Latest Triumph in Railroading

THE completion of the new Chicago Union Station marks a noteworthy accomplishment in the history of important engineering undertakings, from which travelers from all parts of the United States will derive pleasure and benefit.

The station is without doubt one of the finest and most efficiently designed railroad terminals in the world. It forms a vital link in the realization of the "Chicago City Beautiful Plan." Simplicity, accessibility and convenience for the traveling public are the essential virtues of the new terminal. Rest and recreation rooms, ticket offices, barber shop, dining rooms, stores of various kinds, and almost every convenience known to travelers, are to be found on the one level, no steps to climb.

The main station is a low monumental type of building with a row of massive columns of classic design along the entire east front. Once inside, the traveler finds himself in a gigantic waiting room more than 100 feet high and brilliantly lighted through skylights in the great arched ceiling. Colonnades inclose the room, the walls of which are patterned after the architecture of ancient Rome. Bordering this room are the ultra-complete passenger terminal facilities. An innovation in railway terminal design is a conference room accommodating 125 people, which is available, without charge, to patrons of the Union Station lines for conferences and other meetings.

To give some idea of the immensity of the new station, it may be stated that the main building covers an area of about three acres with a concourse covering 60,000 square feet. The entire terminal facilities cover more than 35 acres and will expedite the prompt and satisfactory handling of 50,000 passengers, 400 tons of baggage and 300 trains daily with room for future expansion. Fifteen acres of glass were used in the various coverings over the train sheds, which extend more than 1,200 feet beyond the main structure. A total of 17,000 tons of structural steel, 175,000 cubic feet of Indiana limestone and 10,000 cubic feet of granite were used in the station building and concourse. The foundation consists of 449 cylindrical concrete piers from four to ten feet in diameter, reaching to a depth of more than 60 feet below the level of the Chicago river.

Those who have had the privilege of inspecting the new station pronounce it a marvel in terminal construction and are urging their friends to see it on their next visit to Chicago.

The station is used jointly by the Pennsylvania Railroad; Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry.; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R., and the Chicago & Alton R. R.

Rev. J. Q. Wallace returned from Montreal where he attended an important meeting of the Presbyterian church at the assembly grounds of this organization.

Mrs. Willis M. Timmons and family of Atlanta are guests at the Junaluska Inn.

Mr. Pat Hammond, associate editor of the Atlanta Constitution, has been spending a week at the fishing camp on the Cullasaja with Mr. Burton Lyle. Mrs. Lyle and daughter, Dorothy, and Smith Harris, Jr., also spent last week end at the camp.

Mr. J. Weimar Jones who is with the Associated Press and who is now covering the session of the General Assembly of Georgia spent Wednesday night in Franklin, his old home town.

Mrs. George Black, Mrs. Paul Lane and Mrs. Harry Walters, all of Atlanta, are spending a vacation at Babbling Brook farm visiting their friend, Mrs. E. C. Kingsbery, who is also summering at the home of Miss Annie Slagle. These charming visitors are exceedingly profuse in their expressions of delight concerning Franklin and the mountains of Macon county. The hearts of our people are ever open to those who wish to enjoy the many blessings which nature has so lavishly bestowed upon this section of the state.

Mr. T. W. Alexander, formerly one of the most popular rangers ever stationed here and who recently resigned from the forest service, has accepted a position as district fire warden with the state of North Carolina and will make Asheville his headquarters. Mr. Alexander passed through Franklin last Sunday on his way to assume his new duties. The state is very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Alexander.

Attention is invited to the ad this week of the Franklin Lake Development. Mr. Connell, the sales manager, now has offices in the old Citizens Bank building on Main street and is ready to show the public desirable lots on the lake front. Mr. E. S. Galloway will assist Mr. Connell in the sale of lots.
