No. 16.

MANY ENTRIES FOR PLACES ON BOARD

Eleven Names Suggested For Aldermen on the Democratic Ticket.

THREE SUGGESTED FOR THE MAYOR'S OFFICE

Republicans File Complete Ticket, Headed by D. L. English for Mayor.

Judging from the large number of entries being made for the office of mayor and board of aldermen on the Democratic side, with the Republicans placing a full ticket in the town race, the election in Brevard this year is going to have all the appearance of a real political campaign. Three names have been entered for the office of mayor by the democrats, while one name has been listed by the Republicans.

The present mayor, T. W. Whitmire, has been presented by his friends for nomination in the primary on the 29th, while others have entered the names of J. S. Bromfield and Ralph H. Ramsey for the mayoralty nomination. Mayor Whitmire is in his completion of his second term. Mr. Bromfield is one of the most active business men of the town. Mr. Ramsey is a lawyer, and is considered one of the strongest young men of the town.

D. L. English, veteran lawyer and Republican leader, will head the Republican ticket, and contest the nomination on the Democratic ticket for chief magistrate of the Town of Brevard.

Following names have been entered in the Democratic primary for places on the board of aldermen:

Fred Johnson, S. M. Macfie, Clyde Ashworth, A. B. Trantham, H. L. Wilson, J. E. Waters, W. M. Mull, R. P. Kirkpatrick, W. M. Henry, Dick Zachary, F. D. Clement. Messrs. Trantham, Wilson, Waters, Kirkpatrick and Henry are the present aldermen.

The Republican ticket as filed is as follows:

For mayor, D. L. English; for aldermen: Judson McCrary, B. J. Sinton, J. A. Simpson, R. E. Stokes and W. H. Grogan, Jr.

Several other names had been filed for places, subject to the Democratic primary, but requested their names be not considered or published.

Error was made by the city attorney, it is said, in giving the dates of the town primary and election, and the last day of filing notice of candidacy for town offices. The Brevard News had stated in the announcement previously published, that the last day for filing was on the 15th, and the date of the primary would be on the 25th.

The law says that the primary shall be held on Monday, April 29, and the election one week later. The last day for filing notice of candidacy will be on Friday, the 19th.

MISS HARTSELL TO HEAD DEPARTMENT

The following clipping from "The Twig," official organ of the student body of Meredith College, Raleigh, will be of interest to many people in the community, and elsewhere:

"The student body of Meredith College has recently elected Miss Emma Hartsell, of Brevard, N. C., director of the Sunday School department for next year. In electing Emma to this office the girls are conferring upon her an honor and a responsibility, for the Sunday School department is the largest religious organization on the campus. Emma's talents of leadership, her charming personality, and her deep consecration assure for the Sunday School department a successful year. Miss Hartsell is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Wallace Hartsell.

LOCAL CONCERN IN NATIONAL PAPERS

"Hoosier Ginger," a weekly paper published by the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet people and distributed throughout the country, carried an interesting article in a recent issue concerning the successful methods employed by the Houston Furniture Company, of Brevard, in conducting a cabinet sale. Mr. Houston had prepared a chart, on which was placed the names of all his salesmen, and the competitive spirit resulted in a banner week for the Houston store. The chart was reproduced in the national magazine, and Brevard and the Houston store were given wide publicity.

During the sale the local concern sold 74 Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets in six days.

Another sale on Hoosier cabinets is announced for beginning next Saturday, and Mr. Houston and his salesmen are confident this sale will even eclipse that one which was given such high praise in the national magazine. A full page advertisement in this issue of the Brevard News tells of the sale, and of the big free gift of aluminumware to be given with each cabinet sold.

VERNER CHOSEN TO HEAD THE SCHOOLS

T. C. Henderson Fails of Re-appointment in Monday's Board Session.

ACTION OF BOARD WAS BIG SURPRISE TO MANY

New County Superintendent Is Man With Varied Experiences.

Upsetting all calculations of the friends of T. C. Henderson, the county board of education last Monday elected Prof. S. P. Verner as head of the county schools. Mr. Henderson has been county superintendent for the past eighteen years, and the schools of the county have made great changes under his long administration.

The new superintendent, Prof. Verner, has been teaching school at Connessee for the past seven years, and is considered one of the most highly educated men in Western North Carolina. Before coming to Brevard, Prof. Verner was in South America for many years as representative of the United States, being attached to the consular service. He is a writer of note, and many articles of his have been published in the leading newspapers and magazines of the United States.

Mr. Henderson is a native Transylvanian, and belongs to one of the most highly respected and influential families in the county. It is said that Mr. Henderson has an unusually high standing at Raleigh as a county school official, being considered by the state department as one of the foremost men in all the state among county superintendents.

It is believed that the change in the school heads was caused by pressure brought to bear upon the school board by those citizens of the county who feel that Mr. Henderson is largely to blame for the increased cost of the schools in Transylvania county. No criticism was made of his administration of the school affairs, it being the expressed belief of the board that he has done wonders in the cause of education in this county.

It is known that one member of the board was anxious for the re-election of Mr. Henderson, while two members were for making a change, in order to comply with the wishes, which they said, had been expressed by the citizens and tax payers of the county.

It is an evident fact that the new board will follow the lines of economy to the very limit. This was given evidence in the meeting Monday when members of the board searched the new school law in studying its provisions, and looking for every place where money might be saved in the operation of the schools of the county.

Mr. Verner was quoted as having said that he would be satisfied to do the work of county superintendent for the actual pay allowed by the new state law for a county of such population as that of Transylvania county. It is expected also that the new superintendent will not have a full time office clerk, but have assistance only upon meeting days and special occasions.

REVIVAL ENDS IN GREAT GATHERING

Concluding service of the two weeks' revival meeting of the Brevard Methodist Church was held Sunday night with practically every available seat in the church auditorium and the annex occupied on this occasion. The Baptist congregation disbanded for this service, and many from this church and other denominations attended regularly during the special meetings.

Excellent sermons were preached by the pastor, Rev. A. L. Aycock, throughout the two-week period, and much interest was manifested and a good attendance in evidence at each service. It is felt that great good to the church and community will result from this special series of meetings.

Several additions to the church have already been made, and it is expected that a number of others will unite with the church either by profession of faith or by letter at an early date. An impressive baptismal service for babies was held at the Sunday morning hour of worship.

A special feature of the meetings was the splendid response given the pastor in his call at each service for the number of chapters in the Bible that had been read and for those who had prayed since last meeting together. The response was considered gratifying, thereby evidencing the fact that prayer and Bible reading are not forgotten things of the past.

HOLDS REVIVAL

Rev. Wallace Hartsell, pastor of the Brevard Baptist Church, is conducting a ten-day revival meeting at the Kings Mountain Baptist Church, the series of meetings beginning last Sunday.

Mr. Hartsell will fill his Brevard pulpit Sunday morning as usual, but a supply preacher will be secured for the Sunday night service, it is understood.

Rev. Dr. Chalmers D. Chapman

Beloved citizen who celebrated his 84th anniversary last Sunday. Dr. Chapman is author of "The Prayer Corner" appearing each week in The Brevard News, which is pronounced by many readers as their favorite article in this newspaper. The day was quietly celebrated, yet many friends called to congratulate Dr. Chapman and thank him for the great help he had been to them during the past year.

The association voted to assume the health seal work for next year, with Miss Florence Kern as chairman. B. & P. WOMEN HEAR OFFICIAL REPORTS

April meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club was held Monday night at the Pierce-Moore Hotel with a good attendance of members present.

Following the splendid supper served by the hotel management, the club was honored by the presence of members of the toy orchestra, who delighted those present with selections, accompanied by Miss Call at the piano, with little Helen Galloway, as director of the orchestra.

A business session was held following the program, at which time matters of importance to the club were transacted. It was voted to hold the May meeting as strictly a business session and to dispense with the supper feature for this meeting. At this time a vote of the club will be taken as to whether or not the supper feature will be continued through the summer.

The president, Mrs. Hugh R. Walker, gave her annual report, reviewing the work of the year and expressing appreciation of the support and cooperation of the club members during the past year.

Election of officers will be held at the May meeting, and it is urged that a full attendance of members be present at this time, on the third Monday in May.

GOLF ATTRACTING MANY TOWN FOLKS

Unusually large numbers of people are taking advantage of the "Open House" event at the Brevard Country Club. The club members have asked everybody in the county to play gold on the local course during the two weeks from April 15 to May 1, as guests of the club.

Many people who have never before tried to play the great game have been seen during the week making good headway as beginners. The course is in excellent shape, and the citizens seem to appreciate the opportunity of learning something of the game.

Some few hesitated in trying the game because they knew nothing about golf, but upon being informed that all the present players here were beginners less than three years ago, they forgot their timidity and began placing the ball out over the greens.

With warmer weather promised for the end of the week, it is believed hundreds of men and women, boys and girls of the town and county will be seen at the club, many of whom will be playing a fairly good game by the time the "open house" period comes to a close at the end of the month.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE M'INTOSH SALE

Much interest is being taken in the "Farewell Sale," now going on at the McIntosh Variety Store. Mr. J. B. S. McIntosh, owner of the popular store, is planning to relinquish active management of the store, and devote his time to his desk work, which has grown into an extensive business. Mr. McIntosh is recognized as one of the outstanding merchants in his line throughout the Southwest, and his factors not only in America, but in the Old Country as well, are very fond of the Brevard merchant, and it is said send him many very valuable items which he can sell at prices away under that asked for the same articles in regular arts stores, even of New York City.

For some time Mr. McIntosh has suffered from an injury to his arm and friends have long urged him to take life more easily. At last he has consented to heed their advice, and is conducting the sale in order to get his affairs in shape to turn over to another for management.

People who have attended the sale have been heard to express surprise at being enabled to purchase goods at the prices prevailing at McIntosh's during this sale.

WOMEN THANK ALL WHO HELPED THEM

On behalf of the Woman's Bureau we wish to thank all who helped to make the Children's Bazaar a success either by work or donations.

The splendid spirit of cooperation was most appreciated.

In this event, men, women and children all worked together for the good of the community.

The sum of $352.16 was raised from the Bazaar which will be spent towards beautifying the Grammar Grade and Primary School grounds. With the sale of several more articles we hope to reach $400.00.

BELOVED WOMAN IS CALLED IN DEATH

Mrs. Lewis P. Hamlin Loses In Long Battle Against Grim Reaper.

ENTIRE COMMUNITY IS SENSIBLE OF BIG LOSS

Friends Gave of Their Blood to Save Her Life, But to No Avail.

In the early morning hours of last Sunday death claimed Mrs. Lewis P. Hamlin, after a long battle for life, in which the very best medical skill, tender and watchful nursing, and almost constant prayer by hosts of friends throughout the county, had done all possible to aid the beloved woman in her struggle against death. She had been in ill health for some time, and since the birth of her baby boy on March 23, her condition had been considered grave. Two weeks ago she was taken to the Asheville hospital, and three people gave of their blood in transfusions while a score of others took the blood test and stood ready to serve, in the effort being made to save her.

The deceased, wife of Lewis P. Hamlin, well known Brevard lawyer and minority leader in the house of representatives, was one of the most popular women in the county. She was born in Transylvania county and had spent all her life here, being 30 years of age at the time of her death. She was a member of the Brevard Baptist church and her work in that institution has had far-reaching effect and influence.

Mrs. Hamlin was the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Pickelsimer, both of whom passed away several years ago. Eleven years ago she was married to Mr. Hamlin, and to them were born three children, Lewis, Jr., Rachael, and the baby boy less than a month old, all of whom survive.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Baptist Church, with the pastor, Rev. Wallace Hartsell, in charge. As evidence of the great love which this community had for her, all places of business were closed during the funeral hour, and the church was packed, while many stood on the outside, unable to enter the building. Great banks of flowers filled the choir loft, covered the pulpit and were barked about the altar railings. The choir had difficulty in singing the songs, because of the deep suffering the members endured in giving up their friend. Rev. Mr. Hartsell could scarcely read the Scriptures or preach the sermon, because his heart, he said, was so heavy in the loss of his friend. The eyes of practically everyone in the big gathering were swimming in tears as the last rites were being said over the body of her who had been such a dear friend to all with whom she came in contact during life.

The young people of the community with whom Mrs. Hamlin had worked as head of the young peoples' department in the church, were sorely grieved, while the older people who had known her as "Little May" mingled their tears with the younger friends.

Members of the Brevard Bar attended the funeral in a body, after having held a special called meeting and adopting resolutions in which their sympathy was beautifully expressed in a message to their fellow-lawyer in his sad bereavement.

Three brothers, Messrs. J. H. Pickelsimer, J. B. Pickelsimer, and C. W. Pickelsimer; two sisters, Mrs. Dr. E. S. English and Mrs. W. H. Duckworth, survive, and in addition to these there are many relatives throughout the country. All these were present for the last services, and had been in constant attention on their sister throughout her illness.

A long line of automobiles filled with grief-stricken friends followed the relatives and the casket containing the loved one to the cemetery at Oak Grove, where she was laid to rest. W. P. Kimzey, O. H. Orr, Prof. J. B. Jones, A. B. Galloway, Rush Whitmore and James F. Barrett were pall bearers.

Those who knew Mrs. Hamlin's beautiful Christian life, her high esteem for friends and deep devotion to her family, can understand as never before the words of the poet, who said:

"Hope, with the eye of Faith, perceives vistas of joy on the marble lips of death, and pours forth a heavenly radiance on the dark and lonely tomb, and in accents sweet as Angelic voice can pronounce, whispers in behalf of the bereft: 'Thy loved one shall live again!'"

FIRST DEGREE TO BE GIVEN FRIDAY

Work in the First Degree this Friday evening is expected to bring many Master Masons to the special communication called by Dunn's Rock Lodge for the purpose of conferring the degree. The special meeting was made necessary when the lodge dispensed with labor last Friday evening and the members attended the Methodist revival in a body.

It is expected a large number will be at the meeting this Friday evening.
