

American Glee Club

The people of Franklin were fortunate in having with them Thursday evening December 11th, the American Glee Club, the third Lyceum attraction of the season. This quartette of young men possessed charming voices and gave a most delightful program, interspersed with clean fun which kept every one in a good humor.

Their quartette numbers ranged from comedy to sacred music and each number showed splendid training and their years of work together as a quartette.

Particular clever was their number "The Worm and the Apple" (Oh, my Stomach), also the "Sandman," while their group of sacred songs, "Lead Kindly Light" and "The Church in the Wildwood" were beautifully rendered.

The solo work was also very good. Mr. Myers, bass solo, showed surprising depth and richness of voice. Mr. Buffton's essay on "The Duck" was exceedingly clever as was Mr. Kink's telephone message.

Besides the vocal numbers there were xylophone solos and several numbers on the complicated Swiss Hand Bells.

The program was brought to a fitting close by the rendition of "Jesus Saviour, Pilot Me" by the quartette with the accompaniment played on the Swiss Bells.

The next and last Lyceum attraction for the season will be the Knox Duo on the night of January 1st.
