BREVARD DELEGATES TO ASHEVILLE CONVENTION

Mrs. Oliver Orr, Misses Essie Norton, Winifred Nicholson and Geraldine Barrett were delegates to a convention of the young people's missionary society of the Asheville district, held at the Hillside Methodist church Tuesday.

The meeting proved both interesting and helpful. Especially interesting was a talk given by Miss Julia Lake Stevens of the mission headquarters at Nashville, Tenn., and a missionary to China. Talks by other district officers were received with great enthusiasm.

Miss Norton delivered the report of the Business Girl's Auxiliary and Miss Barrett gave a short discussion on the Negro in the Southland.

LARGE NUMBER ENJOY WATERMELON FEAST

Under the chaperonage of Mrs. E. L. Hamilton and Mrs. Lynch Moore, about fifty members of the younger set enjoyed a delightful evening at White Pine Forest Camping ground at a watermelon feast last Thursday. Many games suitable to the out-of-door life were played, after which the watermelons were sliced.

LARGE TEA FAVORS GUESTS OF MRS. PATTON

One of the most interesting social affairs of the summer season was the tea given by Mrs. Ed Patton on Wednesday afternoon at the Ivy Hill Tea House, complimenting Mrs. W. H. Davis, of Greenville, mother of Mrs. Patton, and Miss Martha Davis of Raleigh, Mesdames Earle Maudlin of Charlotte, Gariand McGregor of Greenville and Alston Davis, of Baltimore, all sisters of the hostess. Assisting in the receiving line were, Mrs. David Ward, Mrs. Boyce Walker, Miss Margaret Deaver and Miss Annie Jean Gash. Pouring tea was Miss Annie Hall.

The rooms were attractively decorated with mountain flowers, the Wild Rose predominating.

About sixty-five guests called during the afternoon, among whom were the following out-of-town guests: Misses Annie and Helen Hall and Miss Elizabeth Maudlin of Charlotte, and Mrs. Todema Robertson of Tampa, Fla.

HOME-MAKERS IN ENJOYABLE MEETING

Mrs. H. E. Erwin was hostess to the Home-Makers class of the Baptist church at the July meeting, held Tuesday afternoon. The devotionals were led by Mrs. Avery Galloway.

Mrs. Perry Galloway was appointed by the president, Mrs. S. W. Radford, to welcome the visiting ladies in the church auditorium and conduct them to the class room.

Many summer flowers were used in the attractive decorations of the Erwin home.

At the conclusion of the meeting the hostess, assisted by members of the club, served iced cantaloupe alamo.

FORMER BREVARD BOY MARRIES MILWAUKEE GIRL

An announcement of much interest in Brevard is that of the wedding of Miss Jeanne Baker to Mr. Carl Townsend, which took place in Chicago, Ill., on June 21.

Miss Baker is a native of Milwaukee but now holds the position as secretary to the president of the Chicago Film Laboratories, Chicago.

Mr. Townsend is the youngest son of Mrs. J. S. Greenwood, formerly of Waynesville. He has a responsible position with the Irving Crawford Drug Co., of Chicago. He was formerly manager of one of Chicago's largest United Cigar Stores.

They will reside at the Barry Arms Hotel in Chicago for the present.

Mrs. Campbell—Dear, I saw the sweetest little hat downtown today.

Campbell—Put it on and let me see how you look in it.

PREACHER ATE BOTH GIZZARDS AND WON ENMITY OF BOBBY

Couldn't Keep from Cussing When Lad Saw His Coveted Gizzard Going Into Plate of Preacher.

WHITE BRITCHES AT $1.50

Well, folks, how in the world are you? We laid out of the paper last week, doggone it, because Mrs. Glazener had that big advertisement about all of them pretty dresses, which she sold to the good women from all parts of the county, and here she has gone and fetched in another shipment of Chiffon Dresses which she is offering for only $4.95—but we got to get this column in this week, or bust. So you can read her dress advertisement and then read this stuff. Both of them are good, you bet, but dang if we don't believe this column is best.

We sold a man TWO pairs of white britches Monday last, and he had never before in all his life worn a pair of white britches—that is, he had never worn white britches on the outside. We dont know how about the underthings. But he was looking at these white britches, and when we told him that they would wash good and clean, and not draw up, and that they cost him only $1.50, blamed if he didn't take TWO

It reminded us of a story that we heard one time. There was a little boy by the name of Bob. When he was learning to talk, this little Bob lived with people who cussed all the time, so little Bob could outcuss a sailor. When he was about ten years old his parents died, and little Bobby went to live with his uncle and aunt. These peopole were good church members and it nearly killed them to hear Bobby cuss like he did. They whipped him, they begged him, they done everything to break him.

It was announced one day that the preacher was coming to this home next Sunday for dinner. The old folks were scared stiff, fearing that Bobby would cuss while the preacher was there. Bobby was very fond of the chicken gizzard, so his aunt told him if he would be good all the week, and not cuss a single cussword, that he could have the gizzard next Sunday. Bobby knew his onions, and told his aunt that the preacher was also a fool about the gizzard. Well, the aunt then said she would kill two chickens, put one gizzard on top of the meat plate and the other gizzard down under the gravy so Bob would get one after the preacher had had his. Well, Sunday came, and not a bad word had come from Bobby's mouth. He was nice at Sunday School. He was nice all through church. He was nice after they all got home. He was nice at the table, while the preacher asked the blessing. Then the chicken plate went, of course, to the preacher first. He took the gizzard that was on top. Then he saw two pullie-bones, so he knew there must be another gizzard in the dish, and the preacher went digging down until he found the other gizzard at the bottom of the dish, under the gravy. He pulled it out and put it on his plate with the other gizzard. Little Bobby had been watching him closely, and when he saw the preacher get the other gizzard, he yelled out: "Aunt Sally, I be if the thing didn't get both gizzards!"

You look at these white britches here, and you'll take two pairs, too. Just one dollar and a half—cheaper than patching your old ones. They're durable, too, and wear well and can be washed.

Back to socks this time. Got an arm full of Golf Socks here that beat the band going at fifty cents a pair. They're good, they're o.k. and anyone can wear Golf Socks at fifty cents a pair.

Got something else here that we ain't going to say much about, only tell you that this article is good, and away down in price from any other place. Kotex. 35 cents a dozen, in packages. Enough said.

But we can talk about Gingham, a whole paper full, and then never tell the full tale of Gingham here at Ten Cents a yard. This is a gingham that ordinarily sells for fifteen cents a yard, but we are selling them at Ten Cents a yard, because we bought them the Glazener Way and we're selling them the Glazener Way.

HORSES

Good horsemen pride themselves on the appearance of their horses. Purina Omolene will keep them in good flesh, with sleek coats, and full of pep. Omolene will put them in such splendid condition that anyone would be proud of them. Let us send you a supply.

MORE EGGS

Hot, fat, lazy hens that are allowed to sweater and sizzle in the summer, can't be expected to lay. Feed them a cooling summer ration like Purina Chicken Chowder, and you will get more eggs right straight through the summer. May we send you some?

COWS

Cows usually give less milk as pastures dry up. Feed enough Purina Cow Chow to keep the milk flow up, and feed enough cooling, succulent Bulky-Las to keep the cows in condition, and you will have no summer milk slump this year.

BETTER LAWNS

Your lawn, no doubt, is beginning to look like the November winds had already begun to blow across it—let us advise you about the proper care for it, and you will be surprised at the difference in a short time.
