

CASCADE POWER CO. RETAINS THE POWER PLANT AND THE DAM

semi-public institutions. For a great many years the power company has given, free of charge, the current that lighted the whiteway lamps on the streets of Brevard. They made no charge for current used in the Chamber of Commerce building, the U. D. C. Library, the band stand, and many other places of public nature...

The Southern Public Utilities company, with all the big Duke interests behind it, has the reputation of locating many industrial establishments in whatever section the company operates its power lines. With all the big connections of the concern, citizens in Brevard are led to believe that the coming of the Duke interests into Brevard is simply a forerunner of an industrial expansion here that will mean much to this county...

Lines have already been strung from Hendersonville by the Southern Public Utilities company into Brevard the sub-station completed, and the "juice" turned on. The lines carry 44,000 voltage, and this, added to the output of the Cascade Power Company which the new concern will distribute, gives to Brevard an abundance of power for as many industries as could be erected in any month.

Newspapers in the Piedmont section of the Carolinas often publish special articles and editorials, giving in detail the growth of towns and communities when the Duke interests entered such places. It is an acknowledged fact that the Duke companies are almost totally responsible for the rapid expansion of industry in Piedmont Carolinas, and the coming here of that big concern is very naturally hailed with delight by the citizens of Transylvania county.

Offices are being opened in the Walmere Hotel building, two big rooms having been taken. One front on Broad street, next door to the hotel entrance, while the other fronts on Main street, next door to the Pishgah Bank. Partitions have been torn away, making the two rooms into one continuous building. The Southern Public Utilities company makes constant drive for the placement of electric appliances for the home. Every conceivable thing that is heated or run by electricity is carried in stock by the company and these things are sold on convenient terms to users of their power. Electric ice refrigeration, electric ranges for cooking, carpet sweepers, irons, in fact, all electric devices for the use and convenience of the home are sold by the company. One of the office buildings will be devoted to this phase of the work, and a complete display will be kept on the floor at all times.

J. M. Gaines, of Charlotte, will be in charge of the local offices. He will move his family here at once. Several other families will move to Brevard as a result of the deal, as experienced men who have long been with the company will be sent here to handle its affairs in the local field. Mr. O. A. Meyer, of Hendersonville, has general supervision of the company's affairs in this section.

Lewis P. Hamlin, Brevard lawyer and minority leader in the house of representatives, and J. H. Pickelsimer, handled the negotiations in the deal for the local interests. Mr. Hamlin is also an interested party in the big transaction, he being a stockholder in the local companies that sold to the Southern Public Utilities.

COUNTY CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED ON THE 12TH IN BREVARD

other sections can affect us, it is natural to assume as a certainty that anything of a constructive nature would affect the country as a whole. Using this argument as a basis, Prof. Jones showed in a concise manner just what such an organization as "The Transylvania County Club," in its national scope could and would do for not only this county but for the state and nation. Prof. Jones was a charter member of the original Rutherford County Club formed seven years ago, and gave verifiable facts of the benefits derived by that county in the past several years from the concerted efforts of the organization there.

The Rutherford County club, Prof. Jones asserted, had been directly instrumental and responsible for the following movements and improvements in Rutherford county: United the county into one factor for good and has eliminated much jealousy, etc., between towns; sponsored the county fair, older boy's conference, Farmers' Federation warehouse and potato curing house with a capacity of 15,000 bushels, more purebred poultry and livestock on the farm; defeated the proposal to increase telephone rates in Rutherford county; sponsored several county-wide celebrations, that have gained state-wide recognition; full time county welfare officer; home and county demonstrator and a full-time county physician.

Climaxing his statements, Prof. Jones declared "that if Rutherford county can have these things through the efforts and concentration of all the people in the county, how much better can the people of Transylvania do with their incomparable dairying possibilities, the greatest of which is the natural grass-growing soil of this county, and the adaptability of our county for diversification in all lines of endeavor—both agricultural and industrial. If Rutherford county can have, in their level county great money-making industries, why cannot Transylvania county with its wonderful climate, purest of water and unlimited water power have great smokestacks belching forth smoke and furnishing employment for many, and a market for our surplus produce."

Dr. Bright explained that the local club would function absolutely as an individual organization, having its own constitution and by-laws and being its own "boss" entirely. That though the national organization would offer from time to time, suggestions for lines of endeavor, the local organization would be a free lance body operated by and for the people of the county. That no assessments could be made by the national body. However, Dr. Bright said, information of any nature pertaining to the welfare of the club, of laws being enacted in Washington which would in any way effect the farmers, or of proposed measures, could be had for the asking from headquarters which maintains at all times in the national capital a branch office for this purpose.

Dr. Bright further explained that the meetings of the club would not be centralized at any one point in the county, but that from time to time meetings would be held in the various precincts of the county so that a clear, first hand knowledge of the particular needs of the different sections of the county could be had.

Other speakers heard were E. Carl Allison, G. T. Lyday, Prof. S. P. Verner, W. S. Ashworth, Mrs. C. F. Baldwin, C. R. McNeely, J. F. Barrett and others, declaring they were heartily in favor of an organization that would function by and be comprised of farmers of the county, and through which matters that vitally concern the agricultural interests of the county could be brought to the attention of the farmers of the county as a unit and through the concrete work of the body be taken care of in such a manner as to promote the farmers' interests.

Committees were appointed by the chairman to invite the farmers of the county to be present at the organization meeting at which time the principles of the club will be explained. Mr. Osborne stated that no undue demands would be made at the meeting for other than voluntary memberships, and that to attend did not necessitate the taking of a membership in the organization.

MILLION CHEVIES MADE THIS YEAR

Detroit, Oct. 3.—The Chevrolet Motor company announced here today that more than 1,200,000 new six cylinder Chevrolet cars have been placed on the road since the first of the year.

This achievement accomplished in little over nine months, is three times the best showing of any other manufacturer of six cylinder cars in a calendar year and tops Chevrolet's record total for the entire year of 1928.

It is no certain that six cylinder production will set a world record this year, surpassing for the first time in the history of the industry the output of four cylinder cars. This leadership of the sixes will come about chiefly because of Chevrolet's record showing this year.

Chevrolet factory officials declare that the dominating reason back of the leadership of the six is the public preference for the advantages which this type of construction affords. They point out too that the influence of great volume production, which has enabled the industry to get six cylinder prices down to the lowest on record and has made it possible for Chevrolet through maximum volume to offer six cylinder performance at a price that formerly bought only four.

With a new yearly record already assured, Chevrolet factories are continuing on the biggest fall production program ever undertaken by the company. Nine assembly plants and seven large manufacturing plants are facing the busiest final quarter that Chevrolet has ever known.

The heavy fall factory program was made necessary, it was explained, to bring production up to the level of the demand and make possible quicker deliveries to owners.

CAKE AND PIE SALE TO BE HELD NEXT ON SATURDAY

A sale of eatables, including cakes, pies, and candy will be held in the King building next to Plummer's Annex, next Saturday, beginning at 10 o'clock and continuing through the day. The sale will be conducted by the Daughters of Wesley class of the Methodist church.

GIRL SCOUTS ELECT NEW OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR

Girl Scout Troop I met Tuesday and elected new officers as follows: Patrol leaders—Minnehaha, Jennie Pearce; Robin Hood, Rebecca Summey; Wise Owls, Thelma Orr; Corporal, Jean English; color bearer, Ruth Perry; treasurer, Jean Hampton; monitor, Rachel Orr; scribe, Sue Hunt; assistant scribe, Jean English.

All girls who are eligible are asked to join the troop. We would be very glad to have you. We meet every Tuesday afternoon in our Scout room in the old school building.

THE MUSICIAN

She was not a concert singer Drawing hundreds every week. Theatre magnates did not linger 'Round her and beg her to speak Right up and name the price 'twould take

To get her for their show; No, she lived out in the country And each Sunday morn she'd go

To the little country church Where she'd occupy the stool At the little wheezy organ, At preaching and at Sunday School.

And she'd also lead the singing, If the leader wasn't there; And her voice with gladness ringing With melody, would fill the air.

In the big fine city churches They can hire their singers grand, And if they take a notion They can have a whole brass band; But when it comes to music That really is worthwhile, Some of our country churches Have got them beat a mile.

Zeb H. Wolfe, "The Plumber-Poet," Easley, S. C.

(The idea for the bit of verse above came to the writer while attending church at Mount Pleasant, a Presbyterian church just out of Easley, S. C., on Sunday morning, April 14, 1929.)

ORGANIZATION OF COUNTY TEACHERS

(MRS. T. E. REID, Sec'y)

The teachers of Transylvania county met at the Brevard High School building Saturday, Sept. 28, for the purpose of organizing the local unit of the North Carolina Education Association.

Prof. J. B. Jones presided over the meeting. He appointed a nominating committee, who in turn, nominated the following officers: Prof. J. B. Jones of Brevard schools, re-elected president; Prof. G. C. Bush of Rosman High School, vice president; Mrs. Theodore E. Reid, of Selma school, secretary. These officers were unanimously elected.

Great interest was manifested in the work of the organization by the enrollment of 64 teachers, and others stated that they would enroll as an early date.

An enjoyable feature of the program was the talk given by Supt. Verner, in which he expressed himself as believing that teachers should not be forced to take part in the professional meetings, but should do so because of interest in their work.

Plans for the class in extension work which Prof. Morris of the University of North Carolina expects to give here were discussed and a number of teachers registered for the course.

The association is very grateful to Prof. Jones for the excellent services rendered by him as president during the past year and is looking forward to another successful year under his leadership.
