

CYCLONE STRIKES GAINESVILLE, GA.

Appalling Loss of Life and Destruction of Property.

Just after noon Monday last Gainesville, Ga., was struck by a tornado, killing at least 150 persons and wrecking over two hundred buildings. The destruction is summarized in a dispatch to the Atlanta Journal as follows: GAINESVILLE, Ga., June 1.—One hundred and fifty people, at least were killed here today by a cyclone which swept over the southern part of the town. The Gainesville Cotton Mills were blown down, and nearly every employe in the building killed, including a large number of children. The Southern depot was blown down. The Gainesville Iron works were demolished and several people perished in the wreck. The Gainesville Cotton Oil mills were blown down. The Old Piedmont hotel, now used as a school and apartment house, was razed and half a dozen or more people were killed in it. The Richmond hotel was wrecked and several perished along with it. One hundred and twenty-five cottages, a school house and a church were blown away in the negro section of the town. Five brick stores on the main street of Gainesville were swept away. In all, two hundred buildings are demolished here. The cyclone went on to New Hollan and it is believed at least seventy-five people are killed there. Everything in town is shut up and the citizens have all turned in to receive the bodies from the wrecks of houses. All the wires are down in every direction and the extent of the damage north of here cannot be ascertained. Eighty-five men, women and children dead and the death list still imperfect. Forty others, perhaps even a larger number, fatally injured. A property loss that is not less than $500,000. All happening within space of five minutes' time.

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought.

The Next Session to be Held at Louisville. A correspondent of the Knoxville Sentinel writing of the Confederate reunion at New Orleans, says: The next reunion will probably be held in Louisville. The matter was left to the executive committee so that arrangements to the best advantage may be made with the railroads. After about two days of reunion the veterans will be taken in a body to the St. Louis exposition, the citizens of Louisville paying the transportation. Roosevelt Endorsed. Harrisburg, Pa., May 27.—The Republican State Convention today endorsed President Roosevelt for renomination and declared against any change in the present tariff schedules.

Double Track From Washington to Atlanta.

Washington, Mar. 29.—President Samuel Spencer, of the Southern railway, who is in Washington, said today that the road would be double-tracked between Washington and Atlanta and that $25,000,000 would be spent on betterments, including double track-ages. It will be impossible to complete this work in one or two years, but it will be prosecuted until finished.

William Ashe Drowned.

Murphy, N. C., May 27.—The body of William Ashe, after several days search, was found in Braunstown creek today. He disappeared from his home on Sunday 24th inst. He was an aged farmer and had lately showed signs of insanity.

Driven To Desperation.

Living at an out of the way place, remote from civilization, a family is often driven to desperation in case of accident, resulting in Burns, Cuts, Wounds Ulcers, etc. Lay in a supply of Backing's Arnica Salve. It's the best on earth. 25c, at Smith's Drug Store.

NATURDAY'S ELECTION.

The election last Saturday on the question of compulsory attendance on the public schools resulted in a majority of 88 for compulsory attendance. The vote in the different townships was as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Townships, For, Against. Total For, 870; Total Against, 283.

Startling Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Dentonville, Va., serves as an example. He writes: I had Bronchitis for three years and decided all the time without being cured. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me. Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia, and Whooping Cough, is Frank T. Smith, Virginia. This has been again and again proved by the thousands who have used it.

DORRIS THE BEAUTIFUL.

BY ALICE MOGRIE. CHAPTER II. (Continued from last week.) The morning dawned bright and clear, the summer sun lighting up the sweet flowers in the trim garden. For once the busy wheels were silent, as the two made the little home as beautiful as possible, and when all was done, the little mother sat away up stairs, with a winsome smile on her sweet face. Dorris took her place by the window. She was terribly anxious for her mother's sake. What if he shouldn't come? She dared not think what the result might be. What would he say when her mother told him all? Would he take them to his breast, or would he turn away in scorn? Such were her thoughts, when she was disturbed by a rattle on the stairs. She turned, and stood bewildered. Before her stood her mother, but so changed she could scarcely believe it was her mother of yesterday. Her lovely dark face was wreathed in smiles, the sweet, brown eyes were overflowing with a gladness light; her rich brown hair was waving around her small face. She wore a white satin, bridal dress, perhaps not the latest fashion, but giving her form a quaint, delicate beauty; it trailed in rich shining folds behind her as she came into the room. A single string of pearls encircled her slender neck, and on her fingers she wore a wedding ring. For a moment Dorris was bewildered, then she found her voice. "Mother! mother!" she cried, shrinking away, with a sharp ring of pain in her voice. Her mother came to her side, and laid one slender hand on her head. "Darling child, this is the dress I was married in—his present to me. I wanted him to think of the time when we stood side by side in the little old white church and he promised to love and—"

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

By Lydia Maria Child. LYDIA MARIA CHILD, author and abolitionist, was born at Westbury, Mass., Feb. 11, 1776, and died at Westbury, Mass., Oct. 12, 1855. Mrs. Child was one of the strongest workers in the anti-slavery agitation, her writings being especially in the stirring up of the north. Her "Appeal in Behalf of the Slave of America" called attention to the slave trade and was widely read. She wrote many books, among them "Hobson's Choice," "The Mother's Book," "The Fruit Housewife" and "Aspirations of the World."

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

An Old Favorite.

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

By Lydia Maria Child. LYDIA MARIA CHILD, author and abolitionist, was born at Westbury, Mass., Feb. 11, 1776, and died at Westbury, Mass., Oct. 12, 1855. Mrs. Child was one of the strongest workers in the anti-slavery agitation, her writings being especially in the stirring up of the north. Her "Appeal in Behalf of the Slave of America" called attention to the slave trade and was widely read. She wrote many books, among them "Hobson's Choice," "The Mother's Book," "The Fruit Housewife" and "Aspirations of the World."

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

THE WORLD I AM PASSING THROUGH.

NEW. In the days of early youth, Treated like me in love and truth, I've gathered old lessons from the years; But slowly, and with many tears, For God made me to kindly view The world that I was passing through. How little did I once believe That friendly tones could ever deceive! That kindness and forbearance long, Might meet ingratitude and wrong! I could not help but kindly view The world that I was passing through. And though I've learned some souls are base, I would not, therefore, hate the race; I still would bless my fellow men, And trust them though deceived again. God help me still to kindly view The world that I am passing through! Through weary conflicts I have passed, And struggled into rest at last; Such rest as when the rack has broken A joint, or nerve, at every stroke. The wish survives to kindly view The world that I am passing through. From all that fate has brought to me I strive to learn humbly, And trust in Him who rules above, Whose universal law is love. Thus only can I kindly view The world that I am passing through. When I approach the setting sun, And feel my journey nearly done, May earth be smiling in genial light, And her last smile to me seem bright! Help me still then to kindly view The world that I am passing through! And all who tempt a trust From faith and hope to drift In May they themselves be spared the pain Of losing power to trust again! God help us all to kindly view The world that we are passing through!

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Dr. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that tell against the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of Dr. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

WRIGHT & ROBINSON'S STORE.

Nothing has ever equalled it. Nothing can ever surpass it.

Dr. King's New Discovery

For Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, and all Lung Troubles. Money back if it fails. Trial bottles free.

CONFEDERATE VETERAN

OFFICIALLY REPRESENTS United Confederate Veterans, United Daughters of the Confederacy, The Sons, and other Organizations.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

Scientific American

Highlands Insurance Agency

Insures only in the best Companies. Losses promptly paid. T. Baxter White, Agent, HIGHLANDS, N. C.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

Having qualified as executor of the estate of W. H. Higdon, dec'd, late of Macon County, N. C., this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate of said deceased, to exhibit them to the undersigned on or before the 15th day of May, 1908, or this notice will be placed in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment. This May 9th, 1908.

THE APALACHIAN SUMMER SCHOOL

WILL OPEN AT Waynesville, June 15, and Last Till Aug. 28.

DEPARTMENTS: Board $3.50 to $3.75 Per Week. Tuition 21.00 Per Week in Any Study Taken.

Nine Professors Representing Some of the Ablest Talent in America.

For further information address, Jas. C. Conigan, Ph. D., LL.D., President.

PIANO AND ORGAN MINATURES FREE

TO EVERY PERSON. We will send you a piano or organ miniature free of charge.

CORNISH CO.

WASHINGTON, NEW JERSEY. ESTABLISHED 1870.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable. Almost everybody who reads the newspaper is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. King's Cornish Root.

THE APALACHIAN SUMMER SCHOOL

WILL OPEN AT Waynesville, June 15, and Last Till Aug. 28.

DEPARTMENTS: Board $3.50 to $3.75 Per Week. Tuition 21.00 Per Week in Any Study Taken.

Nine Professors Representing Some of the Ablest Talent in America.

For further information address, Jas. C. Conigan, Ph. D., LL.D., President.

For further information address, Jas. C. Conigan, Ph. D., LL.D., President.