Personal Mention

Franklin, (N. C.) Press—Published a special "Boy Scout" edition. Many interesting news articles and editorials as well as considerable advertising endorsing and asking the public's cooperation in encouraging the worthy Boy Scout movement.—The Scabb. (Chicago, Ill.)

A matter of high importance to the people of Jackson county and of this part of the state is that the concreting of the roads from Sylva to Balsam and from Dillsboro to Franklin shall be completed and the roads opened before the tourist season begins, next summer. If the roads are not opened before then, every day will cost the people of this region much money. If they are blocked this region will be shut in and the boom days that are striking the mountains will pass us by. We have confidence in the highway authorities to believe that they realize the vital importance to our people of this matter, and that they will see to it that we do not suffer.—Jackson County Journal.

The town of Franklin, N. C., where Maj. S. A. Harris, formerly of Dahlonga, located a few years ago and went into the newspaper business, is rapidly building up. Last week the big dam was completed and the mayor turned on the switch and gave the town electric lights. The Major has been a great help to that part of the country, because he does not miss a thing that would help his town and county.—Dahlonga (Ga.) Nugget.

Mr. E. C. Rankin, connected with the department of justice, Washington, D. C., has been visiting his sister Miss Lillie Rankin.

Don't forget the date—January 12. Greatest entertainment that has yet come to Franklin.

Messrs. D. R. Davis and R. A. Patton returned from Sylva last week where they had gone to wind up the David Rogers estate. While there they sold at private sale two big farms in Jackson county.

Dr. J. H. Crawford of Unaka was a visitor to town last Monday. The doctor is negotiating with citizens of Asuone for the purchase of considerable boundary of land near that town. It is quite likely that all of these deals will go through. Dr. Crawford is also the contractor for building a road from Murphy to the Tennessee line. He reports good progress on this work and states that Tennessee will connect North Carolina at the line with a road of the same width.

Mr. M. E. Cochran of Flats honored Franklin by his presence last Monday.

Born to Mrs. and Mrs. James Franks on December 11, a nine-pound baby girl.

Mr. H. O. Essig is now on his annual vacation in the land where Ponce de Leon sought the Fountain of Life. Mr. Newman will have charge of the meat market during the absence of Mr. Essig.

Mrs. Smith Harris and children left Saturday for Norman Park, Ga. to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McKenzie.

Mrs. A. W. Mangum and son, Bill, and mother, Mrs. Noble, left last week-end for Jacksonville where they will visit relatives during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Campbell and son, Steve, of Atlanta, were here this week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Campbell's father, Judge Zebulon Baird. Mr. Campbell was in business here several years ago but left to accept a position in the claim department of the Central of Georgia Railroad. "The Office Cat," a spicy weekly of the Atlanta office of the Central of Georgia is edited by Mr. Campbell. The Office Cat is doing a great work in building up a high spirit of comradeship among the employees of that railroad.

Mr. T. B. Higdon, a native of Macon county and now a prominent attorney of Atlanta, was a visitor to the home folks first of the week. Mr. Higdon's mother, Mrs. J. H. Higdon of Cullasaja, returned with her son to spend some months in Atlanta.

Mr. J. L. Owens of Asheville was in Franklin last Wednesday with his son, Mr. John G. Owens. The latter will establish an engineering office in Franklin immediately after the first of the year and will specialize in land surveys, calculations, etc. Mr. J. L. Owens was here 40 years ago and remembers quite a few of Franklin's citizens.

A trio of young lady entertainers will give the public a treat at the court house on January 12—singing piano, violin, reading, etc.

Get your pictures framed in time for Christmas.

Mr. John H. Dalton of Cowee returned last Friday from a business trip to Asheville and other nearby points.

Mr. H. C. Corpening with the state rehabilitation department at Raleigh was here Wednesday on duties connected with his office. He spoke of the importance of the clinic to be held for cripples at Waynesville at various times during the next year. An article on this subject appears elsewhere in this issue. Cripples of Macon who want medical attention will do well to familiarize themselves with the clinic at Waynesville.

The McKinley-Root Concert Co. will be the next attraction of the Lyceum course at the court house on January 12. Three beautiful young ladies, each an artist in her line.

Mr. T. W. Rhodes, his daughter and grand-daughter, paid the Press office a visit Thursday morning. Mr. Rhodes lacks only a few days of having reached the age of four-score years and is still active in mind and body. His cheerful disposition and kindly smile should be an inspiration to those of us who are younger and who yet have fallow fields of unrealized ideals spread out before us.

Mr. J. D. Thomas of New York and his friend, Mr. George Sepka of South Amboy, N. J., arrived at Franklin Wednesday to spend the holidays with Mr. Thomas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Thomas. Mr. Thomas is always glad to get back home and his friend, Mr. Sepka, has expressed his delight with mountains and scenery of Macon county.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Omohundro left Friday on a belated honeymoon to Asheville. They will stop at the Battery Park hotel.

Mr. Rumbly Ray is considered one of the best salesmen in town. Get your pictures framed in time for Christmas.

Tuesday night Chief Coffey placed a boy in jail for passing a worthless check on Mr. Grover Jamison.

VALENTINE-CUNNINGHAM

Miss Sarah Cunningham, of Franklin, and Mr. Howard Valentine, of Middlesex were married at the Sir Walter Hotel yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles F. Hudson. The bride wore a dress of black chiffon velvet and a Swanson metallic hat. The bridal corsage was of butterfly roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Valentine was educated in Atlanta. She has taught several years in North Carolina.

They will make their home in Middlesex, where Mr. Valentine is connected with the Valentine Motor Company.

Misses Ada Valentine and Gladys Thoroughgood, of Middlesex, and Mr. Walter Edgerton, of Wilson were present at the wedding.—Raleigh News and Observer.

CHRISTMAS TREES

Within the near future a boy scout will call upon you for your order for a Christmas tree, mistletoe and holly. Give your order to the scouts and thus help the little fellows to raise a little money.

SPONSORS' CLUB

Mr. W. J. Cooper, who has been auditing the county, though not a resident of this county has joined the Sponsors' Club of the Boy Scouts.

Mr. Cooper states that the Boy Scout organization is a worthy one and that the Franklin troop is an asset of which the town should be proud.

SERVICES FOR SUNDAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. B. C. Reavis, pastor. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Mr. T. J. Johnston, superintendent. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. by the pastor.

Morning subject: "When Little Becomes Much and Much Becomes Little."

Evening subject: "The Short Bed and Narrow Covering."

Come and worship with us. A warm welcome awaits you.

THEY ALL GRAB FOR THE PRESS

Prentiss, N. C. December 15, 1925.

Dear Major Harris: I am enclosing an obituary which I hope you can find space for this week, if not, then next week.

Let me say that we enjoy the Press. It comes usually at the same time with the Charlotte Observer, The Literary Digest, Christian Advocate and the Progressive Farmer, and it is the one paper we are inclined to scramble for.

Success to you in your very important work. Sincerely yours, J. L. TEAGUE.

Card of Thanks

We take this means of thanking those who were so kind and considerate during the sickness and after the death of our father, Zebulon Baird. We also extend thanks for the many floral offerings and to the local Masonic lodge. CHILDREN OF THE LATE ZEBULON BAIRD.

West's Mill News

Since we have no radios on Cowee to broadcast news we shall tell the editor.

Mr. Charlie Bradley of Etna, has erected a shop at West's Mill, and is doing mechanical work.

The revival at Snow Hill is still in progress. Rev. Truitt has delivered many good sermons. Services: 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Invitations to all.

Mr. Glen Cagle and sister, Miss Nelle, of Swain county, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Clark.

After spending some time with friends and relatives at Bryson City Miss Stella Morgan has returned home.

Mr. Ernest Rickman of Canton, was in this section recently.

Mr. Wiley Roper is improving after some weeks illness.

Mrs. Eula Bryson of Detroit, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sheffield, has gone to Canton to spend Christmas with her sister, Mrs. Jessie Rickman.

Mr. Clyde Clark motored to Bryson City Friday afternoon.

If old Santa would bring each one what would suit his convenience, a certain young widower would get a cook.

Miss Grace Sheffield has gone to Canton to spend Christmas vacation with relatives.

We are sorry to note that Mr. W. H. Morrison is still on the sick list. We hope for his immediate recovery.

What's On This Turk's Mind?

He's not quite sure, but he has a hunch that Bob Patillo is going to slaughter him and two or three brothers to make a Merry Christmas for the hungry at the Franklin Bakery and Restaurant. On Christmas Eve and on Christmas Day highjinks will hold sway at Franklin's best eating house.

With big gobblers roasted to a crisp brownness, oyster dressing, roast pork, baked hens, tender cuts of juicy beef, pumpkin pie, cranberry jelly, cookies, hot rolls, doughnuts, turkey gravy and all kinds of fresh vegetables and fruits, we expect "to put on a feed" that will be long remembered in the annals of Franklin. All ye hungry ones, come and partake of the best Christmas dinner ever served in a Franklin restaurant.

And, good housewives of Franklin, don't forget that we can furnish you with bread, hot rolls, cinnamon buns and all kinds of pies and pastries.

Why worry about these things? Let us take the drudgery out of your Christmas cooking.

Since June 1st, when Bob Patillo took charge of the Franklin Bakery and Restaurant, our business has increased in a remarkable manner. We wish to thank all those who have patronized us and made this success possible.

May your Christmas be a merry one and may the New Year and the years to follow bring you health, wealth and success.
