POLITICS RUINED COUNTY, CHURCH, SAYS NEWS WRITER

East Fork Correspondent Suggests Mixed Ticket as Solution of the Matter

WISHES POLITICS MIGHT BE THROWN OVERBOARD

Strong Article By Leading Woman Contains Appeal to County's Manhood

(East Fork Correspondence) The everlasting candidates! Don't they make you sick? All ready the mails are being flooded with letters from would-be nominees, begging folks to support them, just like we didn't have all we can or ever could do to support ourselves.

Honestly, we believe politics are the ruin of our county and churches. Politics have such hold on the majority of the folks and elections coming so closely to each other—there's no breathing space left. Politics make neighbors fall out, church members disagree. Why some of our folks just won't pay anything towards the support of the church. Stewards and deacons of churches won't speak decently to each other just because they don't vote alike. Sunday School students quit Sunday School and church members quit going to church because the preacher or Sunday School superintendent doesn't vote like they do or Superintendents and teachers resign because all their Sunday teachers and pupils don't vote just like they do. It's a shame, but it's just like that.

We wish both parties in this county would get together and throw politics so far they'd never be heard of again and pick our good, honest, sensible men from both political parties. (Oh, yes, they have got them in both parties.)

Put men from one party on for half the ticket, men from the other party for the other half. The men running could then stay at home and tend their own business. Voters could go to election and vote them in. It would do away with all the threats, mud slinging, raking up old scandals, fighting, back biting, buying, selling, stealing, mean lowdown tricks, even the much cursed and discussed abuse of the vote wouldn't be needed. We wouldn't have to have watchers at the election to see that somebody else didn't land somebody they'd bought. Well, and while we're about it we don't see the need of elections being

To Preach at Revival

REV. G. T. BOND

Revival at Brevard Methodist Church To Begin Sunday Morning; All Invited

The annual revival of the Brevard Methodist church, conducted by Dr. G. T. Bond, pastor of the West Asheville Methodist church, will begin Sunday morning, October the 1st at eleven o'clock. The meeting will continue for two weeks with night services at seven thirty o'clock in the Methodist church. The morning services will be held at 9:45 o'clock in the Brevard Institute main auditorium, since Prof. J. F. Winton, superintendent of the Institute has announced that the annual spiritual meeting of his school has been consolidated with that of the Methodist church.

All services are non-denominational and the public is cordially invited to attend both the church and Institute services.

Dr. Bond is noted as a splendid and impressive preacher, and it is expected that his meetings will be of great advantage to this town and county.

Immediately following the two weeks revival of the Methodist church the revival meeting of the Baptist church will begin. It is to be conducted by Dr. Jesse C. Owen. Dr. Owen is widely known among the people of this county, and he will be welcomed here.

CHURCH LOSING ITS APPEAL IN BREVARD AS SURVEY REVEALS

Only One Out of Four Inhabitants Attend Sunday School, Says the Report

EVEN SMALLER NUMBER AT CHURCH SERVICE

One-Third of Church Members Attend Church as an Average

Brevard's standing as a church-going town is away down the percentage column, according to a survey recently made, which was thoroughly discussed by Rev. Paul Hartsell, of the Brevard Baptist church, last Sunday. The survey reveals that one out of five people in the town attend Sunday School, while even a smaller number attend church services. The survey further reveals that only one out of three church members attend church services.

The town has a population of nearly 2,400.

The Sunday schools of the town have less than five hundred average attendance.

Church services are attended by an average number of 450.

Wednesday night prayer meetings of the town in all the churches have a combined attendance of around 150.

The survey shows that half the population of the town "belongs" to the churches, being enrolled as members. There are, according to the report, 1,250 church members in the town, and the average church attendance of 450 shows that only about one-third of the church members attend church services.

Church leaders look upon this condition as being "deplorable," and the Rev. Mr. Hartsell declared from the pulpit that this indifference, this non-attendance of church services by such a large number of citizens is having bad effect upon the rising generation, and will prove to be a great handicap upon the children of today when they become the men and women of tomorrow.

"It is from this large number of non-church goers that so much of our lawlessness springs," Mr. Hartsell declared. It is further charged that

BREVARD RATE TO BE $1.25, INDICATED IN BUDGET ESTIMATE

Despite Deficits of Past Year, Board Brought Tax Rate Down Eleven Cents

OPERATING EXPENSES CUT TO VERY QUICK

Town Tax Rate Reduction Added to County's Reduction Is Very Encouraging

Brevard's budget estimate, as prepared by the clerk, H. H. Patton, provides for a town tax rate of $1.25 on the hundred dollars valuation, this being a reduction of 11 cents from the tax rate of last year. This estimate is arrived at after careful pruning of every possible operating expense, yet with inclusion of deficits in past years which had to be included in this year's budget. Town officials assert that the rate could have been reduced still more had it not been for deficits in recent years.

Under practically every heading this year's budget estimate is lower than the amounts included in last year's budgets, insofar as operating expenses are concerned, showing that the town authorities have pruned every expenditure where it was possible to do so. In the water department this year's budget estimate of expenditure is $1,540.17 against $1,609.29 last year. The sewer department's estimate for this year is $718.15 against $1,257.79 last year. Streets and sidewalks are given an estimated item this year of $2,932.37 as against $3,641.30 spent last year. The police department is allowed $2,380.00 this year as against $2,905.76 last year. Salaries for mayor and town officials this year amounts to $2,590 as against $3,291.95 last year. The fire department is given $851 as against $1,090.60 last year. Lights, this year, $4,906.31 as against $4,907.07. (Of this amount in this year's budget for lights, $1,697.77 is for deficit of last year, but had to be included in this year's budget.)

Reduction was also made in the list of miscellaneous items. The total general operating expenses included in the budget estimate amounts to $19,385.92, less cash on hand of

CANTEEN TO MOVE INTO NEW QUARTERS

"The Canteen," operated by "Doc" Galloway, will move from its present location Monday night into the Weilt building, directly opposite the Plummer Co., Mr. Galloway announced Wednesday. The cafe will be open for business Tuesday morning.

Original plans were to the effect that The Canteen would move Friday night and be open for business Saturday; however, the delay has been announced since certain necessary equipment was late in arriving.

"Doc" Galloway had the interior of the building re-worked and re-modeled into a modern, convenient cafe. The cafe will be larger, more attractive and equipped for better service than in the present location.

Mr. Galloway invites all his old friends and customers, whose patronage he has enjoyed for the three years he has operated the Canteen and new friends to visit him Tuesday in the modern, up-to-date equipped location to try his service there.

The Brevard Institute football team, after several snappy drills by Coach "Tony" Trantham, will venture out upon the field for their first battle Friday afternoon with Pickens High School on the Pickens field.

The B. I. Team is a much heavier team than it was last year, having several beefy men in the line and well-built players in the backfield.

Coach Trantham announced that only four games have been definitely scheduled for the current season.

POSTPONE ROSMAN FAIR UNTIL CORBIN RETURNS

Postponement of the Rosman Community Fair, originally set for October 9, was made necessary when Wallace Gillespie covered himself with glory in the cattle judging contest last Saturday. Both Prof. Corbin and Gillespie leave on October 8 for St. Louis, a trip won by Gillespie in his victory at Raleigh, hence the necessity for postponing the fair.

Upon the return of Prof. Corbin and Mr. Gillespie further announcement will be made concerning the fair.

WOMAN'S BUREAU TO MEET NEXT MONDAY AFTERNOON

October meeting of the Woman's Bureau will be held Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the former Chamber of Commerce building on East Main street. ## REVIVALIST HERE FOR REST AT HOME

Rev. J. P. Mason, associate pastor of the Brevard Methodist church, was visiting with his family in Brevard during the week-end of Sept. 27, after closing a series of revival meetings which had extended over a period of 15 weeks, in Henderson and Buncombe counties. Mr. Mason reported that more than 200 conversions were made during these meetings.

He left Sunday to conduct a revival meeting for Dr. I. B. Mitchell at Sardis Methodist church, near West Asheville, and he is scheduled for other meetings which will last until November the 1st.

Mr. Mason was appointed by Dr. D. M. Litaker, presiding elder of the Asheville District of the Methodist Episcopal Church South to act as district evangelist during this year. He is fulfilling that position eagerly and successfully. When he closes his last meeting on November first he will have completed a series of meetings continuing for 18 weeks without rest.

Prisoners from Henderson and Buncombe counties will work the road, officials said and they will be stationed at the Prison camp in Hendersonville.

There is road and bridge construction being carried on in most all directions leading in and out of Rosman.

The South Carolina crew as well as North Carolina crew are working on Picken's Highway which has always been considered a good mountain road. When this work is finished this will not be one of the best highways in this section but one of the most beautiful.

ROAD WORK SOON TO START ON BOYLSTON

A state road working plant is being moved from Cashiers to the Baynard place on Boylston this week, announced Highway officials Wednesday and it is expected that the plant will be ready for operation by the last of next week.

The completion and paving of the Boylston road will make a much shorter route between Brevard and Asheville and at the same time open up one of the richest sections of Transylvania County.

Prisoners from Henderson and Buncombe counties will work the road, officials said and they will be stationed at the Prison camp in Hendersonville.

Only 170 Men and Women In Brevard Territory Are Now Available For Jobs

According to a Chamber of Commerce census taken by Donald Lee Moore to survey the unemployment situation, there are only 170 men and women within a five mile radius of Brevard who are out of work and desire immediate employment. Upon these 170 men and women there is an average of three dependents to each one.

Brevard and vicinity was divided into five districts for the census. When the census was completed after an eight-day survey it was found that Brevard had 115 unemployed men and women; Pisgah Forest, 18; Selica and vicinity, 20; Greenville highway section, 9; and Davidson River 8. Every home within a five mile radius of Brevard was visited in order to make the census complete.

There are approximately 3500 people living within the five mile radius, nearly one-half of this number are school children, or children of school age. Omitting the persons unable to work, it is estimated that there is a working population of one thousand. Upon this basis practically five per cent of the population is out of employment.

Mr. Moore found that in the majority of the homes, conditions were favorable and the people spoke cheerfully of better times ahead and they were not downcast because of the present depression. Comparatively few persons or families are really in need of food and clothing. All in all, conditions are apparently better than they were this time last year.

Though not completely out of employment, there are many workers employed on part time positions in Transylvania Tanning Co. and Carr Lumber Co., who get some work each week. They speak cheerfully of procuring full time positions some time during the winter. Though the Pisgah cotton mill is not in operation at present, the workers are expecting it to resume operations in the near future.

Mr. Moore found that within the five mile radius there are many men and women out of employment who do not desire to work. Many are simply waiting for a big position, and a small job, that might be arranged for them, is not at all attractive. Fortunately, the majority of this group do not have any dependents to suffer because of their false pride and voluntary inertia.

Upon the basis that there are three dependents for each man and woman in need of employment there are over 500 people who will suffer this winter to some extent, unless conditions improve or business opens up to increase employment.

Wallace Gillespie Won In The State Contest and Goes to St. Louis Meet

Wallace Gillespie, 20-year-old Rosman High School boy, won second place at Raleigh last Saturday in a state-wide cattle judging contest, and because of this victory won the right to represent North Carolina at the National Dairy Show to be held in St. Louis, Mo., next week. Young Gillespie and his instructor, Prof. J. F. Corbin, agricultural teacher in Rosman school, will leave on October 8 for St. Louis, the state paying expenses for both.

Wilbur Bunch, of Bath, won first place in the state contest, and he, with his instructor, Prof. R. C. Jordan, will also attend the St. Louis affair.

All Transylvania county is rejoicing over the success attained by Wallace Gillespie, who first sprung into the limelight of cattle judging at Biltmore Dairies two weeks ago, when he won first honors in the district contest, winning the right to enter the state contest last Saturday, where he pulled down greater honors. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gillespie, of East Fork, and drives the school bus from that community to the Rosman school, having been given this job because of the unanimous demand of the patrons of East Fork that he be given the place.

Young Gillespie is a member of the Rosman chapter of Young Tar Heel Farmers, and his teachers and the citizens who know him best predict for the young man a great future in the field of agriculture and stock raising.
