

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the left black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

F. H. Seeley, of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will personally be at the Battery Park Hotel, and will remain in Asheville Thursday only, April 29, from 9 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Mr. Seeley says: "The Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—exemplifying instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain or position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases or Incisional ruptures (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions.

CAUTION—All cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or web truss with understraps as same rest where the lump is and not where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operations. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. He will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fit them if desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section.

N. B.—Every statement in this notice has been verified before the federal and state courts.—F. H. Seeley. Home Office, 117 N. Dearborn St. Chicago, Ill.

P. S.—Fraud Warning—Many complaints have reached me from dissatisfied purchasers that certain parties have been traveling about under misrepresentations—imitating my ads and claiming to be associated with me or my establishment. Substituting an inferior imitation for my goods and improperly fitted, all of which is false and fraudulent and an imposition on the purchaser. (Adv.)

Suffers Imprisonment For Assistance To Orphans

The story of hardships and languishing in a dingy prison in Russian Armenia has just been told first hand by Oliver Baldwin, son of the British prime minister. Mr. Baldwin went to Armenia in 1920 where he was engaged in assisting the Americans in the Near East Relief work. Shortly after his arrival, a soviet revolution threatened to wipe out the huge orphanage work of the Near East Relief. Only a week later he was arrested, the charge being that he had criticized the new government for seizing milk sent by Americans to the starving refugee children.

For many weeks in spite of the efforts of American relief officials, Baldwin endured the cold, hunger, filth and unspeakable cruelty of Soviet guards. Then the flagging spirits of the peasants rose and the Soviet government toppled. Baldwin was advised by the Americans that this uprising would be short-lived, and he left promptly, intending to make his way across Turkey to Central Europe. The Turks objected, however, and again he went to prison, there to languish for several months before his release was finally obtained.

"This story," said J. B. Ivey, state chairman of the Near East Relief "is one of the most striking that has come from the overseas bureau. It brings to mind the sacrifices of the men and women who are devoting their lives for the sake of those little down trodden children in whose veins run the blood of the oldest Christian believers. During the past six years at least six splendid Christian leaders have given their lives ministering to the children in the care of the Near East Relief. And while this has been going on, the people at home have been responding to their calls by giving funds for the support of their work.

"And it is not ended yet, for there is still an imperative need for support. There are today 35,000 children who must be fed a little longer. We cannot turn these babes out to starve after rescuing them from a crowd of maddened soldiers."

Mr. Ivey stated that June 30 marks the end of the present fiscal year and that the amount asked for from North Carolina had not, as yet, been subscribed.

It only requires $60 for the support of one orphan for a year and $5.00 for one month. Persons who wish to aid these unfortunate children can mail their contributions to John A. Scott, 1200 Realty Building, Charlotte

CITY CAFE

The City Cafe, under the management of Mr. Wiley Carpenter is daily taking on a more wholesome appearance. This cafe is located at the Blaine building on the public square. The house has been repainted, nice tables grace the interior, the cooking is done on an electric range and appetizing food is served. Wiley has an attractive little stand and has enjoyed a large patronage since the opening of his cafe last Monday.

Receiver Here

Mr. J. F. Gray, receiver of the Tallulah Falls Railway, with headquarters at Mountain City, spent Monday night in Franklin. Mr. Gray states that he will soon have the station painted. He also announced that the business of his road has increased to such an extent at Franklin another side track has become a necessity. Since accepting the receivership of the road Mr. Gray has made many improvements and is constantly so doing now. New cross ties have been placed, new rolling stock purchased, trestles repaired, etc. All these improvements have and will help Franklin considerably.

RADIO AND REAL ESTATE

It has not yet come to the point where homes are built around the radio set, but radio is nowadays entering very definitely into the calculations of the real estate man with lots or bungalows to sell.

Special base plugs for the radio wires are part of the equipment of the modern home. Real estate men and contractors are making special arrangements for the loudspeaker, incorporating novel ways of adapting the home to radio.

The single dial control, which does away with the complicated methods of "tuning", makes the built-in radio entirely practical.
