

PISGAH FOREST BALL CLUB WINNERS OF TRI-COUNTY LEAGUE PENNANT

(By DOUG)
Frank Carr's outfit are the proud possessors of a miniature gold baseball each, as result of their winning the pennant in the Tri-County League, composed of teams from Pisgah Forest, Brevard, Canton and Marshall.

Final count for the Carrmen gave them 12 wins to six losses, being a wide margin over their nearest rival, Brevard, who had 9 of each; Canton finished third with 8-10, while Marshall holds the bottom rung with 7 wins and 11 losses, three of these losses, however, being forfeits, two to Brevard and one to Pisgah.

Next Year? Sure
Although no official announcement has been made regarding the season here next year, it is generally understood that Brevard will have a team. Frank Carr is certain to bring forth his brilliants again next season, after winning the pennant of the Tri-County loop. Support in the new ball park, while not paying a dividend to players, has come within a reasonable margin of paying expenses. Next year there will be no park to build another item of expense cut down.

Members of the two local teams who played out the season were:
Pisgah: Carr, manager and extra pitcher; Allison, field; Edwards, second; Pruett, second; Gibson, O. Goodman, pitchers; Osteen, first; R. Bryson, third-catcher; Daniels, field; Clayton, short; Ross, field; H. Goodman, field-first; Short, field; Carter, field; Morris, catcher.

Brevard: Holt, manager and utility; Paxton, catcher-field; Bryson, infield-catcher; Scruggs, third; T. Carson, field; Jones, field; Davis, field; Price, first; Payne, pitcher; Simmons, short; Breese, field; Z. Carson, pitcher; English, second.

Pisgah Forest closed the season here last Saturday by shutting out the fast semi-pro team from Lyman, S. C., 6-0. Gibson and R. Bryson were counted as stars in the game, Gibson by reason of his masterful hurling, allowing only four scattered hits; while Bryson socked one over the fence with two men on, besides catching a nice game.

The Postscript
Though many people have not thought of it, a considerable amount of nerve and optimism was used by Frank Carr and Lawrence Holt when they made the progressive step of building a park for this community. The thanks of the community and the whole-hearted gratitude of fans should go to these two boys who took the lead.

BRUTAL ASSAULT PLACES SHUFORD AT DEATH'S DOOR

Howell home. It was said there that the Howell boys were "bad men," and that warrants were out for some of them, warrants that have not as yet been served. The father of the boys was making his way homeward when he saw the officers going in the direction of his home. He was riding a fine horse, and made effort to pass the cars. Had he done this, officers say, he would have outdistanced the officers, because the horse could make better time over the rough roads than could the cars. The officers outwitted the old man, caught his horse, made him dismount and left guards with him while others went on to the Howell home.

Nearing the residence the officers scattered, so as to surround the house. At a given signal, the men were to advance at one instant on the house. Will Howell, however, had gone across to the top of another hill to bring the cows in for the night. As he topped the ridge he could see Sheriff Patton and his party plainly. Walking on in leisurely manner, Will proceeded until he crossed the top of the ridge, and immediately fired his revolver as a warning to the brothers in the house that the officers had been sighted. Then the scramble began, the officers charging in from all directions. After a two-hundred yard chase, the men were captured and the bracelets placed about their wrists.

But Will was gone. After giving the alarm, he took to the cliffs, and diligent search failed to locate him. It is said the men have a bad reputation in Haywood county, and as a mark of their standing, it is said that several of the special Haywood county officers in the group hunting for them were relatives of the Howell boys, but anxious to witness their arrest.

The three Howells were taken Wednesday morning to Jackson county, where the trial will be held, as the crime was committed in that county. Of the first five men arrested, who proved to be not connected with the Shuford case, some of them were taken back to Henderson county where it is said they are wanted on other charges.

George Shuford is one of the most prominent and popular men in the county, and the brutal attack upon him, the beating and cutting given him, aroused the citizenship of Transylvania county. He was taken immediately to the Transylvania Hospital, where he is now reported to be improving.

FOOTBALL HOLDS THE BOARDS NOW

With the baseball season in this section of the state over, fans are turning their eyes to the king of games, football. Brevard fans have their eyes on the High School squad which gives promises of being the crack eleven of football history here. Ineligibles and failures have been weeded out in the practice and scrimmage plays of the local team and a total of 27 men are still under the watchful eye of Coach Tilson, the majority of whom show good stuff.

Workouts are being held regularly each day in anticipation of the first game of the season—with Brevard Institute on the local gridiron on September 27. Last year the High School ran away with the Institute bunch by a large score in their first go. But a different tale will be told this year, B. I. being more adept at the game by reason of the fact that last year was their first year in football. The second game will be with Christ School, here, October 1. The Blue Devils held Coach Fayssoux's brilliants to two points in the game at Christ School last year. This was their first victory, Christ School having overwhelmed the Blue Devils in the two preceding years.

Other games scheduled are with Canton, Weaver, Biltmore High, Swannanoa, and Grace, with several open dates. Of course, Hendersonville, foe of foes, since time immemorial to Brevard fans, will be played on Thanksgiving.

Last year's record was 6 wins 2 ties and two losses. Weaver High and Canton were the only two teams to down the locals. Mars Hill and Hendersonville tied. Wins were chalked up against Christ School, Brevard Institute, Biltmore, Grace, Swannanoa, and Sylva Collegiate Institute.

BARTON REUNION CALLED FOR 2ND SUNDAY IN OCT.

On the Second Sunday in October, the Barton Reunion will be held at the Timothy Barton home on Little River. All relatives and friends are urged to attend, and all are asked to bring well filled dinner baskets as there will be a picnic dinner at the noon hour.

MILLER H. DANCY

Word was received in the city Friday morning of the death of Mr. Miller H. Dancy, of Jacksonville, Fla. Mr. Dancy was on his way to Brevard with a friend to join his wife and daughter, Miss Caroline, who have been at Keystone Camp all summer, when he was fatally injured in an automobile accident about 20 miles from Jacksonville. He died Thursday night in a hospital in Jacksonville. Mr. Dancy was a brother of Mrs. A. E. Hampton, of this city.

McCRARY TIRE SERVICE

They Lost Their Nerve

One fine young man and his promised bride made arrangements to be married in our store, as announced some time ago, but they have lost their nerve, and say they prefer to slip off to South Carolina some Sunday and be quietly married all by themselves.

We are sorry about this, for other couples that had expressed their desire to be married in our store and receive as a wedding present the Living Room Suite which we offered were told that arrangements had already been made. Now, it seems, there will be no wedding at our store. But —

OTHER MARRIED COUPLES

Are coming to our store daily and buying their Furniture, their good Roman Ranges, their Wood and Coal Heaters, and other things that every well regulated home needs. They come here because we have a large stock of good furniture, reasonably priced, and give most liberal terms to the purchasers. So, whether we have a wedding in the store or not, we can contribute much comfort and convenience to those already married.
