FEDERATION TO BE DISBANDED?

Rumors are going the rounds that some of the stockholders of the Macon County Farmers' Federation will make an effort to disband the federation at their annual meeting on November 18. The Press was unable to learn just how well founded these rumors are. However, there appears to be no doubt that some of the stockholders are dissatisfied with the way the Federation has been conducted. These discontented ones claim, it is stated, that the Federation has failed to fulfill the purpose for which it was originally organized—to find a market for the farmers' products—and that as now conducted the Federation amounts to nothing more nor less than another store in town.

Other stockholders claim, according to reports, that the Federation has been and is now of great benefit to the farmers of the county. These men say that the Federation has reduced the cost of supplies to the farmers.

It is expected that the stockholders who oppose and those who are defending the Federation will be present in great numbers on November 18.

Camp Fire Girls

On last Friday at 4 o'clock the Camp Fire Girls met at the church. There were about 12 girls present. Some of the honors that the girls are to work for were read. After admitting one new girl, the girls all gave the hand sign and watchword.

They discussed the next meeting, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Every Camp Fire Girl is urged to be present with her sewing, needle and thimble, to begin working on our Christmas gifts.

The meeting came to a close by singing one of our Camp Fire songs.

FATTEN HOGS

There seems to be a surplus of corn on many farms in Macon county, says County Agent Arrendale, who suggests that this corn be fed to hogs to be sold next April. In order to get the best results it would be necessary to mix some shorts and butter milk or tankage with the corn to make a balanced ration, Mr. Arrendale says.

Contract for Annex And Dispensary at Angel Hospital Let

Contract for the erection of a 25-room annex to the Angel Hospital, and for the building of a dispensary, has been let, Dr. F. Angel has announced.

The contract was let to Zeb Conley, who built the hospital. Material is now being put on the ground, and work will be started March 1, the job to be completed in 90 days, Dr. Angel said.

The dispensary will be near the gate to the hospital, while the annex will be constructed just north of the present building. The new building will give the hospital capacity for 100 patients, Dr. Angel said. The annex and dispensary, including equipment, will cost approximately $50,000, he anticipates.

Farnsworth Home to Be Bequeathed to U. N. C.

"Corrymeela," beautiful Highlands home of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Farnsworth, is to be bequeathed to the University of North Carolina by the Farnsworths, as a summer retreat for members of the University faculty, according to an article by R. W. Madry, in the State Sunday papers.

The home is said to be one of the beauty spots of Highlands. The place is literally five acres of forest near the heart of Highlands.

"The progress of the University and the leadership manifested by members of its faculty have convinced the owners of 'Corrymeela' that their treasured home could have no happier destiny than to be made a pied a terre where the faculty may at will rest or work or play in a home as secluded as they please, and to all intents and purposes belonging to each of them as his very own," Mr. and Mrs. Farnsworth wrote President Chase in announcing their proposal.

ANNOUNCEMENT

BETTER TAKE A TIMELY TIP

Have you decided to make the family auto last until Spring?

Chances are it has far more service left in it than you are aware of.

Only a man who knows cars, however, can tell as to this. Maybe it doesn't need a thing in the world to make it good for many more months of service. Maybe on the other hand a new part here or a little adjustment there will put it in A-1 shape, and also prevent heavy repair bills later on.

It won't cost you a cent to drive around and let us look it over—if it needs anything we will make the price right—and if it doesn't we'll gladly tell you so.
