Plant the garden according to your plan.

You rarely find a box of rouge and a pair of skates on the same dresser.

Just 137 years ago, says the Times-Star, Cincinnati was laid out. And it's still a live town.

Automobilists who have abstained from running down pedestrians say that the custom is quite conducive of peace of mind.

A ready market has been found for the sauer kraut manufactured in Watauga, where about a million pounds were made during the past year.

There are scrub fertilizers just as there are scrub cattle, and the only advantage is a cheap purchase price, say agronomy workers of the State College.

Farmers in Lee County ordered 589 pecan trees as a result of the pecan-planting campaign recently closed in the county, reports County Agent E. O. McMahon.

Tom Tarheel says that the farmer in Johnston County who plowed up $2800 in a field should feel well repaid for buying the better implements and plowing deeper than formerly.

A variety of fresh garden vegetables each day will serve to keep the doctor away, so plan the garden at once and don't let the weeds take it when farm work becomes pressing.

Mountain cabbage will soon be found on the market in the form of succulent kraut. This is a new co-operative enterprise promoted by workers of the agricultural extension service.

The Farmers' Federation handles bichloride of mercury and farmers should buy a supply of it at the same time they buy their seed potatoes in order to make sure of having it at planting time.

By the first of March farmers in both Union and Anson County had sold out of lespedeza seed. County Agent J. W. Cameron of Anson found other farmers who wanted to plant this legume.

It took 54,118 acres of land to produce 27,000 bales of cotton in Union County last year. This year the slogan is "40,000 bales on 40,000 acres" and the people are responding, reports T. J. W. Broom, County Agent.

Sixty-eight women of Robeson County aided Miss Flax Andrews, home agent, to carry the message of more milk for better health to the children in 109 schools during a milk campaign recently held in that county.

Directors of agricultural extension from five Southern colleges have written the State College of Agriculture commending the North Carolina "Live-At-Home" program. Some of them plan to put on a similar campaign for the farmers of their states.

P. C. Squires, manager of the Farmers Federation of Polk County, is urging the farmers of Polk to plant Iceberg lettuce as a money crop. In order to encourage the planting the Federation planted about 200,000 plants to supply the farmers. Seed potatoes are also urged by Mr. Squires and County Agent J. R. Sams as a practical money crop.

My community is the place where my home is founded, where my children are educated, where my income is earned, where my friends dwell, and where my life is chiefly lived. I have chosen it, after due consideration, from among all the places on the earth. It is the home spot for me. Here let me live until death claims me. Then let my neighbors say I was a friend to man.

Unequal Chances.

On one side of a dividing line which separates two counties or perhaps, determines the boundaries of some great city, lives a young North Carolinian. On these bright October mornings he wends his way to a magnificent school building in which are provided all the conveniences necessary to comfort. Before him stands a teacher, gifted, trained, and competent, with only a single grade to teach. This privilege is given him for one hundred and eighty days every year.

Just on the other side of this same dividing line lives another young North Carolinian. His school does not open till the middle of November and will continue for only one hundred and twenty days. Perhaps no conveniences are offered and no teaching apparatus is provided. He is instructed by a young girl who is not even a high school graduate, and who has to teach seven grades.

Shall the accident of birth-place or dwelling-place forever affect unequally the opportunities of these two young Americans? Each of them is and will be a citizen of the same state. Each of them is being trained for his duties as a citizen in a system of public schools which our Constitution says shall be uniform. One is as capable, as ambitious, as promising as the other. One, in all probability, will have completed high school and entered college while the other is still in the grades. Must this go on forever, or is there a remedy within the reach of the people, if they will only reach out and take it?—Exchange.

Miss Ella Estes has recovered from an attack of measles.

It is rather lonesome here, so many of the young folks gone, some at school, others off at public works, although on bright days there seems to be quite a number yet.

Miss Anna Bryson is home from Franklin school on the sick list. We hope she will soon be well again.

We are sorry to state that Mrs. Walter Watkins is very sick. We hope she will soon be well.

The farmers around here seem to be on the alert. Mr. L. T. Watkins and a lot of others, have a good start on plowing.

Mr. N. L. Jolley has been covering ditches, also built a new porch to his home.

Miss Madge Evans is home from Raleigh, N. C.

Miss Mary McGuire was visiting Miss Anna Bryson one day last week. Also Misses Frances and Vesta Redding and Madge Evans.

Mr. Dock Watkins is building a new porch around his house.

How many are feeding the robins and other spring birds? This cold weather is rather hard on them.

"SAP."

Cartoogechaye News.

Miss Matt Crawford was stricken the third time with paralysis on the 7th of this month, that being her sister Amanda Slagle's 93rd birthday, and died the 10th. She was 86 years old, and these sisters have an older brother who is 95 and quite supple. He promises to live to reach a ripe old age.

Miss Matt was buried at Mt. Zion Grave yard with her parents and other members of the family.

The Maxwell Sunday School has been closed for four weeks on account of measles. They have a number of cases. One of the large boys, Melvin Ward, was playing Sunday and fell and broke his leg.

Oscar Bingham's little girl died the 17th inst. Oscar lives at Burt Slagle's.

Mr. Ben Harrison has been quite sick with tonsillitis.

Mrs. Charles Waldrop returned to Atlanta Monday, after making a week's visit with her mother.

The Mt. Zion Sunday School put on a contest last Sunday in Bible reading. Mr. Fred Slagle has the young men, and Mrs. Henry Slagle the young ladies' class. The class that is beaten must entertain the other. So if the boys are beaten they are to entertain the young ladies at Mrs. Fred's, and if the young ladies are beaten they are to entertain the young men at Mrs. Henry's.

Miss Annie Lee Waldrop is substituting in the Iotla school for one of the teachers who is sick.

The State Highway is under construction now between W. B. Lenoir's and Henry Slagle's.

The builders have cut down the mountain just west of W. B. Lenoir's and made a fill across the hollow. They are now blasting the rock near the new bridge on Henry Slagle's place to get specimens to send the State geologist to see if it will be accepted for use in the construction of the concrete bridge that is to be built near the old one. POULTRY SALE.

It has been decided to hold the first co-operative car load poultry sale for the season on Wednesday, April 9th. There may be some farmers who would rather have the sale at an earlier date. But we want to be sure of enough to make a car load. Where possible it would be a good idea to put up the thin chickens to be sold and feed on milk and other fattening feeds for at least a week before the sale. This should add weight and quality. Those who are planning to bring poultry to the sale will greatly help by writing County Agent Arrendale a card telling him what you expect to bring. If you are too careless to co-operate please do not howl and growl when you are disappointed in the way things have gone.

A Batch of Strange Weather.

The weather for the past two or three days has been as erratic as the train which was in the habit of getting off the track every so often, and which was in charge of a conductor named Finnegen. After a particularly trying day the conductor wired in this brief report of his doings:

"Off again; On again; Gone again. FINNEGEN."

It has been raining, sleeting and snowing alternately and all at the same time occasionally, with not a great deal of anything except rain, however, but—

It rained while the sun shone—and in that there's no reason; It snowed while 'twas warm and again while 'twas freezin'; It sleeted while calm and with the elements breezin' And fore the things' over we'll all doubtless be sneezin'.

—Keowee Courier.

Miss Matt Crawford.

Miss Matt Crawford died at the home of her brother, Mr. Lon Crawford on Cartoogechaye, on Sunday, March 8th. She had not been in good health for some time and was taken by a stroke of paralysis.

"Aunt Matt," as she was lovingly called, will be missed for a long, long time by her many friends and kindred in her neighborhood, and her kin and acquaintances in town and other parts of the county.

The word "Jolly" describes Aunt Matt, so of course her friends were many. She looked on the bright side of life and helped to raise a household of children who adored "Aunt Matt." Although she was a maiden lady, her plump little body and cheery, kind face and encouraging word for all, somehow gave her such a motherly look, that Aunt Matt was never thought of or spoken of as a maiden lady.

The boys and girls that she helped to raise, the young folks of the neighborhood generally and the people that she grew up with, will cherish her memory with sincere love.

She was a consistent member of the Baptist Church for years. She is survived by her two brothers, Mr. Lon and Mr. Emerson Crawford, and her sister, Mrs. Elam Slagle, who has just passed her 93rd birthday.

The sympathy of her many friends over the county is extended to the bereaved relatives. S.

PLEASE NOTICE!

We cannot and will not publish communications to the Press unless the name of the writer is signed to the letter. It is not necessary that the names be published, but we must know who the writer is. We are glad to get letters to the paper from every section, and sincerely appreciate them if they are written in the right spirit and signed. In the past few days we have received several letters from various sections of the county which we were unable to publish because the writers failed to sign them. In no case do newspapers publish the names of the writers of communications unless they are of such a nature that it is necessary, but no paper will publish articles that come unsigned. Those who write to the Press will please take notice and not neglect to sign the articles sent in. We get tired of throwing interesting letters into the waste basket almost every week because the writer did not let us know his or her name.
