

BREVARD INSTITUTE
NOTES OF INTEREST

The school is indebted to the Junior class, under the direction of Miss Spalding, for one of the best chapel programs of the year. A college play, "The Touchdown" was presented and received with much applause. The characters were: Bee Tidwell, a society girl attending her first football game; Robert Menendez, an old graduate; Joe Regan and Lillie Davis, country hicks attending their first football game; Sol Greear was very clever as the radio announcer. Other characters were: Garnell Lee, Jarmon Becton, Hazel Callahan, George Bome, Florence Martin, Mary Denny and Wilma McCracken.

The B. I. football team played Fruitland Institute at Fruitland on Thanksgiving Day. Immediately after the game the team went in a body to a movie in Hendersonville. When they arrived at school, they were entertained at a banquet by Mrs. Boucher, assisted by Mrs. Bolin. Speeches were made by Mr. Boucher, the coach; Charlie Duncan, captain of the team, and Cecil Bolin, who has faithfully stood by the team this season.

A great many B. I. students spent the Thanksgiving holidays with their parents.

Lena Allison has returned from the hospital after an operation for appendicitis.

The Epworth League was honored Sunday night by having Rev. Mr. Hartsell, the Baptist minister, speak to them.

Fruitland vs. B. I.

Brevard Institute lost a very sensational football game Turkey day by a lone touchdown, to Fruitland Institute.

Clean football was played throughout the entire game. Morgan, Hampton and Moore out of the B. I. lineup weakened the team, yet the boys played a splendid game.

Capt. C. Duncan showed headwork indeed. With Menendez, Mitchell and Burns in the backfield, the ball was carried and returned well.

Regan was a bit awkward at center, yet not a fumble throughout the game. Mangum was star tackle. Wilkins, Rikard and Graham showed up well in end positions. Davis, Agular, Becton, Cuildley, Heckard, S. Greear played real ball in the line.

True, the B. I. team has not scored this year. But greater than that—Not a man has been put off the field by a field official for anything. One 15-yard penalty was inflicted for holding, and four other 5-yard penalties, summarize the penalties for the year.

Only two serious accidents happened to the team this year—T. Hampton got an arm thrown out of place, and Burns was slightly hurt on the head.

The season closed with a little informal banquet, given by Coach and Mrs. Boucher. A little program was rendered, in which "Bill" Atwell was honored. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bolin, Mr. A. J. Jordan and Bill Atwell, the team and the Bouchers were present.

Everybody enjoyed the spread.

IN MEMORY OF R. W. LEE

Mr. Lee died November 23, 1928. He was better known as "Uncle Ralph" in his community. He was one of the oldest members of Rocky Hill Baptist church, Cedar Mountain, N. C. He was an active worker in the church for over fifty years. "Uncle Ralph's" life was as nearly perfect as anyone that I have ever known. He loved the house of God above all else and made it a point to attend every church service possible. He walked daily with his master, and his influence shall last as long as time will be. He never thought of living long, but of living the right kind of life for his Lord. He never grew tired but, as some one has said, "Go Forward The Master yoke is easy. His burden's light. His grace is sufficient for you. Scatter seeds of kindness; make others happy, and relieve your weary bones." This was his motto.

A Friend,
Mrs. S. A. Jones
