

LADIES' NIGHT FOR THE KIWANIS CLUB

Next Monday evening, at 6 o'clock, members of the Brevard Kiwanis club and their ladies will gather at T. H. Shipman's camp, near Rosman, for a meeting that is world-wide in scope. At this time all Kiwanis clubs everywhere will meet, and at the same time a message from the international president will be read to all the clubs.

The international convention will be in session in Atlantic City Monday evening, and the international president will be delivering his address to the convention as it is read to all the clubs in all the countries where Kiwanis is organized.

Each member of the club is to bring his own basket dinner, and the club luncheon will be served, picnic style, at the meeting.

WARNING ISSUED IN REGARD TO STOCKS

Detroit, June 24.—A warning against fraudulent brokers and promoters who are offering stock in foreign Ford motor companies was issued today by the Better Business Bureau of Detroit, in conjunction with the National Business Bureau and affiliated offices throughout the United States and Canada.

Relying on the goodwill and integrity of the Ford name, thousands of persons through the country have purchased stocks which either turned out to be spurious or were not delivered at all, the warning said. There is no way of estimating the financial loss involved.

"There are a number of fraudulent concerns in various parts of the country that represent themselves as brokerage houses and that offer stocks in various foreign Ford companies," the statement from the Better Business Bureau said.

"Several of these companies sell on the partial payment plan. They offer stock for stipulated down payment and a fixed sum per month. Before the final payment becomes due and before the stock is delivered to the purchaser, the company goes out of business and its officers disappear only to begin operations at another location and under another name.

"Stocks of the Ford Motor Company of England, Ltd., and the Ford Motor Company of France are listed on the New York Curb market and the prices at which they are currently selling are printed in the financial pages of the newspapers. Nevertheless many persons are being led by unscrupulous brokers to pay far in excess of the market prices.

"The majority of stock brokers, of course, are honest. Our warning is directed solely against the fraudulent concerns that carry on their fleecing of the public under the guise of reputable concerns. Anyone contemplating the purchase of stocks should first consult his local Better Business Bureau."

SETTLING A QUARREL

I didn't mean to say those harsh words that I said to Jack, but before I knew it they had been said and I couldn't call them back.

I saw a tear drop come into his eye, but not a word he said. He just took his coat and hat and from the house he fled.

He didn't come home for lunch that day, but called me on the phone. Said, "Hello, Sweetheart," in a tender voice, and told me he could not come.

That night when he came home from work I kissed him as I had always done. And tried to forget those harsh, mean words, but I soon found it couldn't be done.

Now the thing I did was the only thing that I knew would make it square. I told him I was sorry, and asked him to forgive, and we settled it right there.

IN MEMORY

— M. A. E. WOODBRIDGE —

A beautiful life has ended. As the first faint rays of daybreak sifted through the purple curtains of the dawn, on the morning of June fourteenth, the pure and gentle soul of Martha Edmond Woodbridge ascended to its Maker, to be welcomed into the glorious sunrise of eternity by those who she had loved long since, and lost awhile.

Father, mother, sister, brothers, husband and children had passed before her into that old-new world; and from the earliest concepts of the most ancient civilization the belief that our loved ones meet again in the spirit world is perhaps the most steadfast inspiration of daily living.

There is no necessity to eulogize anything as lovely as her life;—one cannot add to nor detract from the ideal of gentleness and peace she brought to the lives of those who knew and loved her best.

True representative of that gracious age we refer to as "the Old South," she was faithful unto the end to its ideals, and with her passing has gone a certain charm of living, and purity of thinking, we shall not find again.

Mute words written in ink are a sadly inadequate offering to lay before the shrine of her memory—but the little sanctuary lamp of my love will burn before it as long as life continues.

We have the same word for all partings—good-bye! To the friend who leaves to step across the street, we call a gay good-bye, in blithe assurance of a continued friendship, and with perhaps a deeper shade of meaning we bid good-bye to one about to leave us on a journey—

But still the same, small word, when those whose going scars our hearts,—good-bye!

And so once more, good-bye, my dear, my dear,—good-bye —! until such time I hear your voice again, say not good-bye, but Welcome!

One Who Loved Her.
