EAST FORK NEWS

Little Delora, the two-month old infant of Deb Gillespie, died at the home of her parents in Charlotte Sunday, August 11. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. E. Ruffy the following Tuesday morning at the home of B. A. Gillespie. The little babe was laid to rest beside its grandmother in the Gillespie cemetery at East Fork.

Rev. Dock Owen, of the Gloucester section, preached at East Fork Baptist church Sunday. He announced a service for that church the second Sunday morning in September.

Mrs. Pat McGuire, of Penrose, spent the week-end with friends on East Fork.

Henry Gillespie, of Charlotte, is visiting his cousin, Hubert Gravely.

Mrs. Louie Gillespie and children, of Calvert, visited Mrs. Jim Gravely last Tuesday.

Work is being started on the lake site on the George Hays old place. We're mighty glad to know of some industry being started on East Fork even though it may be just a playground we would be tremendously glad to hear of a golf course being worked on, we'd then feel assured of a good road to East Fork.

From remarks made by some of our citizens, we think they are wondering what the outcome will be of the suit between Rural Policeman Eck Sims and our county commissioners. And we're wondering just how safe it will be on the highway if traffic is turned loose. Every one knows Mr. Sims has made a splendid officer, and here's hoping he wins, economy or no economy. It is beginning to look as if the material is about worked up, so we're expecting the county commissioners to fire two of their bunch right away and cut the salary of the remaining ones.

Dedicated to the Parents of School Children

The Parent's Obligation

THE public school and the school teacher play a prominent part in the civic development of children. But the foundation of good citizenship dwells in the home. Here is the origin of inspirations, of ideals and ambitions. Here children are given the initial rudiments for beginning their life's career. If this foundation is right, the teacher and the school can fashion the lives of the children so that they will become good citizens.

Parents, presiding over a home, are charged with the obligation of giving the child the proper start.
