DOG FIGHT'S SEQUEL IN POLICE COURT

GREAT EVENT IN COLORED SPORTING CIRCLES.

The great semi-occasional dog fight for the championship of that region round about Depot and Roberts streets was pulled off last night. The colored sporting fraternity of that region were present to a man, and betting ran as high as 75 cents. The affair broke up in a general way with the air full of rocks, the owner of the winning dog being denounced by the owner of the other dog, and nothing occurred to mar the occasion.

As soon as the crowd had gathered Arthur Hurdock brought out his red-furred dog, with a white ring around its neck, and Ed McLain led forth his champion short-tail blind pup, Arthur held in his hand two small pieces of bread. Taking his dog on his lap, he asked for a wiper.

"You don't have to hoop 'im fore he'll fight?" someone asked.

"The wiper give 'im a cut wid 'is teeth," said Arthur, "cause he ain't no fight 'less'n he's mad."

McLain holding the pup when the wiper dog charged, rendered mightily with the blow of the wiper. For a few brief terrible moments Ed and the pup were blended in a whirl of black, yellow and brindle, and then the pup ran yelping into the outer darkness. Ed attacked Arthur and put him to flight, the bettors frantically cheering, and the stockholders hooting.

Arthur appeared at the matinee this morning, but Ed failed to show up. Arthur was fined $1 for participating in an affray, and was told by Judge Brown that dog fighting is not considered a sport by the city law.

REPAIRS NEEDED AT SEVERAL BRIDGES

SOMETHING TO BE ATTENDED TO QUICKLY.

The condition of several of the county bridges is dangerous in spots and suggests quick repair to prevent serious accidents. Yesterday a fine horse got tangled in a hole in Smith's bridge, and was with difficulty extricated after half an hour's effort by men with cutters. For a time it seemed the animal's leg would be broken, as he struggled to free himself, but the rescue was effected finally without other damage than bruises.

There are bad holes also in the crossing at Carter's dam and in the flooring of Pearson's bridge.
