HIGHLANDS.

Messrs. Forman Jarrett and John Trotter paid a hurried visit to Highlands last week. W. A. Curtis of the Franklin Press, and Geo. A. Jacobs of Cullassee, spent a few days here this week, stopping with mine host Norton. They appeared to enjoy taking in the beauties of the mountains.

Wm. Pertridge and Mrs. M. M. White, Mr. and Mrs. E. Selmer, Washington, Mr. Sumner Clark Jr. and family from Oklahoma, and Joe Caloway from Oregon, have returned to Highlands. So the drawing attractions of our fine bracing climate, the beauties of our mountain scenery, pure water and singing birds, cannot be resisted by some, and they troop back to the mountains they dream of and long for.

Paul, Dr. G. W. Hays, and Jerry Pearson. The election was under our new charter, and the officers hold for two years.

REMINISCENCES OF PICKET LINE.

Laughs along on the Outpost—For Buck Hard, Chief.

BY V. A. C.

It was in the fall of 1864, I think, not far from Petersburg, Va., that I and two other fellow cavalrymen made a discovery that placed the lives of two comrades in our hands. A portion of our regiment, the Second North Carolina Cavalry, was picketing on the outpost in front of the enemy. The portion of the picket line where we were on duty lay along a country road that ran parallel with the Yankee picket line. The two lines (the Confederate and the Federal) were about a half mile apart. The best to which I was assigned, extended about a half mile along this road. At the middle of the beat was what we called "the post" and two men were assigned to guard this beat two hours at a time, and were then relieved four hours before returning to the beat, as there were three reliefs of the guard. The instructions were for one sentinel to remain at the "post" at the middle of the beat while the other rode up the road one-fourth mile and met the picket on the adjacent beat, then returned and remained at the "post" until the other sentinel rode as far down the pike and met the next sentinel below. This was to be kept up continually through the whole night. I and my companion had been off post since eight o'clock, and under charge of a Corporal, whose duty it was to see to casting the guard every two hours, we returned to duty at midnight.

We had reached the pike road and were proceeding quietly down towards the post, but we were met on the upper end of the beat and were surprised and challenged as we passed.

Our first encounter was with a picket line. We were challenged and we returned the challenge. We were then ordered to dismount and we soon discovered that we were on the wrong side of the line. We rode back a short distance up the road and two of us dismounted and walked past the sleeping men, and took their horses and led them back some distance to the woods and hitched them, then returning to our horses, mounted and came down upon the post more noisily than before, awaking the sleepers somewhat abruptly. When they roused up we charged them with being asleep on post which they bitterly denied. We asked them where their horses were, and they told us that they were hitched a short distance back to the laan. They were ordered to bring them up, but when they went for them they were not there. They then said that their horses must have broken loose, and set out to hunt for them. We called them back and told them where we had hitched their horses and all about finding them asleep on post. They saw that they were caught, and realizing the magnitude of their crime, knowing the penalty was death, they commenced begging piteously for us to not report them. They begged to drinking hard cider after going on duty which caused them to go to sleep, being partly intoxicated.

The Corporal and we two sentinels stepped aside and held a short consultation and agreed that we would not report them if they would promise to never again go to sleep on duty. This they readily promised. We pledged our selves to tell it to some of our comrades where it would get out and endanger the lives of the men. It is needless to say that during the remainder of the war these young men were our special friends, because we held their lives in our hands, and they were never reported. We kept their secret.

DECORATION DAY AT CLARK'S CHAPEL.

Hon. K. Elias the Orator of the Day.

EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—On last Saturday a large crowd of people assembled at Clark's Chapel to decorate the graves of the Confederate soldiers, seventeen buried there. By invitation our distinguished and esteemed citizen, the Hon. K. Elias, made a speech of three quarters of an hour, that for pathos, eloquence and oratory was never equaled. He held the large audience spell-bound, and his flights of eloquence could not be recalled by me.

He added to his reputation as an orator and endeavored himself to the people. The ladies exacted a promise from him that he would be the orator again next year. After this speech, the graves were decorated with flowers.

Then followed a sumptuous spread of good eatables that every one enjoyed. The blessing was asked by "Uncle" Matt, Russell, now 98 years old and a Confederate veteran. Then the crowd re-assembled in the chapel when a recitation by Miss Heater Paulsund, "Old Glory" was splendidly delivered. Then followed a recitation by Miss Olive Patton, "Victory Won, Victory Lost," in which likewise she acquitted herself creditably. Then a recitation splendidly read by Mr. O. A. Young, "Return of the Confederate Soldier" was enjoyed. Then followed a splendid speech by Mr. R. H. Luther, his subject being "Stonewall Cemetery at Winchester, Va."

The credit of starting this laudable movement of decorating the graves at Clark's Chapel annually is due to the following estimable and patriotic ladies, viz: Mrs. I. B. Saunders, Mrs. G. W. Cate, Mrs. Leander Cate, Mrs. Dave Russell, Mrs. Nora Vanhook and Miss Laura Luther. May God bless them all. CHARLES LUTHER.

Cleared $1,210 On One Cow.

Kinston Free Press.

Mr. W. F. Harper, of Outintown Neck township, owns a cow which has been giving milk since February 15, 1892. She started with a production of two and one-half gallons of milk per day, and now yields one gallon per day. This cow is a perpetual milker, and was a fine investment. Mr. Harper paid $10.70 for her, sold her calf for $10 and has had milk from her every day for over eleven years. Putting the average at two gallons of milk per day, the cow has yielded 8,000 gallons of milk during the eleven years and estimating the value of the milk at twenty cents per gallon, which is easily obtained for the lactated fluid in this section, we have 1,600. Deducting $6.00 a month for the cow's support, or $696 for the eleven years, the cow has $1,210 to her credit, besides $10 obtained for the single calf of this remarkable cow. This beats the most intensive farming.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate relief of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling names of Swamp-Rooting all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonials, letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Married Whole Family.

Nashville American.

Information has just reached here of the marriage of John Newberry and Miss Patsy Barron on last Thursday evening. Mr. Newberry lives about 40 miles from Tullahoma, Tenn., on one of the spurs of the mountain. There would be nothing unusual in the marriage if it was not for the previous matrimonial ventures of Mr. Newberry. About 35 years ago John married the widow, Sallie Barron, who after the marriage with the widow she died, leaving one child, a son by Newberry. After waiting about one year, he married Judy, the oldest daughter of his deceased wife. In two years Judy followed her mother to the grave, leaving a girl baby. Again waiting a reasonable time to mourn, he then took into himself Martha to wife, who, after living a number of years, followed her sister and mother to the grave. So the marriage last week of Newberry and Patsy absorbs the whole family of original Barrons. Now the question arises, what kin to each other are the offspring of the four marriages?

In the case of a third offense the license of the tobacco dealer becomes void.

Mr. Sam L. Rogers arrived at home Saturday.
