SOCIETY NEWS

MUSIC LOVERS CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. ALLISON

The Brevard Music Lovers Club met at eight p.m. on December the first, at the home of Mrs. J. M. Allison. The club was delighted to welcome two new members, Miss Lillian Jenkins who has a piano class in the city, and Miss Lena Long, who teaches English at Brevard Institute.

The program — Christmas Songs and Legends — made the members feel that Kris Kringle could not be far away. Mrs. Roy Long read a paper giving the legends of many of the Christmas greens: holly, mistletoe, bay, ash, box, the yule log, and others. In Italy mangers are decked with holly at Christmas-tide in honor of the Christ Child.

Mrs. Frank Jenkins read a lovely Christmas poem, after which Mrs. Alexander Kiser sang the favorite carols: "O Come Upon a Midnight Clear", "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and "The First Noel."

The club had caught the Christmas spirit to such an extent that all joined in singing "Adeste Fideles," "Deck the Halls," "Holy Night," and "Hark! the Herald Angels Sing!"

MRS. NANCY MCGAHA

On the second day of November, nineteen hundred and thirty, Mrs. Nancy McGaha, one of the oldest citizens of the county was called to her heavenly home. Mrs. McGaha was Miss Nancy Fowler before her marriage to Jesse McGaha who departed this life several years ago. Mrs. McGaha, better known to her many grandchildren and friends as Granny Nance, was born October 27, 1843, having reached the age of 87. Mrs. McGaha had been a member of the Dunns Creek Baptist church for over fifty years, she was the mother of eight children of whom five are living. They are Mrs. Maybel Hamet of Dacusville, S. C., Mrs. Mattie Wilson of this county, Mrs. Florence Dunn of Marietta, S. C., Mrs. Eller Wilson of Brevard, N. C., Mrs. Charlotte Johnston of Augusta, Ga.

Granny Nance was a sister of Tom Fowler of this county who is eighty-nine years old. She has forty-two grandchildren, fifty-six great-grandchildren, and four great, great-grandchildren. We will miss Granny Nance greatly but our loss is her gain.
