Personal Mention

Editor Cross of the Clayton Tribune was a visitor to Franklin last Saturday. While here he took occasion to express regret that Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Stonecypher had moved from Clayton to Franklin. Mr. Cross praised both Mr. and Mrs. Stonecypher very highly and stated that Franklin is fortunate to acquire their citizenship.

Dr. S. H. Lyle made a professional trip to Spartanburg, S. C., this week.

Tuesday afternoon the strong winds blew down several telephone poles near the Presbyterian church on Harrison avenue. The wires evidently became crossed with the electric wires and telephones along this street rang continually until the wires were pulled loose from the telephones. Traffic was blocked for a time, but the street was opened sometime after dark.

CONVINCED HENRY TOLD THE TRUTH

The following named have paid into the town treasury the sum of five dollars each for speeding, with the exception of the first named, who paid $7.50:

Jess Thompson, Thomas Porter, Jr., Kibby Womack, Claude Lippard, Claude McCall, H. T. Sloan, Robert Bryson. Mr. Bryson appealed his case to the supreme court. Some of the ones fined were testing out the new Ford, evidently to find out whether or not Henry told the truth about how fast the car could run "He did," they say.

CITIZENS OPPOSE BUILDING JAIL

It is understood that petitions are being circulated this week in an effort to stop the proposal of the county commissioners to build a jail for Macon county. It will be remembered that similar petitions circulated some time ago prevented the commissioners from building a jail and court house combined.

WHEN TB MANIFESTS ITSELF IN COUGH

Sanatorium, Jan. 25.—Tuberculosis has various ways of manifesting itself. The catarrhal onset with cough and expectoration, comprises the group of symptoms most commonly associated in the lay mind with tuberculosis. A cough lasting more than three weeks should be regarded with suspicion, but many cases of early tuberculosis have no cough or expectoration at all. There is nothing especially characteristic about the cough from tuberculosis. It is usually worse in the early morning and frequently occurs only then. The expectation is also more abundant at that time.

During the late winter and early spring when coughs and colds are so common one should watch them closely, and if they hang on for more than three weeks, by all means see a doctor about them. But remember that the absence of a cough is far from being proof positive that you have no tuberculosis. The pathetic thing about the cough as a symptom of tuberculosis, is that when it is well established it is a symptom of advanced and not incipient tuberculosis.

Aquone Locals

The road from here to Andrews is so bad I never saw a car yesterday. Mr. Ed Roper is doing fine, nearly well, with the small pox. Only one new case, that of little Dave Passmore, that I have heard of.

Mr. F. M. Cheek, the great stock doctor of Clay county, died the 29th of November. He was making his home at Aquone and went to visit his son, Ben, in Clay county to stay a few days or a week. On his way back dropped dead at Clear creek. The doctor said it was heart trouble caused his death. His son, Ben, took him and buried him in Clay county. He would have been 79 years old in a county home in Tennessee the 5th day of December, 1927.

Mr. J. H. Morgan, of this place, passed away January 7. He died in Tennessee, he and his wife, and is buried there. He was 88 years old. He was the last one of the W. B. Morgan family.

A few weddings: Mr. Don Suggs and Miss Bieda West. Mr. Joe Hays and Miss Lizzie Shields.

A fine girl baby Andy Daley's. The school is doing fine. Miss Angel and Miss Stillwell are the teachers.

It is very cold here, but the work is going on at both jobs—the Ritter and Latham jobs.

We see that the game park is all here this summer than has been for a while.

We see that the game park is all O. K.

We expect the dam business to do some work this year.

From what we hear it is the dullest time I ever saw in my life. You cannot hear a hen cackle and there is not an egg at Aquone.

Didn't Take the Paper

A good farmer from the lower part of the county was in Elberton yesterday with a fine load of turkeys approximately 500 pounds, which he was offering for sale. Inquiring, we found that he was being offered and was selling these turkeys from three to five cents per pound cheaper than he could have sold them for at the poultry car in Elberton the first part of the week.

Wondering why this good farmer had deliberately chosen to take a loss of at least $15.00 by not selling his turkeys in the car lot sale a few days before, we inquired of him why he had not availed himself of the opportunity to sell at much higher prices in the regular carlot sale. He replied that he did not know the date on which the sale was to be held or the prices that were to be paid.

We knew right straight that this farmer, progressive in many ways, was backward in at least one—he was not taking his home paper. If he had been he would have known the date of the poultry sale and the prices offered. This information was carried in one of last week's issue of The Star.

Fifteen dollars is a pretty dear price to pay on one lot of turkeys for not keeping up with the market and the opportunities which the local poultry sales offer. This sum would pay for The Star seven and one half years.

And in a hundred different ways the newspapers published in the town where a farmer does the bulk of his business is worth many times more each year than the price of the subscription. Opportunities to save on what you want to buy and to get more for what you have to sell present themselves in every issue.—Elberton Star.

Officials Visit Plants

Mr. C. R. Tarkington, of Andrews, and Mr. W. A. Goodson and Mr.

Guesner, both of Asheville, and all Standard Oil officials, visited Franklin Friday to inspect the two Standard filling stations and bulk plant recently completed here at a cost of $50,000. These officials expressed delight at the way the stations and bulk plant are kept and at the efficient way in which the public is served.

21 Years Ago

The following telegram was received here Tuesday:

Nashville, Tenn., May 20, 1907. Rev. L. P. Bogle, Franklin, N. C. Serious wreck prevented me filling North Carolina dates. Will endeavor to give later date. Writing.

Robert L. Taylor, From The Franklin Press, May 22, 1907.

Maxwell School News

The boys of Maxwell School are getting enthusiastic over their agricultural projects under the supervision of the county agent. Those under consideration are pig raising, chicken raising, making and caring for a hot-bed and laying off plats to be used for the raising of corn, potatoes, and vegetables. The hot-bed is to be used to grow early vegetables, also to start tomato, pepper and sweet potato plants to be transplanted as soon as outside weather conditions are permissible.

Some time ago two calves were bought for the purpose of providing protein in the daily diet. These proved a great attraction for the young Buffalo Bills and William S. Hart, who hitched them to a surrey and started for a ride. On going down the hill one of the front wheels hit a rock and jerked the tongue of the surrey to the side, almost breaking the necks of the calves. Having lived through all this, being so near death, they were pardoned of their death sentence and are now "the boys' pets."

Maxwell came to the conclusion that it could never become a great school until the students had a part in the making of the rules. Therefore, a student council of five has been elected to represent all the students. The superintendent, the matron, and the student council are working together for the good of every one that we may have a bigger and better Maxwell.

A few mornings ago three boys failed to come to breakfast. After breakfast was finished the superintendent and matron carried three doses of castor oil mixed with butter-milk to the boys who gave the excuse of being sick. It was found that the boys had a very bad case of the "putons," in which case castor oil is a very prompt and efficient cure.

Mr. Paul Branch, of Fairmont, W. Va., is visiting his brothers, Thomas and Douglas Branch.

Our famous Andy Gump, who has been ill practically all winter, is now able to do the tailor work for Maxwell. He has made a book-bag for every boy on Maxwell and also twelve aprons for the dining room boys. He still has several weeks of sewing ahead of him.

Can Fire Leave You "Flat?"

ONLY a gamble of some sort can reduce a man from prosperity to poverty overnight.

Owning property without adequate fire insurance is a gamble—of the most one-sided kind.

All one can possibly "win" by non-insurance is in the saving of a little premium-money. Oftentimes the uninsured man is actually risking several hundred dollars' worth of property for every dollar he thus retains.

Let us help you determine the right coverage for your holdings, and provide you with sound, economical insurance.
