

Just About the Farm

Bob Clark and Parker Moore are some frame-up guys. They have gone and went and put a hive of bees in the county agent's office. They are sho'nuf live bees and making honey.

The seed wheat time is here. Numerous farmers have expressed a desire for seed wheat. We have obtained samples and prices from several sources and called a meeting for next Saturday. All those interested are asked to meet and discuss the proposition. This will be the only meeting to be called, and whatever action, if any, develops at this meeting will govern the county agent in ordering seed wheat this year.

The net proceeds of our car of potatoes was sure some big disappointment; but the fault is right here at home. If we are going to break into the high class market, we will have to grow high class stuff of the proper variety.

One thing that sure is indicated is a loading shed where the shippers will be protected from the weather. It looks like the City, County, Cannery and Farmers Federation could all help us out on this proposition. We are going to ask them any how.

WANTED: To know if there is one single farm in Macon county which is stocked completely with only pure-bred sires. The betting is ten to one that there isn't.

Another ten to one bet is that there isn't a farm in the county using only pedigree seed.

The hogs that are now on standard feed in several places in the county are surpassing all expectations. If there is any one else who cares to take this up, the county agent will be pleased to come and weigh the hogs and help them to get started. It is a great thing for the farmer that is working for a profit on his farm, for it lowers the cost of pork production from about 4 to 6 cents on the pound.

Must be a lot of surplus corn produced in the county this year, the way people are pullin' glodder, thereby throwing away from 5 to 15 bushels of corn to the acre.

Lespedeza and sweet clover should go into every pasture mixture.

Several limestone and fertilizer companies have offered lime and fertilizer to from 5 to 15 farmers in this county who will put on a rotation demonstration, using sweet clover and lime as the main parts of the project. If anybody wants this see the county agent at once.

One of the things this county needs, agriculturally speaking, is fencing and more fencing.

Was out the Georgia road the other day and was struck by noticing the improvements being made no several of the homes out that way—paint going on the houses and white-wash going on the tree trunks. I hadn't noticed these homes until this was done.

The wise farmer will certainly reclean his wheat seed very rigorously this season.

I hope somebody else will take up the argument in favor of dairy cattle in opposition to Mr. John Keener. He will sho' get licked—Mr. Keener's opponent I mean—for there's no doubt about it, dairy cattle on the small farm are the most profitable thing, and the old Guernsey hits it up about the best of any here.

The farm without fencing is like a ship without a rudder.

The crop that will bring the business farmer a handsome income from now until mid-winter is the lowly turnip green. They may be sowed now in any old out-of-the-way corner as well as in the good fields, and the canary will buy all that is brought them. Practising this, we can get a cash crop and a winter cover crop as well.

Speaking of the cannery, it is, at last, doing business. It will can on the shares, buy your stuff or charge you so much for packing. Just any old way you like.

The County Bread and Butter Show programs are to be mailed out next week. Let's let everybody get busy on this and see what variety they can bring in. There will not be many prizes this year, but a blue ribbon is a distinctive mark for all that. If the management gets proper support this season we will be more ambitious next time.
