NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

and changes for pages 2, 3, 6 and 7 should be in this office by 9 a. m. For pages 1, 4, 5 and 8 by 12 noon. Unless these hours are observed changes cannot be insured for the day they are brought in.

This Date In History—June 19.

1796—Major General Nathaniel Greene, hero of the Revolutionary war, died at Mulberry Grove, Va.
1794—Richard Henry Lee, president at one time of congress and the first to introduce resolutions for independence, died; born 1732. Lee vigorously defended the resolution against the stamp act introduced by Patrick Henry. He was a delegate to the Continental congress from Virginia in 1774 and a 'signer' of the Declaration when prepared. He opposed the federal constitution, but served his state in the national senate after the constitution went into effect.
1804—Battle of the Kearsarge and Alabama off Cherbourg, France.
1867—Maximilian, titular emperor of Mexico, was shot at Queretaro by the republicans; born 1822. Maximilian was a brother of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria. He had been deceived as to the real situation in Mexico, and on assuming the imperial dignity offered by a delegation of notables found bitter opposition at the hands of the Liberals. He was taken prisoner after a sharp battle at Queretaro and executed in retaliation for his harsh decrees against Mexicans who resisted his authority. Zealous efforts were made by industrial Europeans and Americans in Mexico to save the life of the hapless prince.
1866—Charles Augustus Hobart (Hobart Pasha), Turkish admiral and marshal, died at Milan.
1867—General Green P. Garner, a veteran of the Mexican and civil wars, died in Chicago; born 1818.

The sergeant at arms of the Republican convention at Philadelphia rejoices in the name Swords. He is not the one that is hanging over the head of the G. O. P., but it seems that Swords should prove the proper thing for a party that has gone wild over militarism.

Who is this man Roosevelt, being talked of so persistently for McKinley's running mate? How did he get into the performance? Wasn't it understood all along that Senator Pritchard was to have second place? The North Carolina Republicans endorsed him, and it was natural to suppose that an expression from so distinguished a crowd as the Tarheel Radicals would be acted upon at the first opportunity. And, too, there is Senator Pritchard's influence with the administration—that was expected to help in pulling him on the ticket. This Rough Rider governor would better be careful—the Madison boys'll get him if he don't watch out.

If the anti-amendment officeholders seek to attack the amendment and make the negro's vote as good as the white man's, they must answer to the people, for they cannot deprive the white man of his vote.

Come to Asheville.

When the sultry summer days have come, the hottest of the year, the eyes of thousands in warmer climes turn to Asheville—the city where the skeeters never trouble and the nights bring sweetest rest. Asheville's doors are open to all who want to come—there is neither look nor latching, and the visitor has only to enter and make himself at home. He will find the loveliest country on earth—a wealth of scenery and a climate that must charm him. He will find Asheville's streets in better shape than when he was here last year, with Haywood and Chestnut paved, and several of the drives improved under the direction of the Good Roads association. He will find electric lamps to shed light upon his pathway unless he wanders out of sight of them or the water in Hominy runs very low. He will find one of the best street car systems in the south to transport him to any quarter of the city—except that portion of South Main between Town branch and McDowell street. He will find hotels and boarding houses galore, from which he may take his pick—houses such as any resort of the first-class would be proud. To be sure, for all of this a fee will be asked, "to defray current expenses," but he will expect that, believing that fair exchange is no robbery. And when he arises in the morning from slumber that has not been disturbed by the terrifying song of the mosquito or the nightmare Heat he will feel a thrill of the new life that he came to secure.

Asheville wants to give everybody an experience of this kind, and she has donned her daintiest summer costume to welcome them.

Prof. Holton and his distinguished aide, Abe Middleton, should soon have from those census takers who were doing their bidding facts sufficient to show them the size of the majority by which the white men of North Carolina are going to ratify the suffrage amendment.

Life Insurance.

Some idea of the magnitude of the amount distributed through the medium of life insurance may be had from a perusal of the figures printed in the Insurance Press of New York, which gives tables showing what was paid out in 4000 cities and towns of the United States in 1899. It is stated that the middle states are the heaviest patrons of life insurance, the central states coming next. The distribution in the middle states last year aggregated 70.4 millions of dollars; in the central states 33.7 millions; in the New England states 25.2 millions; in the south 19.6 millions; in the west 14 millions, and in the Pacific states 7.5 millions. A majority of the death claims are small, less than 10 per cent. of the whole number being amounts of $10,000 or more.

The table devoted to North Carolina shows the total payments for the year to have been $1,217,870. Charlotte leads, with $150,490. Asheville's total was $35,000, Raleigh $85,000, Wilmington $67,233, Rockingham, $70,450, Greensboro $45,650, Durham $35,125. The total of claims paid in the United States and territorial possessions and in Canada was $185,821,169. The Insurance Press' compilation is a valuable piece of work.

A reader suggests that the evangelist who announced his subject as "A Hot Time" and preached from a brimstone text would have had greater success if he had constructed his sermon on the Hebrew children and the fiery furnace.

Beautiful School Rooms.

It is pleasant to record that the efforts for beautifying the public school rooms in Asheville are attracting attention abroad. The North Carolina Journal of Education says:

"It would be difficult to find more beautiful school rooms than those of the public schools of Asheville. Large, high-pitched, well lighted, tinted walls, pictures and statuary tastefully disposed in rooms and halls, these school buildings are suitable homes for the children during school hours. Pictures and statuary to the value of more than $500 have been added since last fall. Nor has less attention been given to health and comfort. Heating, ventilation, cloak rooms and other necessities and conveniences have received attention. The result is the people are beginning to be proud of their school houses and are willing to do all that is needful."

ONE OF THE BEST IN THE PHILIPPINES

29TH INFANTRY BAND UNDER PROF. COE'S LEADERSHIP.

The Citizen's Raleigh correspondent sends the following, which is taken from the Manila Freedom of May 1 and refers to a former resident of Asheville: "The members of the Twenty-ninth infantry band received a regular ovation last evening on the Luneta. The medley, composed of old southern airs, was heartily applauded, as were the other popular airs. In each instance an encore was demanded, and Chief Musician Charles Coe cheerfully responded. The reception, given to Mr. Coe's own composition, with national airs 'From Revellie to Taps,' was so well described that even at mess call grumblings of 'natural born kickers' were heard, which wound up by a lot of tins, presumably a soldier mess kit, being thrown at the cook. Soldiers swarmed around the bandstand and yelled themselves hoarse at this part of the program. Needless to say, it had to be repeated. When one considers how many of the men had no knowledge of music at the outset, it reflects very great credit on the patience and skill of Director Charles Coe, who, through his persistence, has now made his band one of the leading ones in the Philippines."

United Workmen. Interest and enthusiasm still continue among the members of the order in Missouri, and the grand recorder is receiving many applications for beneficiary certificates.

The grand lodge of Massachusetts has decreased its expenses for the coming year by $5,500.

Since the organization in 1876 the grand lodge of Missouri has paid to beneficiaries $8,830,125.07.

The social feature of the order has not, lost its hold upon the members of the city lodges, and so fraternity continues to go hand in hand in the work of protection.

Quebec, one of the Canadian jurisdictions, got along last year on eight assessments under the classified plan.

Wood's Seeds.

Seed Potatoes

For Planting in June or July. We have a large quantity of late Seed Potatoes which were put into cold storage early in the season, so as to keep them un-sprouted and in first class vigorous condition for late planting in June or July. Heretofore, the principal obstacle to planting late potatoes successfully has been in procuring sound and vigorous stock late enough to plant, so as to insure the maturity of the crop in the cooler rainy season of the fall. We advise our customers to place their orders ahead, otherwise our supply may be exhausted. Shipment can be made at such time as customers are ready to plant.

Write for prices and Descriptive Circular, which also gives full information about all Seasonable Seeds, German Millet, Cow Peas, Teosinte, Sorghums, Buckwheat, etc.

For no reason... is Asheville more pre-eminent than on account of its fine climate all the year round. It is America's first resort, because perennially invigorating. It is the same way with Asheville's famous product. Wheat Hearts. It is the first breakfast food for all the year; it is always invigorating. WHEAT-HEARTS is prepared for serving in two minutes, because we've milled the wheat, roasted the gluten, and converted the starch to dextrine before it reaches you. WHEAT-HEARTS makes a tempting dish with which nothing else compares. If you but try it once you'll understand why "It'Swheat-Hearts We Want."

THE Wheat Hearts Company, ASHEVILLE, N. C.

PRUDENCE S. DRESSER. Teacher of Piano, Harmony and Theory. Graduate, with honor, of New England Conservatory of Boston. The only teacher of piano in Asheville who is a graduate of a first-class Conservatory or College of Music. Terms 50 cents a lesson. Beginners received on violin. 69 Charlotte Street.

$500 Will buy everything that has been in stock here over 30 DAYS. This, then, with the fact that we sell almost three times this amount each week, not only commends us, but practically insures you against stale or out of date goods. We never have to sell below cost to get the trade to absorb our blunders or use something unwholesome. Respectfully, H. C. JOHNSON 39 PATTON AVENUE.

Why Our Photographs Are the Best... First, because we have all the modern apparatus necessary to turn out good work. The skylight is important and ours is the best that can be made; has that soft, easy, regular northern light, making it easier for us to always make good portraits. Our operator, Mr. Ray, understands his business and has both skill and taste in posing and lighting. He is up to date and uses all the latest ideas for fine work. Everything about our photographs harmonizes. The mounts are correct and suit the picture. You can recognize our pictures at sight. There's a certain something about them that distinguishes them from ordinary work. Ray's Studio.. 69 Charlotte Street.

BARLEY MALT! We desire to call your attention to the appended result of a chemical analysis recently made of CHASE'S BARLEY MALT WHISKY, by the recognized highest authority in the United States upon analytical chemistry, HERBERT E. SMITH, M. D., dean of the medical faculty of Yale University and state chemist of Connecticut. YALE UNIVERSITY. DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE. New Haven, Conn. Messrs. E. H. Chase & Co., Louisville, Gentlemen:—Inclosed you will find the results of my analysis of the sample of Chase's Barley Malt Whisky which you recently sent to me. These results show it to be a whisky of good alcoholic strength, free from fusel-oil and containing no trace of the metals, copper, lead and zinc. In my opinion Chase's Barley Malt Whisky is, on account of its absolute purity, an excellent article for medicinal use. HERBERT E. SMITH, M. D. Conn. State Chemist. Chemical Laboratory, July 21, 1899. Result of a chemical examination of a sample of Chase's Barley Malt Whisky. 100 cubic centimeters contain: Alcohol 61.96 cub. cent. or 4.32 grams. Residue on evaporation 0.51 " Non-volatile matter or Ash 0.01 " Free acid, as acetic acid 0.04 " Reducing bodies, as dextrose 0.22 " Tannin a trace only Attest: HERBERT E. SMITH, M. D. These facts commend the CHASE'S BARLEY MALT WHISKY, not only to the public, who seek a superior Whisky, but also to the members of the medical profession in their practice. The consumptive will find it most beneficial, as it strengthens the Lungs, checks the wasting of tissues, and relieves the severity of coughing. The dyspeptic will find it an aid to digestion, as it relieves the stomach when oppressed with gas. It builds up the feeble and stimulates the system against malarial attacks.
