

CONFEDERATE VETERANS' SPECIAL.
General J. B. Carr has selected the Southern Railway, via Atlanta, Montgomery and Mobile as the official route for his Annual "Confederate Veterans' Special" which will consist of first class day coaches, and Standard Pullman Cars to be handled through to New Orleans without change. This Special train will leave Raleigh, N. C., at 3:52 p. m. Sunday May 17th, 1903, and will reach New Orleans about 8:30 p. m. Monday May 18th. Rate for round trip from Asheville, $14.65. Berth rate from Raleigh and Durham $4.00, Greensboro $5.50, Salisbury and Charlotte $6.00. Two persons can occupy a berth without additional cost. Excellent service on regular trains in both directions. Special low rates from New Orleans to nearby points. Ask your Agent for rates from your station. For further information and sleeping car reservation write R. L. VARNON, T. P. A. Charlotte, N. C.

He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool outeth off the feet, and drinketh damage.—Proverbs 26:6.

The trial of James H. Tillman, indicted for the murder of N. G. Gonzales, was, on Tuesday, of last week, continued till July term of court.

The meeting of the county magistrates and the road supervisors at the court house next Saturday is an important meeting in which every good citizen should feel an interest. Just what is to be done at the meeting we do not know, but as every citizen is required to contribute, in either labor or tax, to the working of the public roads, and as our roads are in bad condition and need great improvement, it is high time steps were being taken to improve them. Everybody feeling any interest in this matter should attend the meeting Saturday.

END OF CANAL.

The Great Lakes Ship Canal Bill passed the New York Legislature March 26. This action brought the bill to Governor Odell for signature and ended a political contest of twenty years, to provide an efficient water highway for freight carriage between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic seaboard from Buffalo to Troy. The final step is to secure the imprimatur of the people at the fall election for an issue of bonds to defray the cost. The project in brief provides for the dredging of the Erie, Champlain and Oswego Canals to a depth of eleven feet, that barges carrying one thousand tons may traverse the route. The proposed improvements involve an expenditure of $101,000,000. The present canal route will be followed with few deviations, which include Seneca Lake and the Oswego River. In 1895 $9,000,000 were appropriated to deepen the canals to nine feet. The appropriation was exhausted before the work was half completed, and a scandal ensued. To President Roosevelt is due the inception of the present plan. Editorial.

We regret exceedingly that Rev. Frank Siler has taken it upon himself to visit houses of ill fame in Asheville in company of an officer to investigate for the purpose of trying to abolish the evil after the Parkhurst methods. We do not doubt his sincerity, but such methods are questionable, and it would have been better in every way to not have gone into these dens of vice in person.

CASTORIA.

Carrie Nation made a savage attack on President Roosevelt at the Temple theatre last night and was hissed by the audience. She declared the president of the United States was in league with the liquor traffic and unfit to hold office. At this point some one shouted: "The president of the United States shouldn't be insulted." The remark was the signal for the entire house to applaud. Again she declared she didn't recognize the president; that she didn't approve of him and again denounced him, whereupon the house broke into hoots and she was finally forced to desist.

Carrie's Offer to High Point.

High Point, April 10.—(Special.)—The people of this town now have an opportunity of securing $10,000 from the Carrie Nation fund for a library. This offer was secured through the efforts of Superintendent Geo. H. Crowell, of this place.

A Thoughtful Man.

M. M. Austin of Winchester, Ind. knew what to do in the hour of need. His wife had such an unusual case of stomach and liver trouble, physicians would not help her. He thought of and tried Dr. King's New Life Pills and she got relief at once and was fully cured. Only this, at Smith's Drug Store.

Member of the House of Representatives from Jackson County.

Representative Coleman C. Cowan was born in Jackson county on December 26, 1867. He attended and graduated at Fairview College Institute, afterwards studying law at the University of North Carolina, graduating in the class of 1894. The same year he secured his license and practiced law at Webster with his brother, under the firm name of Cowan & Cowan. This partnership was terminated at the end of one year by the death of H. Cleo Cowan.

For three years he was County Superintendent of Instruction (being elected when 29 years old), and filled the position capably. He represented his county in the House in 1891 and has been returned for the session of 1903 on account of his ability. In the session just closed he was chairman of the Mines and Mining and a member of eight committees: Judiciary, Propositions and Grievances, Appropriations, House Expenditures, Finance, Courts and Judicial Districts, Election Laws and Internal Improvements Committees. On account of his connection with the Committee on Propositions and Grievances he was accorded the privilege of making the opening speech on the Watta bill. He made a strong speech. He was a faithful and useful representative.—News and Observer.

Plot Against Alexander.

(By the Associated Press.)
VIENNA, April 10.—The rumors current of a plot against the life of King Alexander of Serbia, received apparent confirmation in private dispatches, which have been received at Buda Pest, and according to which an attack on the King's life was planned for next Sunday. The plot was discovered and fifty persons suspected of complicity therein were arrested. Other arrests are expected.

Semi-official reports from Belgrade.

Semi-official reports from Belgrade, declare that these rumors are false, but it is thought here that King Alexander's recent coup d'etat was hastened by the discovery of the alleged plot.

Regrets Mr. Siler's Course.

The Charlotte Observer expresses regret at Rev. Mr. Siler's adoption of the Parkhurst method in order to inaugurate a social purity campaign in this city. Among other things, it confesses its inability to see how such a course as Mr. Siler has pursued is any part of a preacher's mission and expresses its opinion that he has impaired his influence by it in some respects. The Observer adds: "Of course we understand that Mr. Siler meant well, but we genuinely regret that he has imitated the sensationalist, Parkhurst, in this matter."

Wants Prison Dispensary.

Wilmington, N.C., April 6.—After one of the hardest fought battles in the history of the town of Wilmington the dispensary won the fight today by a majority of twenty-one. The election passed off very quietly, there being no show of it until an other side. The town is very quiet tonight.

An Old Favorite
SONG OF MARION'S MEN
By William Colton Bryant

GENERAL FRANCIS MARION, called the "Swamp Fox," was one of the ablest American commanders during the Revolutionary war. He was born near Georgetown, S. C., in 1731. He early married and had four sons. He became a captain in the forces of his state. He shared with Butler and Greene the honor of leading the struggle in the south. The methods of fighting were the same. The men were the same. After the war he became a farmer and later served as a legislator in the South Carolina senate. General Marion died near Swanwick, S. C., Feb. 23, 1782.

UP said to fish, but true and tried,
Our leader Frank and bold;
The British soldier trembles
When Marion's name is told.
Our fortress is the good greenwood,
Our tent the open forest;
We know the forest round us,
As we know the men of war;
We know the walls of thorny vines,
His glances at every sign,
His smile and silent words,
Within the dark woods.

Wee to the English soldier
That little dread us near;
On them shall light at midnight
A strange and sudden fear.
When, waiting to their tents on fire,
They greet their coming in vain,
And they who stand to face us
Are best to earth again;
And they who flee to terror down
A mighty host behold,
And hear the tramp of thousands
Upon the hollow wind.

Then, sweet the hour that brings release,
From danger and from toil;
We talk the battle over,
And share the battle's spoil.
The woodland ring with laugh and shout,
As if a hunt were up;
And woodland flowers are gathered
To crown the soldier's cap.
With merry song we mock the wind
That in the pine-top grieves,
And slumber long and sweetly
On beds of sedge leaves.

Well knows the fair and friendly moon
The hand that Marion leads—
The glitter of their rifles,
The sound of their steeds.
The life to guide the way
Across the midnight plain;
The life to guide the way
That lifts his testing mass
A moment in the British camp—
A moment—and away
Back to the pathless forest,
Before the peep of day.

Grave men there are by broad Swanton,
Grave men with heavy hair;
Their hearts are all with Marion,
For Marion are their prayers.
And lovely ladies greet our band
With kindly welcome,
With smiles like those of summer,
And tears like those of spring.
For them we wear these thorny vines,
And for them we wear no more
Till we have driven the Briton
Forever from our shore.

NEWS BRIEFS.

That 30,000 men will be employed to work on the Panama canal.

New York schools have adopted the method of teaching the history of this country by taking pupils on pilgrimages to historical spots. Needless to say this plan is calculated to inspire every pupil with a fondness for history, no matter how little interest they may have displayed before.

Trinity College, Durham, April 10.—Announcement has been made of a gift of $2,000 to Trinity College by B. D. Heath, of Charlotte. The gift establishes what is to be known as the Heath scholarship. The donor is a prominent business man and has always proved his friendship for Trinity. His gift shows his interest in education, as it will enable young men to get an education who could not do so but for this help.

His Mistake.
A story is told of a Kansas man who sought to prepare himself for his wedding ceremony by learning the marriage service "by heart." When the critical time came and the minister asked if any one knew a reason why this man and woman should not be joined together, the young man cheerfully responded, "I renounce the devil and all his works." "Are you a fool?" tartly inquired the parson. "All this I steadfastly believe," confidently replied the groom. He had merely made the mistake of learning the baptismal covenant.—Ex.

Advertisement Continues.
We don't know who wrote it, but it is good:
"If you took your little totter, and then lay aside your horn, there's not a soul in ten short days, will know that you were born. The man who gathers pumpkins is the man who plows all day, and the man who keeps on bumping is the man who makes it pay. The man who advertises, with a short and sudden jerk, is the man who blames the editor because it did not work. The man who gets the business makes a long and steady pull, and keeps the local paper from year to year quite full. He plans his advertising in a careful, thoughtful way, and keeps forever at it, until he makes it pay."

A Medical Presentation.
A medical journal says: "Lactose is an absolute specific as a preventative of smallpox. All fear of smallpox may vanish when this simple presentation is taken."

Robbed The Grave.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in a rural condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Balm; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued to use for three weeks and one more week. I know that this medicine is a good one. I have tried it on my wife and children. It is a great relief. Only Dr. King's New Life Pills."—Frank T. Smith, New York.
