

LYCEUM COURSE WILL OPEN SOON

Lombard Entertainers To Be First Attraction For This Season—Will Be at Court House October 15th.

The first attraction appearing on our Lyceum course this year will be The Lombard Entertainers. This attraction has made a hit every place it has appeared this season, according to advance reports, and we should congratulate ourselves that we are to have the pleasure of witnessing such high class entertainment.

Other attractive numbers will appear from time to time, every one of them guaranteed to please.

The local committee is doing everything in its power to make this season's Lyceum courses successful, and the manager of the Piedmont Bureau has promised to co-operate and send the best he has. But neither the manager of the circuit nor the local committee can make this a successful season without the help and co-operation of every individual in the community. This is our community because we live in it, and it is up to us as individuals to see that we have wholesome, refining entertainment from time to time. Every town and every community needs just such educational and entertaining attractions as we are to have this season. Certain enterprising citizens of the community have made it possible for us to have these clean, elevating and entertaining attractions, and we should feel grateful to them for their action. The best way to show our appreciation and at the same time show ourselves and our neighbors that we are for wholesome, clean entertainments is to secure a season ticket for these attractions and make it a point to be present at every one of them. Several young ladies of our community will bring your ticket to you in the course of next week. Let's all CO-OPERATE.

Mission Study Class Holds All-Day Meeting

The all-day meeting of the Mission Study Class of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church proved to be quite an interesting and profitable occasion.

Members of the class and visitors numbered twenty-four.

The meeting was held in the Sunday School auditorium of the Methodist church, and the visitors included representatives from the several churches of the town.

A delicious and abundant lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed from one o'clock to two.

The following program, based on the book, "The Child and America's Future," was rendered:

America's Greatest Asset—Mrs. George Jones.

Taking Care of Young Bodies—Mrs. S. L. Rogers.

The Child at Work and at Play—Mrs. W. W. Sloan.

Education in a Democracy—Mrs. Shields.

The Life of the Child Through the Channels of the Church—Mrs. Blacklock.

The Children, the Hope of America—Mrs. A. S. Bryson.

A round table discussion followed each subject presented and the program was varied by being interspersed with music.

Besides the patriotic and missionary hymns, Mrs. Shields favored us with two piano solos and Mrs. Blacklock gave us an appropriate reading in her own inimitable way.

The discussions concerning the child in his three-fold development, physical, mental and moral, and the importance that our children reach the full stature of manhood and womanhood by so developing since they are the hope not only of America but of the world, and our responsibility as parents, teachers and friends of these children, brought the class to the conclusion that there was nothing too good or expensive that we could possibly do for the proper development of our children and young people.

For the sake of our young people the county should have a competent all-time welfare worker, and our own town and community should see that their children and young people have some innocent and helpful amusements and sports.

If we would make sure of the future good and progress of our own town and county we must all unite in doing everything possible for the proper development of our children and young people. They are our most precious possession—our greatest asset.

The next subject that we shall take up will be, "The Way of Christ in Race Relations."

MRS. GEORGE A. JONES, Supt. Mission Study.

Opportunity knocks at your door but once. Attend the sale of the Bob Davis farm next Monday.

Remarks and Resolution.

Presented to Tenth District (N. C.) Medical Society, Sept. 24, 1924, by Dr. C. E. Cotton, Asheville.

Gentlemen of the Society: It is eminently fitting that when one of our number slips away to that "undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveler returns," that we should pause in our deliberations and reflect on the character and life and influence of the one who has finished his work among us. Dr. Frederick L. Siler passed through that mysterious change that we call death on June 7th of the present year. His passing was, indeed, as we all appreciate, a shock to his fellow workers and the community in which he had done such loyal, unselfish and skillful service, for the betterment, the enlightenment and the happiness of his fellow-man.

This society selected him for its President for the year 1922—a wise selection that brought increased prominence and influence to the society and increased its usefulness and help for the sick.

Dr. Siler was a leader and took an active part in all civic, religious and philanthropic movements that had for their object the betterment and uplift of humanity. It is needless for us to recount here the many acts of kindness and cheer, helpfulness and encouragement that he has given to others. These are enshrined in the hearts of those whom he helped and can be neither be added to nor detracted from by any words we may say here. His life seems to have been an embodiment of the following lines of William Cullen Bryant:

"So live, that when thy summons comes to join

The innumerable caravan that moves

To that mysterious realm where each shall take

His chamber in the silent halls of death,

Thou go, not like the quarry slave at night

Scourged to his dungeon, but sustained and soothed

By an unfaltering trust; approach thy grave

Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch

About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

It is customary and fitting that we should pass suitable resolutions on the death of a brother,—not that it matters one iota to him, nor that we can or wish to change the record of his life, but that the influence of his life for good may remain in the memory of the living. What frailties he may have had (for being human he must have had some) with implicit faith and trust we let "rest upon the bosom of his Father and his God."

I therefore offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That in the death of Dr. F. L. Siler this Society has lost an able, conscientious, skillful and true physician—a doctor of the old school, whose life work and endeavor was for the relief and cure of suffering humanity.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the Society and that a copy be sent to the family of Dr. Siler.

The Bob Davis sale is put on by a home land and auction company. Their motto is "A square deal for a round dollar."

PAINS IN BACK

Arkansas Lady Says Mother Gave Her Cardui and She Had No More Trouble of This Kind.

Lamar, Ark.—Mrs. Edith Seeman, here, recently made the following statement describing her experience in the use of Cardui:

"I had pain in my back and sides; had sick headaches and my nose would bleed. I couldn't sit up at all.

"My mother gave me Cardui. I took about a half bottle and at this . . . I was able to get up and help with the work. Next time I took it again, and now, after taking two bottles, I do not have any trouble at all at this time. I gained, my skin cleared up, I am healthy and strong.

"My mother took Cardui for a weak, run-down condition. It did her more good for weakness and nervousness than any medicine she has ever taken. She took six bottles in all. We recommend it and certainly know its worth."

The foregoing is one out of thousands of statements which have been received from users of Cardui, the woman's tonic. If you are a sufferer from womanly ailments, try Cardui. It may be just what you need. At your dealer's.
