TO ALL TEACHERS

There will be no meeting of Prof. Morrison's Extension class Friday evening. Explanation in next issue of The News.

LOU M. OSBORNE

She was truly a mother in Israel. Between the dates of her birth, Feb. 21, 1851, and her death, August 29, 1929, lie nearly 79 years of spotless life and devoted service. She was the daughter of Capt. W. H. and Mary Young of Candler, N. C. To the first marriage with Joseph M. Gudger was born one daughter, Mamie, who died in early childhood. Her second marriage was with Henry C. Osborne, May 17, 1888. To this union was born one son, Rev. Mark R. Osborne of Ebenezer, S. C., with whom she made her winter home. She was the mother of six step children in the Osborne family, namely, F. W. Osborne, Riverside, Calif.; A. J. and P. K. Osborne, of Delta, Col.; Mrs. E. H. Penley, Weaverville, N. C.; Mrs. J. H. Allen, Lowndesville, S. C.; Mrs. Joe Rivington, Los Angeles, Calif.; and one brother, Rev. P. R. Young of Asheville, N. C.

The funeral service was held at the Little River Baptist Church, conducted by her former pastor, J. R. Owen, and the body was laid to rest in the old Osborne family cemetery. Pallbearers—Three nephews, R. E. Mackey, C. K. Osborne, and F. E. Shuford, and three grand children, Paul H. Embler, Charles Embler, and Lucius Edwards.

No mother, or step mother ever performed her duties with finer grace or deeper consecration. They were a church going family, and lived their religion in the home. I think it was Dickens who said that it must somewhere be written that the virtues of mothers shall, occasionally, be visited on their children, as well as the sins of their fathers. Fortunate indeed are the children who are reared under such parental roof.

McCALL REUNION SUNDAY TO DRAW LARGE CROWD

The McCall Reunion, to be held next Sunday in the county court house in Brevard, is to be attended by many hundreds of people. These reunions are among the largest of all the family reunions held in the county, and many people come from other sections and other states to attend this annual affair. The committee in charge urges every family to bring well filled baskets to care for the big crowd expected Sunday.

HUNTING LICENSE LOWER THAN FINES

All school children have heard the statement over and over again that "honesty is the best policy," and that other one about it paying in the long run to do the right thing. E. R. Galloway, county game warden, is the first teacher, however, to offer actual facts and figures to show that it pays to obey the law as to hunting and fishing.

Receipts for License . . . $522.00
Fines and costs 534.21

These figures show that it has cost the sportsmen in this county who violated the law a few dollars more than it cost all others who bought their licenses and enjoyed the sport. A great many more people bought license and enjoyed the sport than were in the group which violated the law, yet paid more money into the county than did those who went at the thing in the right manner.

C. N. Mease, assistant state game warden, has promised, it is said, to provide special assistance in this county in the enforcement of the hunting laws during the winter season.

"Spect it would be safer to buy license and abide by the law than to run the risk of violating the law and being haled into court.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR BEST CANNING

Just how good at canning are Transylvania women and girls?

This question suggested itself today from an announcement in Chicago of a National Canning Contest to find the best jar of canned fruit, vegetables or meat in the country. Twelve hundred and fifty dollars in cold cash awaits the woman or girl in the United States whose entry is selected as the best jar of canned food entered in the contest.

The contest, which is sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, seeks to acquaint more housewives with the economy and healthfulness of home canned foods. For years the U. S. department of agriculture and home demonstration agents throughout the country have worked for increased production of native canned foods. It is to further this excellent idea and at the same time to help absorb the threatened surplus of farm products in many sections, that this canning project was conceived.

Two hundred and twenty-two cash prizes, totalling $5,825, will be disbursed to the winners in the contest, which has three major divisions: fruit, vegetables and meat. The best entry in each division will be awarded $250 and one of these will also receive the thousand dollars sweepstakes prize, thus bringing the total cash prize for the best jar of canned food in the contest to $1,250. Second prize in each of the three divisions will be $200, third prize $100, and fourth prize, $50. There will also be five prizes of $25 each, ten prizes of $10 each and fifty prizes of $5 each. In addition, a thousand dollars in cash will be awarded to the home demonstration agent whose county sends in the greatest number of entries, $500 to the agent whose county has the next largest number, and $100 to the agent whose county sends in the third largest number of entries. A number of lesser merchandise prizes are also offered.

Contest Closes October 15.

According to the rules, the contest is open to every woman and girl in the United States. There are no restrictions as to the nature of the food sent; and fruit, vegetable or meat whether home grown or purchased, is acceptable. Contestants may enter one, two or all three divisions. Entries regardless of when canned, must be sent in not later than October 1, which is the closing date of the contest. No entries will be returned, but instead they will be sent, with the name and address of the contestant to an orphanage, hospital, infirmary or other charitable institution to be selected by the Foundation.

Specimens of canned fruits and vegetables in the contests will be judged on the basis of clearness, color, pack, neatness, flavor and texture. Meat specimens will be judged in their relation to pack neatness, texture and flavor. There will be three judges, to be selected by the Foundation from a list of outstanding authorities on home economics, domestic science, and canned food. Their decision will be made known just as soon as possible after October 1.

Gives Hints on Canning

"Any method of canning may be used for this contest," announces Anne Williams, director of the contest. "The use of a steam pressure cooker, however, is highly recommended by canning experts and by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, especially in canning meats. Not only does this method of canning save time and fuel and assure absolutely, sterility and preservation, but food canned under pressure retains all its natural flavor and texture, which are vital points in any canning contests."

That the judging may be thoroughly impartial and the display of canned samples absolutely uniform, contestants are required to submit their entries in standard glass jars of the quart size. All contestants will be furnished with one Ball mason jar and carton for sending in a canned article, but those making entries in more than one division are expected to supply their own jars shipping cartons. The sample jar and prize entry labels for use in submitting entries may be secured without cost by communicating with the headquarters of the National Canning Contest, 925 S. Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

PROCLAMATION BY GOV. MAX GARDNER

The State of North Carolina has made wonderful progress along many lines but it has to its credit no more striking achievements than the results attained by the efforts of its firemen, teachers, editors and other public-spirited and forward-looking citizens who have carried on for years a relentless warfare against fire waste and its attendant loss of life and property. I am glad to be able to say that there has been improvement year by year for the past seven years. While the records of our State Insurance Department covering the seven years between January 1, 1922, and January 1, 1929, shows a total fire loss of $44,799,499, a truly staggering amount, the loss was well below the national average and the fire loss for the year ending December 31, 1928, was $4,912,925 a million and a half of dollars under the seven years' average.

I attribute much of this improvement to the educational work done throughout the State annually during "Fire Prevention Week" which falls this year in the week of October 6th to 12th. While we are proud of the progress made, the fire loss of 1928 was much too great for an enlightened citizenship, such as ours, and I appeal to all good citizens to become vitally interested in lessening this economic waste.

But the property loss in North Carolina last year, heavy as it was, was not our greatest loss from fire. The Bureau of Vital Statistics of our State Board of Health reports that two hundred and seventy-one lives were lost by fire in North Carolina last year. These appalling losses were caused by carelessness and ignorance of the fire hazard.

I, therefore, set aside the week of October 6th to 12th as FIRE PREVENTION WEEK in accordance with Section 6080 of the Consolidated Statutes, which provides that the Governor of North Carolina shall each year, in October, issue a proclamation urging the people to proper observance.

During this week I also urge the fire drills be held in schools, factories, and stores, and that they be continued at regular intervals. That schools, theatres, churches, public and private hospitals and institutions, factories and stores and hotels be inspected and see that every safeguard against fire is provided and also that exit facilities are sufficient in case of fire.

That local authorities examine their fire ordinances and make them sufficient if they are lacking in any particular.

To this end I urge our citizens cooperate with our Insurance Commissioner, and that every mayor issue a proclamation. I earnestly request the cooperation of every citizen, Chambers of Commerce, Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, Civitan, American Business, Monarchs and Women's Clubs, and all other civic bodies at the press.

Now, therefore, I, Oliver M. Gardner, Governor of North Carolina, in accordance with law, do issue this my proclamation, and do set aside and designate and do urge all the people to proper observance of this week of obedience to the Statutes of North Carolina.

OCTOBER 6 TO 12 AS FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Done at our City of Raleigh, 25th day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, and in one hundred and fifty-fourth year of our American Independence.

O. MAX GARDNER, Governor
Tyre C. Taylor, Secretary.
