions due us, or cut down the number of papers we print. Those who are behind with their payments now owe us the sum of

TWO THOUSAND AND SIXTY DOLLARS

We owe notes, interest and paper bills that MUST BE PAID AT ONCE if we are to continue publication. This is no exaggeration—it is the plain fact.

YOU NEEDN'T PAY IT ALL—

Some of you are behind quite a bit. We know the times are hard with most people, so we suggest that you pay only one dollar now, or fifty cents, if the dollar is needed in the home. All of you who owe, by paying only one dollar, or even fifty cents each, will work wonders for us in paying off our pressing bills. Of course, those who can do so, will be doing us a great favor by paying up in full on their subscriptions.

PLEASE DO NOT PUT THIS MATTER OFF.

This call is imperative, because we really and truly need, and must have, the money that is due us. Quick action, too, is necessary. So please attend to this matter at once, and render great assistance to YOUR paper.
