

A "Grown-Up" Pump

A LITTLE town in Virginia boasts this unusual pump. The story goes that some 30 years ago, a farmer dug a well directly under the tree, striking a strong stream of water. He put in a pump, using a willow for a pump stock. This stock in turn, due to abundant water, took root and grew to be the present tree—since yielding a stream of never-failing H<sub>2</sub>O.

"Wolf-Proof" Costume

THE gentleman, encased in the queer costume above, is planning a wolf-slaying trip for government bounties in northern Ontario. His "human porcupine" outfit comprises a cowhide suit covered with 1200 spikes an inch long, a helmet, a wire mask and spiked gloves. His plan is to let the wolves nibble at his armor while he clouts them with an axe.

Nothing "Fishy" About This Fish Tale—Its Real!

You've seen postcards from resorts that advertised "good fishing" whereupon such pictures as this were faked. This is NOT one of them. Its real! The finny monster is a big, black sea bass that tipped the scales at 579 pounds. It was caught off the coast of Hermosa Beach, Calif., recently. After striking the fisherman's bait, it gave him the toughest battle in his experience—zig-zagging, flopping into the air and, in general, "tearing up" the Pacific waters for more than four hours before it gave up the fight. This photo shows Miss Lucille Pinson slicing off a fin so as to get at a tender slice of the tasty meat that lies beneath. Wish we'd been there for a meal.

Bank Installs Steam Heat

The Bank of Franklin is now engaged in installing steam heat in the building owned by the bank. A furnace room is being constructed in the rear of the building from which pipes will run to all parts of the structure, including the store rooms occupied by Mr. John Trotter, Macon County Supply Company, and all offices on the second story. The Bank of Franklin building will be the second business block in Franklin to have steam heat, the other being the new hotel under construction by Messrs Sam Franks, W. C. Cunningham and Henry Cabe.

TAUKEETAH FOLLIES

On Friday evening, July 23, at 8:15 o'clock, Camp Taukeetah is presenting their "Follies of 1926." Formerly Taukeetah has been giving a circus during the camp season, but this year they have decided to have something entirely new and different in the form of a song and dance revue. There is not a slow moment. This is the peppiest show this side of Broadway. Taukeetah is lucky this season in having a number of talented young artists who will entertain you with snappy songs, vaudeville stunts, attractive farces, Charleston numbers and beautiful dance numbers. Miss this show and spend a lifetime of regret!

SHEPHERD-ALLEN

Mr. Logan Allen, member of the town board and prominent insurance man of Franklin, was quietly married Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock to Miss Fannie Shepherd in the presence of a few friends and relatives. The marriage took place at Mr. Allen's handsome residence on East Main st., the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. R. Pendergrass. Since the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Allen have been receiving the congratulations of their many friends.
