MORROW'S NOMINATION GROSSLY MISJUDGED.

Ambassador Morrow walked away with the nomination for the United States senate a few days ago in New Jersey. He had announced for state control of the liquor question. The wets and lickertites have been hurrahing all over the country ever since, claiming that Morrow's nomination is a death blow to prohibition.

It is all the bunk. Dwight Morrow would have been nominated by just as large majority if he had announced the driest plank ever dried in the kiln or the Sahara Desert.

In this land of freedom where all men are created equal, paradoxical as it may seem and sound, we have a super abundance of the spirit of hero worship, king kissers, pope palavers and toe dancers around the throne of royalty.

A young man by the name of Lindbergh married Dwight Morrow's daughter. The whole nation is worshipping at the Lindbergh shrine. Lindbergh's father-in-law could have been nominated against any other man in any other state in the union on any old platform that said father-in-law might have erected.

Even Morrow's own great ability as a statesman was not given one-hundredth part of the consideration that his position as Lindbergh's father-in-law received. Wet, dry or damp, Protestant, Catholic or Jew, high tariff, low tariff or no tariff, Morrow would have been overwhelmingly nominated. The prohibitionists were foolish to fight him on his wet plank, and the wets are just as foolish when they claim that Morrow's nomination reflects any sentiment whatever on the wet and dry issue.

America falls for the hero stuff, harder and more unanimously than any other nation in the world.

WHEREIN THERE IS GREAT WASTE WITH TREMENDOUS COSTS ATTACHED.

There are on the farms of North Carolina 111,939 boys between the ages of 14 and 20 years. This number constitutes nearly fifteen per cent of the total male population of the state. Of this number there are 54,055 in school, and 57,884 out of school. Of this number in school, there are just one out of each 11 taking special training in farming, and from these facts it would appear that the greatest opening for a young man in North Carolina today is that of farming. The other ten out of each eleven are planning to follow some other calling—the law, which is already overcrowded; medicine, which requires a lifetime to master; and other callings not related to farming.

In other words, there are only 4909 young men on the farms today out of a total of 111,939 between the ages of 14 and 20 who are studying agriculture.

What the ones out of the school—the 57,884—are doing, is not told. Working in garages, filling stations, and so on, leaving the farm and school to enter the factory, these young men can be found, ignoring the opportunities presented to them of obtaining a high school education.

With all the money the state is spending on its public school system, these 57,884 young men could be carried in the schools with but little, if any, additional cost. What an extravagance! What a waste of opportunity! What a tremendous cost to North Carolina! If these young men could only know how they are to regret this failure to avail themselves of the opportunity which is theirs, they would march into the schools this Fall and remain there until they had completed the High School course.

Did you ever before see as many beautiful flowers, or flowers with deeper, richer colors than these about Brevard this year? Mrs. S. F. Allison sent a bowl of sweet peas to The Brevard News office that would take first prize in any flower carnival. No one can describe the beauty of these.

America is tingling again to the toe tips, because a little boy has been born in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh. Wish to the Lord that the world would let the little tot alone so he could develop into a big man like his daddy.

Our East Fork correspondent, in this week's letter, opens up an avenue for argument that will at least prove interesting, if not instructive.

July Fourth next station. Are you all set?

Believe it or not, the crowds are flocking to this section now.

Say "Howdy" to the man you meet on the street. He came here for his vacation, and let's make him glad that he came.

Boy, isn't it fine to have to reach down and pull up another blanket? Folks down South wouldn't believe this statement, sweltering as they are everyday, and getting no relief at night.

What an Appetite!

"Ever since I started taking Herbine I have been able to eat all the good food I always had to deny myself without suffering from indigestion, sour stomach and sick headaches. That's why I would not be without it in the house," says J. L. Carpenter, 126 Lowell Ave., in San Antonio.

Herbine is a vegetable liquid which does nothing more than help your stomach and bowels take care of the food you eat. That eliminates the gas which causes constipation, biliousness, sick headache, indigestion, and sour stomach. Then your blood gets plenty of vitamins, to build red corpuscles and give you strength.

CASH-And I Can't Help It!

For some time now I have been trying to find some way out of the difficulties confronting all men in business, and have decided to do first one thing and then another. Every time I decided to go on a strictly Cash Basis, then I would get to thinking about all the good people who have stood by me, and I just couldn't do it.

Then The Old Credit Plan

Would throw me again, and first thing you know I would have so much groceries out on charge accounts, and the slow pay paying so slowly, that all at once my stock would run down, because I didn't have and couldn't get the money with which to buy stuff.

So, Now, It's CASH TO ALL And I Can't Help It!

Beginning July first my old charge books are to be laid aside for keeps. Everything will be strictly cash. Prices will be marked down accordingly. Fresh, fine vegetables and groceries will be carried in stock. You can save money by trading this way, and I can do a better business and serve you better, and all of us will profit by it. You come to the store and select and purchase your groceries, pay CASH prices IN CASH, and go back home better satisfied, not owing me anything, and I will have the money with which to pay for the goods that we keep here for you.

Thank you for all you've done, and thank you still more for what you're going to do for me in the future.

Fred Johnson
