Survey for Court Hearing

The Southern Railway is ma king a hurried survey of part of the new line of railway projected to be built between Bushnell on or four unscrupulous lads at the in Tennessee, in order that the the Murphy branch and Maryville dead hour of midnight, with tin survey may be used in evidence in buckets filled with rocks, shaking the injunction proceedings which is to be heard at Waynesville on

All the available surveyors of Asheville have been employed by the railway and are now on the line of survey. Among these are next morning from your sleepless Chas. E. Waddell, Jr., John W. Young and Mr. Parker.

The suit is of the utmost importance. The railway claims that if it will prevent the building of a new line from the coal fields to the seaboard while the plaintiff, Mr. J. S. Bailey, of the Craggy Mountain Lumber company and railway, claims that if the Southern is not enjoined from proceeding to build along the projected route he will lose water power valued at a million doflars and the industrial development of that section will be injured. He also claims that the railway may be built along the hills zines are contraband. Every one be injured, but the Southern claims lief. that the route along the immediate riverside is the only available one.

The water power which is the cause of the suit is furnished by the Little Tennessee river and Mr. Bailey's holdings extend from a wint sixteen miles below Bushnell eleven miles to the Tennessee line. The case will be heard by Judge Ferguson at Waynesville on the

ATTENTION, VETERANS!

A Veterans' Picnic, Public Speaking, and Basket Dinner, November 4, 1905.

In pursuance of the suggestion of a large number of the veterans of the county, they and their families will pienic in the court house in Franklin on the 4th day of November next. A liberally supplied basket of provisions to fill the idea of a picnic will be expected.

Speakers have been engaged for the occasion, and as the year's le bors will then be generally over, the time is propitious and the purpose invites a generous and hearty response from all veterans and their chran, families.

Should any of our good citizens be disposed to aid in this matter they and their families are cordially invited to participate with us and will be accorded a hearty welcome.

Dear Veterans, show your interest turning out en masse and make it a notable day of enjoyment and good feeling,

Remember November 4th. W. A. CURTIS, Commander.
