MR. HENDERSON SAYS COUNTY NEEDS REAL SERVANT OF PEOPLE

As Member of Next Session of the North Carolina Legislature.

NO CAT'S PAW SHOULD BE IN IMPORTANT POSITION

Thanks People For Their Support—Would Abolish the Jury Commission.

Declaring that Transylvania county's representative in the next session of the legislature should be a "servant of all the people, and not a cat's paw" for any one, T. C. Henderson, defeated in the recent primary for the Democratic nomination, expressed gratitude to those who supported him and gives his opinion on many needed things for this county. Mr. Henderson is one of the best known men of the county, and was a close runner-up of M. W. Galloway, second high man in the race, now engaged in the run-off with W. M. Henry.

Following is the full statement of Mr. Henderson:

To the Citizens of Transylvania County:

I wish to express my sincere and grateful thanks to the citizens of the county who, by their splendid vote at our Democratic primary, expressed their confidence in me and their earnest desire that I be given the responsibility of representing the citizens of this county in the next session of our State legislature.

I desired to represent this county in our next General assembly, because I believed that my opportunities to know the State and the needs of the county would enable me to do more than others would do to relieve our county and our State of unjust and intolerable taxation burdens, without any decrease in efficiency of service. I realized as you, of course, must all fully realize that our next representative must be the servant of all the people of the county, and not "cat's paw" for any whose ideas are not extended to the interests of all

LOCAL WOMEN ARE HONORED AT MEET

Mrs. McCrary And Mrs. Robertson Have Important Parts On Program.

Mrs. Mary Jane McCrary, district chairman of the Business and Professional Women's clubs, and Mrs. Lodema Robertson, president of the Brevard club, have returned after attending the state convention held at Winston-Salem during last week. The Brevard women were highly honored at the State meeting, and were among the leading officials in the conduct of the convention.

Mrs. McCrary was selected as chairman of the group on public relations and read the report of the committee, which was pronounced to be one of the most interesting papers heard by the convention. Mrs. McCrary also reported for the district chairmen on the work done by the board of directors during the past year.

Mrs. Robertson delivered an address on the subject, "Young at Forty," which was so impelling in its forcefulness that The Winston-Salem Sentinel, in addition to the news article, also published an editorial on the address. Members of the Brevard club have expressed keen appreciation of the fact that Mrs. Robertson was the only member of the State convention receiving editorial mention except that devoted to one of the national officers.

Winston-Salem papers gave unusual space to the workings of the convention, and it is declared that no other group ever made greater impression upon a convention in this state than that made by the Business and Professional Women's club. Among the social activities in honor of the visiting women was a garden party given by Mrs. S. Clay Williams, wife of the president of the Reynolds Tobacco company, and an evening's entertainment by the "Camel Follies." Many smaller social affairs were given for the visitors.

It has been announced that Mrs. Smith and Mrs. C. N. Erwin will have charge of the Chamber of Commerce work at the library during the summer, distributing the Brevard pamphlets and giving all information. The pamphlets which were ordered two weeks ago are expected to arrive here Thursday.

A CORRECTION

Due to an error in addition, The Brevard News stated last week that there was an even 100 votes more cast in the contest for sheriff in the Democratic primary than were cast in the legislative race. There were only 10 more votes in the sheriff's race than that cast in the legislative contest, instead of 100, as stated. Some day The Brevard News will buy an adding machine or learn to count up to one hundred.

GREAT INTEREST IN REVIVAL SERVICES

Enthusiastic congregations have been attending all of the revival services being held at the Brevard Baptist Church, where Rev. Jesse R. Owen with his impressive inspiring sermons has attracted them to worship.

Services are held each morning at 10 o'clock and each evening at 8 o'clock with a short prayer meeting for the benefit of persons who feel the need of prayer prior to the regular evening services.

Rev. J. R. Owens powerful sermons of well thought out and skillfully planned composition have so gripped the attention of Brevard people that the church is filled every evening.

It is expected that the services will be concluded with Sunday's services unless the expression of the people calls for a continued series.

Serious Situation Staring Citizens of Community In Face; Crisis Approaches

100 FAMILIES MUST HAVE AID OR WANT, HUNGER TO FOLLOW

County Welfare Board Without Supplies And Has Less Than $6 On Hand.

COLD, BARE FACTS SHOW DISTRESSING CONDITION

But Few Citizens Have Aided—Canvas to Be Made And Names Published.

People of Brevard and Transylvania county must help, and that regularly, in the task of feeding one hundred needy families, or the members of these families are going hungry.

These bare, cold facts were brought out at the meeting Wednesday morning of the Community Welfare Board, held in the commissioners' room at the court house.

The board has nothing on hand now to speak of, in the way of food, and less than $6 in money; Saturday is coming, and with it will come those people who need and must have assistance. Of course, there is the flour on hand, shipped here by the Federal government, and while that is a great help, it does not in any manner meet the needs of the hour. This flour must be distributed according to regulations made by the government, and then, too, people cannot live on biscuits alone.

A solicitation is to be made Friday for Saturday's needs. The report was made that a few people have been

DOUGLAS NAMED AS NEW CHAIRMAN OF WELFARE WORKERS

Thorough Organization Of Forces To Care For Needy Is Planned.

STRICT INVESTIGATION OF ALL CASES TO BE MADE

No Deadheads or Deadbeats To Be Aided—House To House Solicitation.

Charles M. Douglas was elected chairman of the County Welfare Board at a meeting of the executive committee Wednesday morning, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Alex. Kizer, who has been chairman since the board was organized. Mr. Kizer was compelled to resign the chairmanship because of multiplying duties in connection with the welfare work interfering to such an extent with his official duties as county accountant. It was explained that Mr. Kizer had much work to do in preparation of budgets that must be completed for the county. Then, too, Mr. Kizer has given much time and labor to the work of the welfare board.

Chairman Douglas announced that he would perfect a thorough organization at once, naming a man or woman to act as sub-chairman in charge of the work of solicitation; another sub-chairman to have charge of all distribution of supplies; and a third sub-chairman to have charge of procuring work for those who ap-

SCOUT MISTRESS OF GEORGIA IS VISITOR

Mrs. J. Sam Guy, Scout Mistress of Troop No. 3 Girl Scouts of Atlanta, Ga., was visiting in Brevard Friday June 10 and while here she spent several hours at the Girl Scout camp at Camp Sapphire.

She was very enthusiastic over the apparent success of the camp and made the following statement in regard to it:

Camp Silver Lake is an ideal Girl Scout camp. Too, Brevard girls are very fortunate in having such a lovely place. We came in just before the close of camp and found them all very happy and excited over the closing festivities. The girls were all finishing up work for their merit badges and I was a bit envious of the beautiful lake and canoes which few Girl Scout camps can afford. The friendly spirit of both girls and leaders warmed our hearts. The girls took my girl, who is an enthusiastic Scout and made her feel at home with them at once giving splendid exhibition of the lav of being a sister to every other girl scout.

YOUNG AT FORTY IS SUBJECT OF SPEECH

Mrs. Robertson's Address Subject of Editorial in Winston-Salem Sentinel.

Mrs. Lodema Robertson, president of the Brevard Business and Professional Women's club, was the subject of an interesting editorial in The Winston-Salem Sentinel during the State convention held there last week. The Sentinel, in lead editorial said: Women in Business and Industry.

At the opening session of the thirteenth annual state convention of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in this city last night, Mrs. Lodema Robertson, of Brevard, delivered an intriguing address on the subject, "Young at Forty."

Mrs. Robertson stressed the idea that as the years pile up on the woman in business, she finds herself in close competition with young women and must keep herself attractive and youthful in appearance to hold her job.

While this theme is interesting, it is by no means new to the woman in business. She has seen concrete examples of the workings of this theory from time to time in her experience. And doubtless, too, she has seen efficiency too often sacrificed to bright eyes and a demure smile.

It is difficult to determine to just what extent sex governs the processes of modern business, but that its influence is potent there can be no question. But the biggest handicap which confronts woman in the business and professional world today is that she is a woman and is attributed the characteristics of the female of the species. We have not yet learned to look upon her objectively, as Dr. Jones, or President Johnson, but still regard her as "the woman doctor," and the "woman who heads a corporation."

And, too, we have learned via psy-
