

PUBLIC MEETINGS AT THE INSTITUTE

Study Course Will Prove Interesting to the Citizens of the County

The members of the faculty at Brevard Institute are arranging for a study course for the winter months. The general subject of the course that will be taken up is:

- "Building a Moral Reserve." It is the course of the current year, in the series published annually by the American Institute of Sacred Literature at the University of Chicago, and comes in pamphlet form monthly during the months October to June.
- The cost of the course is about 60 cents for the literature. It consists this year of nine studies under the general head given above, each study being prepared by some man of special eminence in his field. The monthly topics are as follows:

1. The Nature of Community Life.
2. Government as an Agency of Social Living.
3. Law as the Will of the Community.
4. Officials as the Agents of Law Enforcement.
5. The Relation of the Individual Citizen to the Law.
6. Crime as a Break-down of Citizenship.
7. Creating Public Opinion.
8. The Church and State.
9. Creating a Christian Society.

It is expected that the course will be conducted as a discussion group, and no one will be expected to be dogmatic about his own opinions, nor to monopolize the time. The first meeting will be held early in October in the parlor of Taylor Hall, and at that time a schedule of subsequent meetings will be determined upon.

Anyone who is interested in this subject or in a stimulating exchange of opinion, is cordially invited to join the group. Printed information may be had from J. F. Winton at the Institute. It is requested that enrollment be made as early as possible so that the literature may be ordered.

HOME-COMING DAY TO DRAW BIG CROWD

Davidson River Presbyterian Church to Be Center of Attraction

The usual annual Home-Coming Day will be held at Davidson River Presbyterian church on the first Sunday in October, and will be the usual all day meeting—services in the morning, picnic dinner on the grounds, and services in the afternoon.

The morning service will be featured by a brief historical sketch and a sermon; the afternoon by addresses. Both services interspersed with many of the old-time favorite hymns.

Last year the Davidson River church celebrated its centennial, as having been organized in 1828. At that meeting new information on the church's history appeared and further investigations have established the fact that the organization in 1828—was actually a re-organization, and that the original organization of the church was some twenty-seven years earlier.

This is a regular annual meeting, largely attended by people from many counties and States, and from many denominations. This location is closely intertwined with the people of Western North Carolina and the history of the whole section for close to a century and a half. The annual trek to Davidson River on the first Sunday in October starts from many states and counties.

Brevard Presbyterian church has already ordered that their services on that day, after Rally Day services during the Sunday School hour, be adjourned to Davidson River. The Brevard pastor, Rev. Mr. Alexander, will preach the morning sermon.

Buncombe, Henderson and Haywood Counties will be well represented, and many will come from more distant counties and states.

Those who have attended before, need no invitation. A visitor once is always a repeater. Davidson river "Food for the Soul and Food for the Body" are always present in overflowing quantities, and usually with more than the traditional "twelve baskets full" left over from the fragments.

Rosman, visited Mr. and Mrs. M. O. McCall Sunday.
