

Letter From Lyman, Wash.

Editor, The Franklin Press.

Dear Editor:—May I have space in your valuable paper for a few words to my Macon county friends? I have thought several times during the two and a half years that I have been here of writing to the Press.

We have a wonderful section of country here. The climate is the very best, and fruits and vegetables are grown in abundance. The natural resources are most wonderful.

There are plenty of natural lakes to supply a vast amount of electrical power. The scenery such as snow-capped mountains and large rivers, is magnificent. Beautiful wild flowers and shrubbery, along with giant evergreens, grow profusely.

I wish to tell my friends there about our revival which was held from July 5th to August 1st in the Baptist church of this little town. Rev. H. P. Andrews of Everette, was our music director and soloist. We had twenty-two professions of faith in Christ. A number have been baptized and others are awaiting baptismal service. Our church people were greatly revived to Christian services.

We will begin our next revival campaign at Sauk Valley August 18th. I covet the prayers of God's people in my old home state for the success of His work here. We have many responsive people, several of whom came here from North Carolina to make their homes.

The people of the church showed the spirit of appreciation on April 29—my birthday—when they announced, at Wednesday night prayer services, that they had a surprise package for me. It is needless to say I was surprised when I found the package to be a nice suit of clothes, hat, shoes, shirt, hose, a traveling bag and neck tie.

These good people have also given us two poundings with all kinds of groceries and good eats.

We appreciate these good people too.

For fear that my letter will be too long, I thank you and close.

Yours very truly,

REV. W. C. RAMEY.

The Public's Screen

Is the newspaper. People everywhere turn to it for news and information on all important subjects. It's a background for a sharp, searching limelight that nothing can surpass for power in getting—ATTENTION!

Share that limelight, Mr. Merchant, by "throwing" your advertising message upon the "screen" which the

Franklin Press

—affords you. For, in doing so, you'll be "talking" to an audience of some 8000 people—an audience that you could not possibly reach any other way.

As for making that Advertising message sincere and appealing to the crowd of prospective buyers, leave that to us. We carry the well known Bonnet-Brown Sales Service of "smashing" illustrations and forcefully-written copy for your exclusive use. Ask about it by—PHONING 24.

You Who Are About To Build

If you have built a house you are familiar with our business methods and the type of service we render.

And you have learned these things:—

That it is not necessary to muddle your head with estimates. We do that for you.

That building materials don't have to be "ordered" from other markets. We carry a full stock, and our prices save you money every time.

That it is always economy to see what you buy. We show you before you pay your money down.

You who have not built a house, and are contemplating building one, will do both yourself and us a favor by coming in and getting acquainted. Anyway, we would like to talk the proposition over with you.

YOU MEN WITH TEAMS will be interested in our large and serviceable stock of HARNESS. We are in position to fit you out with anything in this line you may require. Our prices are the lowest consistent with the quality of the goods we offer.

ALSO EVERY SORT OF HOUSEHOLD GOODS. This includes Dishes, Bowls and Pitchers; Knives and Forks, all other Cutlery, Cooking Utensils, Cook Stoves, Heaters; and other articles generally found in an up-to-date hardware store.

WE INVITE YOU TO PAY US A CALL.
