GLAZENER ORDERS 500 POUNDS SEED

The Brevard Chapter, Future Farmers of America, under the direction of Professor Glazener, agricultural instructor in the Brevard High school has been studying the value and importance of winter legumes as a cover crop.

The boys are merely getting the theoretical side of the studies they are making but are being taught to put into practice, at the time, and under careful supervision, the things they learn in the class room. Thirty of the students and young farmers are sowing one or more of the legumes at their homes on practice plots which they will turn under next spring.

Professor Glazener has just placed an order for more than 500 pounds of hairy winter vetch and Austrian winter pea seed to be planted by the boys this fall.

Not only these boys but farmers throughout the county are being interested in the study of these cover crops as well as the other phases of the work and a number of them are acting on the suggestions of the Prof. Glazener and are getting ready to sow the seeds in the near future.

DEATH CLAIMS REV. WALLACE HARTSELL

Was Pastor of Brevard Baptist Church For A Period of Seven Years.

Rev. Wallace Hartsell, for seven years pastor of the Brevard Baptist church, died at Durham last Friday night, following an operation earlier in the week. Funeral services were held at Lakewood Baptist church, in Durham, Sunday afternoon, where the deceased had been pastor for the past two years. Burial was made Monday afternoon in Oakboro cemetery, Stanley county.

The Rev. Mr. Hartsell came to Brevard in 1922, and soon became one of the outstanding men in the community. His preaching was powerful and the congregation increased in number rapidly during his pastorate. As a citizen he was most active, being one of the best loved members of the Brevard Kiwanis club from the time of its organization, and was for many years a member of the board of directors of the club, serving one year as president. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Woodmen of the World and other fraternal organizations. He was in constant demand as a speaker, and while living in Brevard was called upon to speak in practically every city and town in Western North Carolina.

In 1929 Mr. Hartsell left Brevard to take the pastorate of the Baptist church in King's Mountain, and was soon called to the larger church at Durham, where he served as pastor until his death.

Rev. Paul Hartsell, a brother, came to Brevard as pastor of the Baptist church when the Rev. Wallace Hartsell left here. Rev. Paul Hartsell and his family left Brevard early last week to be at the bedside of his stricken brother, and was with him at his passing.

The deceased is survived by his widow, one son and one daughter, and his father, the Rev. P. S. Hartsell, and several brothers, including Rev. Paul Hartsell, of Brevard.

LOCAL MEN ATTEND CHAPEL HILL MEET

Hon. Ralph Ramsey, mayor of Brevard, Mr. Otto Alexander, clerk of the Superior court, W. B. Henderson, county commissioner and W. E. Breese, county attorney attended the Institute of Government at Chapel Hill college, which was held Friday evening and Saturday morning.

The meeting was attended by more than 700 persons representing practically all branches of municipal, county, state and Federal government; mayors, county officers, judges and state officials.

Among the prominent speakers were Gov. O. Max Gardner, of North Carolina and Dean Roscoe Pounds of the Harvard Law school and others.

According to Mr. Ramsey, the purpose of the institute is to educate public officers into the duties of the various offices and to promote uniformity of operation in city, county, state and federal departments of the government. These practices to be outlined in a text book for use by the various officials.

"The Institute of Government," Mr. Ramsey said "is being organized to relieve a situation existing at the present time which must be remedied. Office holders, newly elected to their respective posts, launch into their duties with absolutely no knowledge of how the office is run. The length of time required to become familiar with these duties is that much time lost and that much expense to the people. The function of the Institute will be to promote uniform regulations and practice by the various officials and plans are under way for the establishing of regular classes in government to be attended by the newly elected officials."

YOUNG DEMOCRATS IN MEETING HERE

Pat Kimzey, in an address before the Young Peoples Democratic club at the courthouse here Saturday explained the purposes and objectives of the organization and urged especially that the young ladies take an active part in the work. Following his talk the organization heard a few remarks from other local speakers including Hon. Ralph Ramsey, W. E. Breese and Mr. Galloway. The present club was formerly known as the Young Mens Democratic club.

About 50 enthusiastic persons were in attendance at the meeting. The present officers are: John E. Ruffy, president, Mrs. A. H. Kiser vice-president, Miss Annie Young, treasurer and W. A. Wilson, secretary.

Mr. Ruffy stated that, the announcement relative to the appointment of chairman would be made later. It is expected that clubs will be organized in every precinct in the near future.

MAINE DEMOCRATIC AND SMITH WINNER IN BLEASE CONTEST

Elections In Widely Scattered Sections Hold Interest of People In County.

SHERIFF CRAIG LOSES IN RUN OFF CONTEST

Democrats Accept Victory In Maine As Foretelling National Victory.

Elections this week in widely scattered sections have been the topic of conversation, the people of this community being more interested in the run-off primary in South Carolina, and the general election in Maine than in all others. Maine's election of a Democratic Governor and two Democratic congressmen has served as an encouraging factor to the people of Democratic faith. It is the first time in 18 years that Maine has elected a Democratic governor, and the long accepted rule that "as goes Maine, so goes the Nation," is being used by the Democrats in furthering claims their party will be successful in the national election in November.

That the Republicans have taken notice also of the trend indicated by the Maine elections is found in the urgent appeal made by President Hoover Tuesday night for a greater and more active effort on the part of the members of his party during the remaining weeks of the campaign.

Closer home the run-off contest between Senator Smith, of South Carolina, and former Senator Cole L. Blease has held the attention of the people here almost as much as any contest in North Carolina would hold such interest. Senator Smith was winner, easily out-classing the colorful Coley Blease in the contest.

Defeat of Sheriff Craig in Pickens county, by a bare majority of 23 votes in the run-off caused real concern among the sheriff's many friends in Transylvania county. Sheriff Craig has a great host of friends in this section.

No More "Street Dances" Permitted; Business Houses to Close at Midnight

No street dances may be held in Brevard where there is a charge made for same, and no dance or entertainment of any form may be had without permission from the chairman of the street and of the adjoining property owners, according to action taken by the town council at the regular meeting on September 5.

Another ordinance passed that will be of general interest is that controlling the hours of business in town, all places of business being closed by midnight, except restaurants and cafes, and these must close not later than 12:30 o'clock each night.

An order was made allowing T. Coleman Galloway, city attorney the sum of ten dollars for each tax foreclosure action, five dollars to be paid upon institution of suit, and five upon completion of same.

Following is copy of the minutes of the meeting:

Regular meeting, Monday, September 5, 1932.

Present: Mayor Ramsey and Aldermen Clement, Galloway, Macfie and Wallis.

Minutes of July meetings read and approved.

GROGAN'S SERMONS GREATLY ENJOYED

In the absence of Rev. Paul Hartsell, who was called away due to the death of his brother, Rev. Mack Grogan conducted both the morning and evening services at the Brevard Baptist church last Sunday.

At the morning hour he spoke on "The Home," emphasizing its place in the life of the individual. The sermon was a splendid one and was well delivered.

For the evening service he took as his theme, "The Unconquerable Christ," taking as his text "...He could not be hid." He laid especial stress upon the fact that if Christ is in the individual he cannot be hid because he is so big it is impossible to hide him. He recalled how Christ at times, when he felt the need of rest and relaxation attempted to avoid the crowds and to hide himself but that it was impossible. His sermon was thoroughly enjoyed by all who heard him because of the direct personal application the subject held for the individual and because of the fact Mr. Grogan, one of "Brevard's home boys" is widely known and admired, having been actively interested in church work for some time.

ACTIVITY OF STATE HIGHWAY AFFAIRS RESENTED BY LABOR

Predicted That Highway Patrol Would Become Regular Cossacks In Time.

BEING USED IN STRIKE ZONE AT HIGH POINT

Workers To Carry Protest to the Governor — Young And Inexperienced.

High Point, Sept. 14.—When the state of North Carolina began talking about organizing and placing upon the highways of the state a force to be known as a state highway patrol, leaders of organized labor declared their opposition to the movement. This opposition was based upon the charge that the highway patrol would soon become an army of regular Cossacks, to be used in case of labor troubles against the workers. The idea was opposed by the leaders of the movement.

Since labor troubles started in this city and spread to other places during recent weeks, brought about through the wage reductions put into force and effect by the employers, the state of North Carolina has been doing exactly what the leaders in the labor movement said would be done in the event the state adopted the highway patrol system. The highway policemen have been used in all of these labor troubles and the clash that occurred last Saturday between officers and the workers at Thomasville has emphasized the fact that the leaders in the labor movement were right when making their prediction some years ago.

It is being whispered about here that the officials of North Carolina are to hear from the people because of the use of the highway patrol forces in strike zones. It is being told to the officials that there are regular police forces and sheriff's departments in all of these places where trouble is being experienced between the

EXPECT THEIEVRY TO INCREASE HERE

Mountain Section Once Boasted No Locked Doors, Now Infested:

Suggestion is made that all property owners take precaution in guarding against thievery during the Autumn and Winter months, and acting upon this suggestion it is reported that many shotguns have been oiled up and loaded, new locks have been purchased and new shutters have been placed over windows and openings. Some of the older citizens who recalled the days when no house in this section was ever locked, and corn cribs stood filled to the brim without even any door shutters, cannot yet understand that there is danger of their possessions being stolen. It once was the boast of these mountain sections that no thieves operated hereabouts.

Not only has petty thievery increased, it is pointed out, but regular organized gangs of daring robbers are now operating throughout the state, and it is believed that some of these gangs have their headquarters and their hide-outs in the Western counties of the state. So bold have become some of these gangsters that daylight robberies of banks have been pulled off in North Carolina during recent months in such manner as to turn the attention of the citizens of North Carolina from the racketeer in Chicago to the disturbing fact that these operations in their own state are becoming somewhat commonplace.

One officer remarked, in talking about the situation, that there are two things to be done immediately when there is evidence of the presence of a thief about the premises: Shoot first, and then call the officers. "But when you shoot, shoot to kill," this officer advised.

YOUNG FARMERS TO ACCOMPLISH MUCH

Plans are under way to make the vocational agriculture class of the High school this year one of the best ever. Keen interest is manifest among the students and they are looking forward to the work and study which is being outlined for them by Prof. Glazener, instructor of the class.

These plans will be of considerable interest, not only to the students but to the community in general for there is an ever-increasing interest being shown in all kinds of agricultural enterprises everywhere. It is with this in mind and to do all that can possibly be done to further this work among the Young Tarheel farmers that the Brevard News is setting aside a special department in which the class and the young farmers may keep the public informed as to their activities during the course of the year.

The students of Professor Glazener's class and the Young Tarheel Farmers will edit this section and will give a step by step story of the progress they are making in this work. In it will be reflected the interest and enthusiasm which are characteristic of these young folks who are studying and working that the everyday problems which they may be better fitted to cope with must needs confront in later years.

TRANSYLVANIA TO SHARE IN FUNDS TO EXTENT OF OWN AID

Federal Assistance Is Not To Be Substituted For Local Aid, However.

COUNTY MUST COME WITH ITS FULL PART

And This Will Be Augmented by Funds From Federal Appropriation.

Transylvania County may share in the distribution of Federal Funds for relief of destitution this winter in proportion to the extent that through its own efforts, both private and governmental, its citizens utilize their own resources to this end, according to Dr. Fred Morrison, State director of relief.

Federal assistance in this undertaking, declared Dr. Morrison, is not to be substituted for local relief efforts. On the other hand, it is provided only to supplement the maximum that local communities do for their own people and will be available only when the Washington authorities are convinced that local resources in each community are inadequate to meet the needs for relief.

In order, therefore, for this county to participate in the fund which Governor Gardner will seek from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for all of North Carolina, it will be necessary for its relief agencies, public and private, to make a thorough survey of prospective needs of its destitute people and then to furnish evidence that its is undertaking to meet conditions with its own resources as completely as possible.

When this shall have been done in this county, when all local resources for relief have been depleted and the relief needs remain unprovided for, it is the purpose of the R. F. C. to provide supplementary funds with which to complete the task and adequately take care of the conditions of need and destitution throughout all of North Carolina, its towns, cities and counties.

It is important, therefore, that
