Personal Mention.

Mr. Tom McCoy's beautiful residence on top of Cowee Mountain between Franklin and Dillsboro burned to the ground Tuesday night. No one was in the building at the time and it is not known how the fire started.

The friends of Mr. Chas. Russell, of Etua, will be glad to learn that his eyes are improving. It will be remembered that Mr. Russell was recently pinioned under an overturned car and that the acid from the battery emptied into his eyes. Mrs. Russell is also improving from injuries received in the same wreck.

Dr. and Mrs. Horsley entertained a number of their married friends last Friday evening with a belated Halloween party. Rev. J. Q. Wallace took the prize for the most original costume. Rev. A. J. Smith was the most adept in the use of a fork, spearing apples in a tub of water with the greatest nonchalance while holding the fork in his mouth.

On last Monday evening Mr. J. A. Porter entertained the Methodist stewards with an oyster supper at his home on Bidwell Street. Until recently relieved at his own request Mr. Porter had been chairman of the Board of Stewards for 25 years. At the supper last Monday evening plans for the betterment of the church for the coming year were discussed. Those who attended were Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Lyle, Rev. W. M. Smith and Mrs. Smith, Henry Cane, R. C. Gabrels, Jay Gibson, N. L. Barnard, Henry Waldroop, Sam Rogers, C. W. Hames, Harold Sloan, T. J. Johnston, Lee Crawford, Alvah Pearce, M. L. Dowdle, J. W. Street, R. L. Porter. Mrs. D. R. Davis attended in the interest of the Women's Missionary Society, while Mrs. R. L. Porter assisted in entertaining.

State laws these days are making it more difficult for Cupid to exercise his rightful prerogatives. Lovers in North Carolina go to Georgia to get married in order to escape the physical examination required in this county. The Georgia law requires that the names of couples who intend to marry be posted in the court house for five days previous to marriage. To escape this delay impetuous ones come to North Carolina. Last Friday Miss Estelle Hooker and Mr. M. H. Stone of Georgia came to Franklin to be united in the bonds of matrimony. It seems that they were ignorant of the law requiring physical examination. Such an insignificant matter as that did not deter them. The examination was made, the marriage ceremony performed and Cupid was again victorious.

Mr. W. G. Ammons, 84 years of age, died at the home of his son-in-law, W. F. Cochran, at Flats, on November 3rd. Since the death of his wife, five years ago, Mr. Ammons, a native of Swain County, had been making his home with Mr. Cochran. Rev. Mose Woodard conducted the funeral services at Needmore on Tuesday, the 4th instant. The people of Swain and Macon counties unite in extending sympathy to the bereaved family.

Mr. J. E. Scott, who has charge of Public Relations of District No. 7, U. S. Forest Service, arrived in Franklin last Friday and left for Birmingham on Wednesday of this week. Mr. Scott stated that the forestry officials in Washington are much interested in getting a greater amount of public attention centered on the Nantahala National Forest. This was Mr. Scott's first trip to this section of the United States. While here Supervisor Shields accompanied Mr. Scott to many places in our National preserves. What he saw in the way of scenery and natural resources delighted Mr. Scott beyond measure. This official has traveled all over the West acquainting the people with the purposes of National Forests in general, and was here on the same mission. No doubt his trip will result in a greater measure of publicity for our section.

The citizens of our town appreciate the editorials and news articles concerning Franklin that have recently been appearing in the Asheville Citizen.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer A. Jones and Miss Furch visited Andrews last week.

Mr. Thomas Clark from Dallas, Ga. and Miss Mae Smith of Birmingham were married by Judge Baird in his office on last Wednesday.

The Home Realty and Auction Company of Franklin will sell the W. L. Henson farm in Jackson County at Auction on November 25th. This farm is favorably located near the Culawee State Normal School.

Frank Jamison, the seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Jamison was struck by a car on main street last Friday and knocked into the gutter. Frank received many lacerations and was badly bruised, but will soon be able to return to school. The driver of the car did not stop. So far the authorities have been unable to learn his name.

Before day last Wednesday morning Sheriff Alex Moore, accompanied by George Cloer and W. A. McGaha, went up on Cartoogechaye and arrested a strange negro who gave his name as Andrew Jackson. The negro was found in the out house near the residence of Mr. Sam Dills. Jackson was arrested in the belief that he was Lincoln Jackson who killed the Chief of Police and a deputy sheriff at Hartwell, Ga., on November 2nd. On arrival at Hartwell Sheriff Moore found that he had the wrong man.

Mr. Gilmer A. Jones has opened the Franklin Business School in room over the Bank of Franklin. Mrs. Jones is a capable teacher of stenography typewriting and business methods and will no doubt make a great success of this new school.

Forestry officials state that those living on the other side of the Nantahalas refuse to co-operate with the forest rangers in putting out forest fires.

Mrs. Featherston will be better City was laid to rest at the Oak Grove Cemetery Nov. 10.

Mrs. Featherston will be better known to many of our Macon County people as Miss Bessie Burnette. She attended the Franklin Graded school here in her girl-hood, later taught one term in the same school.

She was a young girl of sterling qualities and her loyal friends were numbered by her acquaintances. She was a member of the Baptist church and was a tireless worker in every phase of the church work, and was an inspiration to all the young people with whom she came in contact for higher and more useful service.

She leaves the following relatives who mourn her loss: Husband R. L. Featherston, Father and Mother Mr. and Mrs. John Burnette, two sisters, Mrs. Icenhower of Asheville and Mrs. Will DeHart, of Bryson City.

The following case were operated on at a local hospital during the past week.

Miss Elizabeth Anderson, Franklin Removal of tonsils and adenoids.

Mrs. Furr, wife of Dr. Furr. Appendicitis.

Mrs. John Corbin, Ellijay, Gall stones.

All the above patients are doing well.

Mrs. H. H. Henderson of Davidson, N. C. was brought to the Hospital a week ago unable to eat or drink due to an obstruction in her oesophagus, the tube leading from the mouth to the stomach. An incision was made into the stomach and a tube introduced directly into that organ. By means of this tube Mrs. Henderson is now receiving sustenance.

Methodist Matters

By REV. W. M. SMITH

The new presiding elder, Rev. P. W. Tucker, spent from Friday till Monday in our county on official business. He preached and held the first quarterly conferences for the Macon Circuit, Franklin Circuit and Franklin Station while here. He made a favorable impression.

The monthly meeting of the board of stewards was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Porter Monday night. The stewards had been invited over for an oyster supper, and there is no need to say anything more for all know what that means. The stewards were there. It was one of the most pleasant and profitable meetings that the board has had in years. The ards were there. It was one of the most pleasant and profitable meetings reports were very gratifying. The stewards present were: Dr. S. H. Lyle, S. L. Rogers, N. L. Barnard, Lee Crawford, T. J. Johnston, C. W. Hames, M. L. Dowdle, R. C. Gabrels, Alvah Pearce, Henry Waldroop, Jay Gibson, H. W. Cane, Harold Sloan, R. L. Porter and Mrs. W. M. Smith were invited guests. The next meeting will be with Mr. Lee Crawford on the second Monday night in December.

The central meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society was held with Mrs. Robert Davis last Monday afternoon. The meeting was well attended. The officers for the coming year will be elected at the next regular meeting of the society.

The district stewards, charge lay leaders, and the pastors of the Waynesville district will meet in the Methodist church at Bryson City next Wednesday morning to plan the work of the district for the year.

Mr. J. A. Porter is the district stewards and Mr. S. L. Rogers is the charge lay leader of the Franklin church.

Mr. M. H. Stone of Atlanta, Ga. and Mrs. Estella Hooker of West Point, Ga., were married at the Methodist parsonage last Friday afternoon. The writer officiated.

At the meeting of the stewards Monday night they voted to meet in front of the church next Sunday morning just before the eleven o'clock service and attend the service in a body. All members of the Methodist church are urged to be at the church next Sunday morning to see that the stewards carry out their pledge. The subject for Sunday morning will be "The Rules of the Game," and at night "The Time is Shortened." The public is invited to all our services.

PLEASE NOTICE!

We cannot and will not publish communications to the Press unless the name of the writer is signed to the letter. It is not necessary that the names be published, but we must know who the writer is. We are glad to get letters to the paper from every section, and sincerely appreciate them if they are written in the right spirit and signed. In the past few days we have received several letters from various sections of the county which we were unable to publish because the writers failed to sign them. In no case do newspapers publish the names of the writers of communications unless they are of such a nature that it is necessary, but no paper will publish articles that come unsigned. Those who write to the Press will please take notice and not neglect to sign the articles sent in. We get tired of throwing interesting letters into the waste basket almost every week because the writer did not let us know his or her name.

Gilmer's Pig.

Attorney Gilmer A. Jones bought a nice pet Jersey Pig last Spring. Gilmer adopted this pig, so to speak, and lavished an unusual amount of love and labor in bringing its avoirdupois up to 300 pounds. Many a time has this young Attorney come into town with blisters on his hands after a session of weed pulling in the garden for the benefit of said porker.

On last Friday visions of spare ribs, pork chops and sausage won the battle over tears of regret and Gilmer slaughtered his pet. The whack of the cleaver and whir of the sausage grinder could be heard in the land. Gilmer's supply of meat was stored in the cellar.

Gilmer, minus pig, minus meat, is now a sadder but wiser man.
