"I wish to again call the attention of the Central Prison at Raleigh. The Governor of North Carolina says it is 'a veritable fire trap' and in this sta, ment he is supported by Insuranc Commissioner Boney, by State activities the meeting to be held here will be called upon to pass upon a new constitution and a revised set Advisory Commission, by the Prison of by-laws. Miss Elsie G. Riddick of Board and by the Prison officials. These men should know whereof they speak as they have made a thorough inspection of the old Central Prison.

"In this building are housed over 500 souls. Men and women who, although entenced to prison, still have thopes for the future, still have the same love of life, feelings and emorable the same love of life and tions as others of us. They were not sentenced to death by the courts neither did the courts sentence them 6-13, that their lives might each day and night be placed in jeopardy. Yet with the physical condition of the Central Prison, condemned as it has been by those who can speak with authority and overcrowded as it is through lack of facilities, there is every night the danger of a great conflagration in which these 500 or more human lives might be lost. Even at best there would be no chance to save all.

done, but the cost would be more than half the cost of a new and modern plant, and we would not then have boys from the old and hardened criminals, neither would we have proper means of preger segregation of young isolation units. This morning The News and Observer in an editorial opposes the erection of a new building on the grounds the interest on the bonds will be about $16,000.00.

The Prison Advisory Commission, composed in part, of such men as Hon, Nathan O'Berry, Hon, A, D. McLean, Mr. T. L. Bland, Hon. A. H. Graham, Hon, E. B. Jeffress, Dr. Howard Odum and others estimate the economies effected by the erection of a new prison building will exceed the interest charges by several thousand dollars annually. These men speak after making a thorough surviv and invistigation. Are we to consider the financial end only? Are we to let an expense of a few thousand dollars stand in the way of protecting the lives of several hundred human beings?
