ANOTHER MACON MAN DIES IN WEST

David V. Moore, a Former Resident of This County, Died in Lyman, Wash., on January 12th.

Hamilton, Wash., Feb. 1.—Another Macon man passes away—Mr. Dave Moore. He had been in poor health for some time. Two weeks before he passed away he had a paralytic stroke, and suffered agony until the death angel came and bore him away to his eternal home. The grief-stricken family has the sympathy of the entire neighborhood. May we all be ready when the summons comes is my prayer. Following is the account of the funeral services published in the Hamilton paper:

At two o'clock Monday afternoon Hamilton people gathered at church as they have done times in recent months last respects to a de-neighbor. D

Healthy Growth.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 11.—"There is nothing more pitiable than a child mis-shapen by rickets and who is unable to keep up with his companions either in growth or physical activities. Neither is there anything more wholesome than the upstanding physical specimen, who smiles showing his firm teeth, who ures up to the standard built frame, and shows
