The Crooked Foot Path

Ah, there it is! The same old trail That makes old remembered spot, The gap that struck our schoolmate's trail, The crooked path across the lot.

It left the road by school and church A gray shadow, nothing more And ended at the farm house door. That parted from the silver bird MYRTLE RAINES, 7th Grade.

Kind Words

Five things observe with care, Of whom you speak, To whom, and when, how and where, Kinds words cost Nothing, and they mean much. If we don't have gifts To give, as we would like to have through Christmas times, We can speak kind Words—A worthy gift indeed. DOROTHY WILDE, 7th Grade.

Christmas

Christmas is drawing near. Oh! how the little ones will enjoy getting up that morning and seeing that Santa has come. They will enjoy playing with their toys and eating nuts and candies and fruits. If it snows they will have much fun making snow men. After all, Christmas is just about the happiest time of the year. HELEN SUMMEY, 6th Grade.

The Boy Who Was Scolded

Once there was a little boy who was often scolded by his aunt for playing with the steaming tea kettle. He would sit and hold a spoon over the spout and watch the steam turn to drops of water. The aunt did not think such play safe for a child; he should be studying. So he was scolded. This boy who was being thus scolded was James Watt, who later invented the steam engine. HERBERT WOODARD, 6th Grade.

Christmas Holidays

It is but two weeks until Christmas and all the school children are very happy, for they will then have the usual enjoyable Yuletide vacation. The little children, especially, will be pleased, for then Saint Nick will pay his visit and thrill them with his gifts. HAZEL MOORE, 6th Grade.

Our Christmas Tree

A few days before Christmas we go to the forest to choose a Christmas tree. We select the prettiest tree in the forest, which is usually a holly with bright red berries. After we bring it home and place it in a warm room, we put pretty bells and all kinds of sparkling decorations on it. When we finish decorating the tree it is very beautiful.

On Christmas Eve Santa comes and his toys and presents. Then on Christmas Day we all gather around the tree and enjoy the nice things makes the tree more beautiful with Santa has brought.

BILL OWEN, 5th Grade.

The Significance of Christmas

Christmas means more than just remembering our friends' with gifts. It means that all the world is celebrating the birth of Christ.

Even though Christ was born in a lowly stable and lay in a manger, He is the greatest and most powerful of all men ever known to the world. A star shone over the stable where the Christ Child lay, and guided the shepherds there that they might offer gifts to the Saviour. This is the reason that we give gifts today, to show our love for others.

All over the world people remember this day and celebrate it for same purpose.

LUCILLE GALLOWAY, 5th Grade

Christmas

I want to catch a glimpse of Santa and his reindeer as he comes hurrying over the snow. I feel sure that he will not forget to drop in a moment to learn if I have been a good little boy and what I want for Christmas. If he should want to know he will find a letter in my stocking hanging on the same old nail.

FRANK WHITMIRE, 4th Grade.

Winter Is Here

Last Wednesday morning everything was covered with sleet. Every pine was bending almost to the ground. The large trees were covered with ice and their limbs were bending. Several of our classmates were absent from school because of the falling trees.

CHARLES HUGGINS, 4th Grade.

Our Visitors

We had a visitor in our schoolroom Thursday. We are always glad to have outsiders, especially our mothers, visit our room. We are always just as nice and quiet as we can be while they are here and try to make them feel welcome so they will come again.

D. H. WINCHESTER, JR., 4th Grade.

The Birth of Christ

It was a cold winter day long ago. A baby was born in a manger in Bethlehem. Mary and Joseph were his mother and father. They loved him very much. This baby was Jesus Christ. When he was a man the people crucified him. MARIE WILD, 3rd Grade.

Christmas

I always look forward to Christmas

Seventh Grade Decorates for Christmas The seventh grade of the Rosman Elementary school is beginning to decorate the room for Christmas.

The seventh grade has two small Christmas trees in their room, which are decorated with bells, tinsel, ice cycles, and other Christmas decorations, to make the room beautiful.

The room is decorated with holly and mistletoe and has a large Christmas bell in the middle of the room, which hangs under the light globe.

Red and green streamers run from it to all the corners of the room.

The committees working on the decorating deserve much credit.

Billy Dockins, Everette Whitmire, D. S. Winchester, Earl Whitmire, J. D. Powell, J. E. Bert, G. C. McClure and Lamar Whitmire had charge of getting and putting up the decorations.

Millie Allison, Margaret Glazener, and Pauline Sutton are making wreaths and arranging the decorations.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

"What is the Christmas Spirit? It is the spirit which brings a smile to the lips and tenderness to the heart; it is the spirit which warms one into friendship to every man and woman, to every boy and girl."

For the Christmas motto is "peace on Earth, good will to men", and the spirit of Christmas demands that it ring in the hearts and find expression in kindly acts and loving words. "What a joyful thing for the world it would be if the Christmas spirit could be this, not only on the holiday but on every other day of the year. What a beautiful place the world would be to live in. Peace and Good will be everywhere and always.

Let each of us resolve, that so far as we are concerned, Peace and Good Will shall be our motto every day, and that we shall do our best to make the Christmas Spirit last all the year 'round.

The ordinary calendar has but one "twentyfifth of December," but one tender, loving, sweet forgiving time. As I said my word of greeting and of glad wishing to you, my friends, may I think how different your calendar is from that other? You read, do you not, the never meaning clear. You see that the Christmas gladness, the tenderness, the sense of brotherhood, need not be confined to one day; and as I wish you happy Christmas I can almost hear you say, can I not, "It is always Christmas somewhere in the Calendar of the Heart."

Will you join with me in this beautiful prayer on Christmas morning. It is "The Christmas Prayer," by Dr. Van Dyke.

A PRAYER

Father of all men, look upon our family, kneeling together before Thee and grant us a true Christmas. With loving heart we bless Thee: For the gift of Thy dear Son, Jesus Christ. For the PEACE he brings to human homes. For the Good Will he reaches to sinful men. For the Glory of Thy Goodness shining in his face. With deed desire we beseech Thee: Help us to keep His birthday truly, Help us to offer in his name, our Christmas prayer.

From the sickness of sin and the darkness of doubt. From selfish pleasures and sullen pains. From the frost of pride and the fever of envy. God give us everyone, through the Blessings of Jesus.

In prayer and praising, in giving and receiving, in eating and drinking.

in singing and making merry, in parents gladness, and in children's mirth, in dear memories of those who have departed, in good comradeship, with those who are far away, in patient waiting, sweet, contented, generous cheer, God bless us, everyone with the Blessings of Jesus.

By remembering our kinship with all men, by well wishing, friendly speaking and kindly doing, by cheering the downcast, and adding sunshine to daylight. By welcoming strangers (poor shepherds or wise men), by keeping the music of the angels song in this home, God forgive us, every one to share The Blessings of Jesus.

Amen

Let each of us resolve, that so far as we are concerned, Peace and Good Will shall be our motto every day, and that we shall do our best to make the Christmas Spirit last all the year 'round.

The ordinary calendar has but one "twentyfifth of December," but one tender, loving, sweet forgiving time. BABY CHICK BOOK VERY INSTRUCTIVE

A hip-pocket volume crammed with facts about baby chicks—their care, feeding, and management—has just appeared from the press and is ready for distribution. It is the Purina Hip Pocket Poultry Manual, offering the busy owner of poultry little helps and hints which mean so much.

In addition to the many pages devoted to baby chicks a simple, concise, and well-organized plan of poultry-keeping is given, treating all phases of the work from the care of newlyhatched chicks thru feeding, watering, disease prevention, and control, to that climax of all poultry raising—egg production and the maintaining of it over a long period without detriment to the hens.

The causes of disease, symptoms, cures and control make up a chapter of value. The story is told in words and pictures, written from a scientific background in the language of the poultryman. Copies can be obtained, without charge, at B. & B. Feed & Seed company.
