BIG CONCERN WANTS TO BUY 50,000 HOGS FROM FARMERS HERE

Prof. Julian Glazener And 20 Young Farmers Going to Visit Atlanta Firm.

WOULD MEAN MILLION DOLLAR CASH INCOME

Brevard Group To Visit Eery School At Rome While On the Trip.

Next Tuesday morning Julian Glazener and twenty members of the Tar Heel Farmers of the Brevard Chapter will leave for Atlanta, to visit the plant of the Swift Provision company, a subsidiary of the Swift company. That concern hopes to be able to purchase a minimum of 50,000 hogs a year from Transylvania county farmers, believing that this big program can be reached within the next five years. It is to interest the young farmers in the program that they have been invited to visit the Atlanta plant, where the hogs will be shown through the entire packing process, from the stock yard to the refrigerator plant.

Mr. Glazener believes that the pro-

TRANSYLVANIA MEN TO SIT ON FAIN CASE IN HENDERSONVILLE

Twice Tried Before Henderson Juries, Resulting In Mis-trial Both Times.

MR. FAIN'S AFFIDAVIT IS FILED WITH COURT

Setting Forth Reasons Why He Cannot Obtain Fair Trial In Henderson County.

Twenty-four Transylvania county citizens have been summoned to appear at the next term of Superior court in Henderson county, from which number a jury will be selected to hear the case of O. M. Page, administrator of Charles Emmett Stepp, deceased against J. T. Fain and Annie R. Fain. The case grew out of an automobile collision of the car driven by the Fains and one driven by Stepp, who was killed. The case has been heard twice in the Henderson county court, but no verdict has been reached.

Mr. Fain filed an affidavit in which he requested removal of the trial to another county, expressing belief that sympathy for the widow

REVIVAL BEGINS NEXT SUNDAY AT CARRS HILL

A revival meeting will begin at the Carr's Hill Baptist church Sunday night with Rev. B. N. Rogers, in charge, according to a recent announcement released to this newspaper.

Rev. Mr. Rogers is said to be a wonderful preacher and it is believed that his work in the church will revive the spirit of the congregations to a great extent. Everyone is invited to attend the meetings and hear Mr. Rogers with his series of powerful sermons.

Journalist Describes the Beauty of Electrical Storm on Pisgah Mountain

While enjoying a picnic on Mt. Pisgah in the Pisgah National Forest, a party including Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Vaughan and their daughters, Misses Ruth and Martha Vaughan and Mr. and Mrs. Theo Vaughan witnessed one of the most beautiful spectacles of nature, an electric thunder storm. In response to the request of her father-in-law, Rev. A. L. Vaughan, Mrs. Theo Vaughan, a Journalistic student at Clemson College, S. C. wrote the following beautiful description of her interpretation of the scene.

Whether or not it dominated the scene—in fact, it rather seemed to tolerate a few scattered clouds. But Nature, Commander of all elements, was using sunshine, wind, and clouds, that day to administer her holiest sacrament, baptism, to her greatest, and therefore her most beloved of all the "high places," Pisgah. Alone, we mortals enter this world; alone we go beneath the soul-cleansing water of redemption; alone we go from this vale of tears into eternal life. And it was so with Pisgah. Nature wrapped soft, grey clouds tenderly, gently about the peak until, with

Beloved Physician Is Dead

DR. W. M. LYDAY

DR. BILL LYDAY DIED MONDAY MORNING FROM STROKE SUFFERED THE DAY BEFORE

Dr. "Bill" Lyday, one of the best loved men of the county, died Monday morning, after having suffered a stroke Sunday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, at the Lyday home on Maple street, the Rev. Jesse R. Owen, pastor of the French Broad Baptist church in Asheville, conducted the rites. The Rev. Paul Hartsell, pastor of the Brevard Baptist church, assisted the Rev. Dr. Owen. Burial was made in the Davidson River cemetery, Pisgah Forest.

A great host of friends gathered at the Maple street home to pay their last respects to their departed friend.

Many out-of-town friends came to Brevard for the services. Floral offerings were piled high about the casket, many of which came from distant points, others being gathered and arranged by loving hands of those who had received the sympathetic aid from the doctor.

Dr. Lyday was born in the Penrose section of Transylvania county on October 18, 1863, the son of the late Dr. A. J. and Mrs. Lyday. He attended the public schools of the county, later teaching school here for several years. He entered the University of

EROSION AND SOIL DISCUSSED AT MEET

Little River Farmers Hear O. B. Jones, Henderson County Farm Agent.

(By Correspondent)
Mr. O. B. Jones, County Agent from Henderson County, chose a good subject for discussion at the 5-10 Farm meeting at Little River last week. The pity is that more of such attention to land waste has not been put forward in days past. Now, what is erosion? Washing rains are carrying our good top-soils away to the Mississippi Delta. That is erosion or land waste. Mr. Jones

"WAY PAPPY DID IT" IS SUBJECT OF NEWS ARTICLE ON COUNTY

Written By Associate Editor of The Miami Daily News, On Vacation at Davidson River

"SOIL EROSION" AND FARM METHODS TALKED

Interesting Picture of County As Seen By Visitor—As To No Farm Agent Here

Truman T. Felt, associate editor of The Miami Daily News, who, with his family, is spending his summer vacation at Davidson River, wrote an article that appeared in last Sunday morning's edition of The Miami News as a feature article. Mr. Felt's special dealt with soil erosion and methods of farming in Transylvania county, and paid great tribute to the work that is being done by the teachers of vocational agriculture here.

The Florida newspaper editor writing on the subject: "Pappy Did It That Way," strikes at rock bottom facts as to methods generally used in farming and expresses concern in the tone of his article because this county has no farm agent.

The article appearing in last Sunday's Miami paper is as follows:

Rev. J. F. Winton Heard by Large Number In Farewell Sermon Here

"Any manifestation of power, whether physical or spiritual, directs us to its source. We cannot be content merely with the manifestation. We seek to understand its origin. So in the manifestations we see of the power of spiritual religion in the life of Jesus and in the life of men brings on the impelling necessity of discovering its secrets."
